Hoodlums Rob Giant Market Tuesday Night

Coupons Good at Other Grocery Stores Also Taken; Loss Is Uninsured.

The Giant Market, 2596 W. Broad St., sustained a loss of approximately $30 in cash and an undetermined amount of coupon books when a safe in the establishment was broken Tuesday night.

The coupon books, good at any grocery store, were recorded in separate files, which were also taken.

The burglary was probably perpetrated by at least three young hoodlums, according to detectives. The culprits probably entered the store and stayed in hiding until after closing time, inasmuch as the lock on the back door was broken from the inside.

A large safe was not opened, although an effort had been made to do so. The small safe was located in the grocery department.

Frieda Blau, Proud To Be a Farm Girl, Is West High Queen

The "back to the farm movement" continued this week at West High—with rather marked results—when senior students at the school selected a Galloway girl to reign over homecoming next week.

Five foot two, eyes almost blue, hair almost red, enough said. Briefly, that's the description of West High's 1935 Homecoming Queen, Miss Frieda Blau, elected Wednesday morning by her classmates at the school.

She lives with her mother, Mrs. B. R. Blau, on a farm north of Alton, and is proud to be a farm girl. Her father died in 1926. Petite and pretty, 17 years old, auburn hair, in pert bangs over her forehead, she has all the necessary qualifications of a queen, including a rare affability not often found in royalty — homecoming or otherwise. Incidentally, she prefers that her name be pronounced "Blue."

Among her studies, she derives her greatest pleasure from German — a language still spoken in her home, but she's planning to become a secretary or a beauty culture specialist. Next to German, she likes typing and shorthand.

She is a member of Girl Reserves, the German Club and the Photo Play Club at West and graduated from Starling Jr. High. She will receive

FINISH THE JOB

Editorial

With the various sewer jobs throughout the community completed or nearly so as far as the actual sewer work is concerned, it is high time that those in charge of the various projects complete the job by repairing damaged streets where the lines have crossed.

There are many of the projects, finished these several weeks, where earth used to fill the ditches has settled from three to six inches below the surface of the pavement. This creates a dangerous situation on Hilltop streets in a number of places, even while motorists proceed at moderate rates.

Hilltop folks who have suffered from the effects of poor sewage conditions are happy to be relieved, but a completely "finished job" would make them happier.

The Nature Trail

INDIAN SUMMER IN HOCKING HILLS

There is something in October that sets the gypsy blood astir,
We must rise and follow her
When from every hill of flame,
She calls and calls each vagabond by name.

So much more reflective of the season is this verse of Bliss Carmen than the solemn "Melancholy days are come, the saddest of the year" by Bryant, for nothing is so pulse-quickening, to the writer at least, as southern Ohio hills clothed, as they are now, in Indian summer raiment.

Last Sunday, a day tart as apple cider, found the writer with a group of botanists from the Ohio State university, in Hocking and Vinton counties, in the general vicinity of Ash Cave. The party included Dr. W. G. Stover, Miss Dorothy Davidson, Arthur Herrick, G. F. Juan, Gerald Durbin, the professor's 11-year-old daughter Margaret, and the writer.

Unflecked by a single fleecy cloud, an arch of blue sky spanned the massive Sandstone hills, from horizon to horizon, and over the hills lay forests of red and yellow and orange and russet and bronze and green, and every intermediate shade. I have never seen the hills so brilliantly colored.

Rolling over the road that leads out of Circleville toward the village of Laurelville, vista after vista of surpassing splendor, rises up before us, each appearing more spectacular than its predecessor. The motionless morning slumbers over hills now shining in shimmering shades of red and yellow.

But the color is not only confined to the landscape. Back over the hill adjacent to Ash Cave, where the visitors seldom make their way, we find a host of smaller plants, equally as brilliant as the beeches and maples and the oaks. There are the red fruits of the Partridge Berry and the clustered crimson fruit of the Jack-in-the-pulpit, and two score or more of mushrooms, most colorful of which were the Russulas, some of which are rosey red, the Brick-top mushroom, a burnished orange in color; a tiny disk-like fungus, bright crimson, with black hairs around the outer rim; and Cordiceps, a greenish-yellow fungus, parasitic on a fungus.

But there were still other colorful plants on the slopes, more familiar to the ordinary rambler. In the more open spots, asters of white and blue and lavender hues, and species o yellow golden rod were evident. Thrice as we climbed the steep slope, we en countered the box turtle, his shel spotted with yellow. Here and there where the Blackhand conglomerat protruded from out of the hill, refresh ing greens of ferns and mosses were in evidence.

On the upper slope, where pines were to be found in greater number, we found a colony of Pine-sap, one of the interesting seed-bearing non-green plants to be found in Ohio. A very close relative of the Ghost flower, o Indian Pipe, it is much prettier, being a luxuriant wine-red in color and copiously pubescent or hairy.

But back down now, into the gorge that is Ash Cave. Here, I think, was presented the most beautiful picture of all. Here, behind the veil of dripping water that falls over the cliff above looking out and up toward the rim of the gorge, we behold a sight too colorful for words.

A hundred feet of sheer sandstone, rising, massive, mighty, mutable in the fast fading light of late afternoon —marked with scores of lichens, white, and greenish, gray and black. A brilliant-hued rim above, where lean the oaks and maples and hemlocks, yet reflecting the last long rays of the sun. A sour gum leaf, blood red, comes floating into the gorge. "My mind gives up a hundred things, like dates of wars and births of kings," yet that sour gum leaf, floating earthward, through slanting pencils of sunlight. Just beyond this veil of crystal water, shall linger with me.

There were other things we saw and did, too numerous to mention, but time and space forbid their mention. You can be sure we noted great numbers of lichens to be collected at a later date. With Miss Stover "holding the sack," so to speak, we did get some valuable specimens, at the time, however.

Just another note. I was collecting some algae from the moist cliffs, and Dr. Stover reported hearing the following conversation:

She: What's that man doing over there?

Know-it-all-husband: Oh, he's a GEOLOGIST, collecting specimens.

She: A wha-a-at?

He: A Geologist, collecting specimens. Don't you know what a geologist is?

I simply must sit down and write a piece I have in mind titled "It's Fun, Sometimes, to Be Crazy."

Text of School Principals' Statement Favoring Hauntz

The following is the full text of the statement released this week by Hilltop school principals favoring the re-election of Ray G. Hauntz to the Columbus School Board.

Four members of the Columbus Board of Education are to be chosen at the coming general election, Tuesday, Nov. 5. There are 14 candidates for these four positions.

It is very important to the educational interests of any city that a member of the Board of Education be a public spirited person. He should be genuinely and sincerely concerned about the welfare of all the children in all the schools of that city. He should be broad-visioned and open-minded enough to consider and to decide every matter having to do with the conduct of the schools from the standpoint, only, of what is best for the boys and girls of the whole city. He should have had sufficient experience with the administration of large public and private affairs to help intelligently, to manage a large business effectively. Finally, in all his official acts, he should have the courage to render his public service with no thought of satisfying a personal ambition for political or private favor.

As his neighbors and as officially constituted leaders of the educational forces in his home community, we have had an excellent opportunity to appreciate the work of Ray G. Hauntz as a member and the present president of the Columbus Board of Education during his first term of service in that office. He is now a candidate to succeed himself. In our estimation, he has shown himself worthy of re-election. He has, to remarkable degree, the characteristics, demonstrated by actual experience, which a good member of this most important governing board should have. He is the only candidate for the office who lives, and does his business west of the Scioto River. He is a loyal friend, however, not only of the West Side schools but also of all the schools of Columbus. We commend him to the electorate of this community and of the entire city as eminently qualified to represent them in the administration of the Columbus Public schools.

H. H. Reighley,

The PEOPLES COLUMN

To the Editor:

We desire to go on record, by announcing to the people of this state who made possible the Initiative Petition Act (Old Age Pension Law) by their votes of approval Nov. 7, 1933, why, and the purposes in organizing this society.

We feel it to be a necessary step in protecting the interests of the NEEDY AGED: to secure the benefits due those eligible for pension as PROVIDED them in this law, and it is with the hope and expectation that you as a citizen will approve our action and with it your support to the end, that we shall not only participate in the "New DEAL" but, IN A SQUARE DEAL.

Articles of Organization:

(1) All old age pensioners of Franklin county and those eligible for pension can become a member.

(2) Only such as are receiving a pension shall be eligible to hold office in this society.

(3) No officer or member of any committee of this society shall receive any salary, but devote his or her time—FREE.

(4) This society now is and shall remain, nonpolitical, nonreligious, nonprofiteering and irrespective of race or creed.

(5) All members receiving pension or eligible for pension, shall be entitled to vote on all matters coming before the society, and a majority of those present voting shall carry.

(6) The dues for one year including membership shall be 25 cents for each person (when membership permits dues shall be reduced).

(7) All officers now being temporary officers, shall hold their office until increased membership justifies the selection from a large membership. When permanent officers shall be nominated and elected and at such time as the society shall decide.

(8) That the members shall be present at all meetings when able to do so, will actively support and cooperate with its officers in carrying out the business of the society; will refrain from representing this society individually or obligate it in any manner, unless duly authorized.

(9) That the aims and purpose of this society are, the protection of its members from unfair practices; to secure the benefits due them when eligible; and that the NEEDY AGED may participate in not only the "NEW DEAL," but in a "SQUARE DEAL."

(10) In offering this quotation by the OLD AGE PENSION CONFER on old age pension law, we can but ENCE in their campaign to give Ohio hope for its realization. (Quote) "OLD AGE HAS RIGHTS OF ITS OWN.—TO INDEPENDENCE AND DECENT COMFORT, AND TO A HOME."

Do you say those needy aged persons shouldn't have less?

Geo. H. Clark, Temporary President.

THE HUNTED WATCHES THE HUNTER

IT WAS so quiet and peaceful and altogether lovely there in the Green Forest where Lightfoot the Deer lay resting behind a pile of brush near the top of a little hill that it didn't seem possible such a thing as sudden death could be anywhere near. It didn't seem possible that there could be any need for watchfulness. But Lightfoot long ago learned that often danger is nearest when it seems least to be expected. So, though he would have liked very much to take a nap, Lightfoot was too wise to do anything so foolish. He kept his beautiful great, soft eyes fixed in the direction from which the hunter with the terrible gun would come if he were still following Lightfoot's trail. He kept his great ears gently moving to catch every little sound.

It Was the Hunter and Across One Arm He Carried the Terrible Gun.

Lightfoot had about decided that the hunter had given up hunting for that day, but he didn't let this keep him from being any the less watchful. It was better to be overwatchful than the least bit careless. By and by Lightfoot's keen ears caught the sound of the snapping of a little stick in the distance. It was so faint a sound that you or I would have missed it altogether. But Lightfoot heard it and instantly he was doubly alert, watching in the direction from which that faint sound had come. After what seemed a long time he saw something moving and a moment later a man came into view. It was the hunter and across one arm he carried the terrible gun.

Lightfoot knew now that this hunter had patience and perseverance and had not yet given up hope of getting near enough to shoot him. The hunter moved forward slowly, setting each foot down with the greatest care so as not to snap a stick or rustle the leaves. He was watching sharply ahead ready to shoot should he catch a glimpse of Lightfoot within range. Right along through the hollow at the foot of the little hill below Lightfoot the hunter passed. He was no longer studying the ground for Lightfoot had left no tracks. He was simply hunting in the direction from which the Merry Little Breezes were blowing because he knew that Lightfoot had gone in that direction and he also knew that if Lightfoot were still ahead of him his scent could not be carried to Lightfoot. He was doing what is called, "hunting up wind."

Lightfoot kept perfectly still and watched the hunter disappear among the trees. Then he silently got to his feet, shook himself lightly, and noiselessly stole away over the hilltop towards another part of the Green Forest. He felt sure that hunter would not find him again that day.

EVERYDAY DISHES

A GOOD ox tail soup is a favorite dish with many. The following stew is worth adding to the card index:

Ox Tail Stew.

Wash the short lengths of ox tail and brown in its own fat. Cook two chopped onions in two tablespoonfuls of butter, add to the meat with two and one-half quarts of water. Simmer until the meat is tender. A half hour before serving add four diced carrots, two diced turnips and one large potato, two teaspoonfuls of worcestershire sauce, two teaspoonfuls of sugar, salt and pepper to taste. When the vegetables are soft thicken the stew with flour and water mixed to a paste. Cook until well thickened.

Pilaf.

Fry one sliced onion in butter, using two tablespoonfuls, when soft and yellow add two cupfuls of boiling water one cupful of uncooked rice, two cupfuls of canned tomatoes, one cupful of round steak ground, two teaspoonfuls of sugar, salt, pepper and grated cheese to suit the taste. Cook in a covered dish until the rice is soft. Cover with the grated cheese and brown in a hot oven.

Banana Junket.

Dissolve a junket tablet in a tablespoonful of water, add to a pint of warmed milk. Flavor to suit the taste. Slice bananas into sherbet cups and pour the junket over them. Let stand in a warm place until firm. Mash one banana and add a tablespoonful of lemon juice and beat the white of an egg until stiff, add one-half cupful of sugar and the banana, beat until thick. Add as a topping to the dessert.

Lemon Cheese Treat.

Prepare a sponge by using one tablespoonful of gelatin dissolved in two tablespoonfuls of cold water, add one and one-half cupfuls of boiling water one cupful of sugar, a few grains of salt and one-fourth cupful of lemon juice. When the jelly begins to thicken beat with a rotary egg beater until light and frothy, then fold in one cupful of cottage cheese. Put into molds and serve as a dessert or salad.

The French Flag

Optical illusions frequently result from certain juxtapositions of color. This is illustrated in the flag of France, which has its three stripes made in the proportion of thirty for blue, thirty-three for white and thirty-seven for red so that they appear to be of equal width.—Collier's Weekly.

How Many Colors Rainbow Has

"How many colors has a rainbow, and what are they?" asks D. J. S.

Rainbows contain all the colors of the spectrum—red, orange, yellow, green, indigo blue, and violet are the visible colors, but there are also infra-red and ultra-violet portions which are not visible to the naked eye. You can study this phenomenon if you can procure a prism—one of the cut-glass pendants from an old-fashioned chandelier will do. Hold this so that a ray of light strikes it, and you will see all the visible colors of the spectrum—and of the rainbow.

Lightship Placed Where Lighthouse Does Not Fit

Lightships are located at strategic places along the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf ports. Their greatest advantage over a lighthouse is their ability to occupy stations where lighthouses could be built only with tremendous difficulty and at great cost. Also they may be readily shifted to new stations when a shoal "drifts" or important trade routes are changed. Their greatest disadvantage is their high cost.

From fourteen to sixteen men (the usual crew of a lightship) stand regular periods of duty, consisting of two months on and one month off. Many of the men prefer not to take their leave in this fashion and stand much longer periods of duty, saving up their periods of relief and taking off several months at a time. Their goings and comings are made possible by the two seacoast tenders attached to the district headquarters. These ships also carry fuel and provisions to the lightships in the area and check up on the aids to navigation along the way.

Life aboard the lightships is no sinecure. There is plenty of work to be done, for the lightship is becoming a more and more complicated mechanism. While on duty the men are divided into watches, the period of which is contingent upon the number of men available for duty in the crew.

Cowboys to Meet Middletown Tonite

To Return to Home Lot Next Week to Resume City Campaign; Tied By South.

West High's punchless Cowboys, having rung up their second consecutive tie game in as many city league battles, will leave the home ranch tonight, meeting Middletown in a nocturnal fracas.

The Hilltoppers will take a mighty trouncing under the incandescents, a trouncing which is sorely needed after giving in to South last week on the home grounds.

West should have won over the Bulldogs, but a scrappy Battyn-coached aggregation matched the Cowboys thrust for thrust and tackle for tackle. Both teams scored seven first downs and both teams were thwarted within the 10-yard line on one occasion.

South drove deep into cowpuncher territory in the second quarter and lost the ball when a fourth down pass flew into the end zone.

Gibson recovered a fumble for West on the South 23-yard line and after marching to the one-yard stripe, the Wisemen lost the ball on downs. The game otherwise, produced no thrills, and although fairly well played, it was just another ball game.

Wylie's brilliant play at end and Underwood at guard stood out above all other, although a pair of youngsters named Richey and Mead made folks sit up and take note with some slashing off tackle gallops. Larkins' kicking was again quite adequate, but failure to use it as an offensive weapon cost many yards.

An almost completely rejuvenated line-up will face the Middletown dreadnaught, Coach Harold E. Wise indicated this week, a line-up which may start the home stretch games against Central, Aquinas and East, if it clicks tonight.

Graves and Kimbrall, erstwhile reserves, along with this dynamite Richey boy, Ed Mead, Ed Wolfe and Hatton, will be in there at the opening whistle, in all probability.

Maxwell will get his opportunity at the safety position and several other minor changes will be noted, it was intimated by the West High mentor.

Grid Star

Named President of West High February Class At Elections.

Bob Paschal, gridiron performer on this fall's West High football team, was named president of the February graduating class at elections held this week. Bob Blackmore was elected secretary and Martha Jane Cooley named secretary. The treasurer of the class is Betty Scanlon.

Other candidates included: Bob Rayha, for president; Bill Burr, vice president; Helen Lynn and Lola Smith, secretary; and Ruth Berndt and Arlene Stickel for treasurer.

Election plans for the regular graduating class of June, 1936, have not been announced.

NOTES

Ralph S. Harper is the only bachelor at the military station in Des Moines. . . . His sister, Wanda, is located at the U. S. Marine Hospital in San Francisco. . . . No word from Frank Howard in Indianapolis. . . . Herb Currier was perplexed about going back to school a bit back. He's in Salt Lake City, in case you forget. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Bud Tracy's daughter will be four mos. old Nov. 15. . . . Nothing so utterly mean and downright annoying as a housefly in late October. . . . Unless it's a phone call from someone who wants to keep their identity a secret. . . . Jim Shields is working in Barberton, O., and says that "Jumpin' Joe" Williams can come back and be mayor of the place anytime. . . . Annabelle James, aged 7, sustained a broken leg when she ran into the side of an auto Wednesday evening. . . . Harry Tway cracked several ribs in a crash the same evening on W. Broad. . . . Max McCarty is anxious to acquire a little seniority somewhere. . . . Bob Trott, not seen in a long, long spell, has wed. . . . Thanx, Mrs. Scha, for a fine letter. . . . And Nit Wits, get that copy in quicker. . . . Street Scene: Harley Sapp, about to kill a chicken at the Broad-Warren Market, let it get away, and Broad St. traffic was deluged with feathers as he chased the fowl about in an effort to capture it.

We suppose that the reason Governor Davey doesn't occupy the regulation pew at the Ohio State football games is that even he can anticipate the volume and character of cheers that would go his way—cheers that would convince even the State Highway Dept. that Martin might not be the next governor.

It may be possible that Herbert Hoover, tired of waiting for wheels to grow in the streets of our towns and the yards of our hospitals and schools, has to let off steam some manner, and bollyachin' about the constitution is the best way he can do it.

Even in that same wild, desperate tempo, he'll fool a lot of folks, but his botanical information of the distribution of bur-dock, rag-weed and spanish nettle is right down the alley of us common people.

A Metzmaier rose, for Dr. Durflinger's lapel. His successful venture in taking Hilltop Hillbillies (I beg your pardon) to the Scioto Country Club for a party, and having everybody happy, is worthy of mention. . . . Whatever became of Bob Carmichael? . . . Harold Moss has received a letter from Evan Morgan in Rochester, N. Y., and all is reported well. . . . What Hilltop lady called up all the Smiths on Sullivant Ave., just to get a tip from that lucky number player mentioned here last week? . . . Our tips for next week includes three of the following numbers 2749. . . . Dib Desbler is back at OSU. . . . Nothing I have heard over the radio has equalled the lurid half truth, deliberate juggling of facts, and peculiarly favorable calculations of Gov. Davey's speech of Monday night on the "truth" about Ohio State university. Professors speak for pay while Mr. Davey mentions he doesn't get a cent. Alas, but there are obvious reasons for this and as the Greenfield Times says, "sometimes—the best things in life are not free."

L. Michaelis, former West football star, talked to another man's wife tother day. Tinkering with his short wave set, he picked up a gent in Hillsboro, Ill. The man gave him a message to give to his wife who was visiting here. Mike called her, and then tapped out a reply to the Illinoian. Which is service.

Hauntz Appreciates Principals' Interest

Ray G. Hauntz, present president of the school board, and backed by local school leaders for re-election, said this week: "I appreciate the interest of local school principals, evidenced by their support tendered me for the coming election. I shall try and live up to their expectations if re-elected as a member of the school board."

Will Not Erect Flasher Signals At Harper Road

Funds Not Available For Work; Public Utilities Commission Is Last Hope.

Last hope for the erection of flasher signals at the Harper road intersection of the Pennsylvania R. R. lies with the Public Utilities Commission, it was learned this week when J. J. Hier of the State Highway Department said that no application for the erection of such signals had been placed in his hands.

Even had application been made, Hier explained, nothing could be done because Harper road is not a state highway. Funds appropriated by the federal government for crossing work will go largely toward the elimination of grade crossings, with the remaining funds used for erection of signals.

According to C. J. Kohn, chairman of the safety committee of the Hilltop Business Men's association, the matter will be taken up with the commission at once. The commission was previously approached and it contacted the Pensylvania offices in Cincinnati, where word was received that the cost would be too great and unless federal aid was used, the signals could not be erected.

In case the utilities commission does not order the placing of flashers at the intersection, City Attorney Davies has said that the city can force the Pennsylvania trains, in and out-bound, to reduce their speed, it was reported by Kohn.

Local Fireman Dies After 3-Story Fall

Fred Gemeinhardt of No. 17 Fatally Hurt Tuesday Morning; Succumbs at White Cross.

Apparently suffering a heart attack while repairing a third story window at his home Tuesday morning, Fred Gemeinhardt, 53, fireman at Station No. 17 at Wheatland avenue and West Broad, fell to the ground, sustaining internal injuries and fractures of both arms and his right hip.

He succumbed at White Cross hospital Tuesday evening. He lived at 2037 W. Broad St. and is survived by his widow and one son, James.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon from the residence at 1:30 and from Glenwood M. E. church at 2 o'clock. Interment will be at Green Lawn.

Keep the Hilltop the City's Safest Community

It has been a long, long time since there has been a traffic fatality on the Hilltop and the Columbus Automobile Club rates this community as the safest in the city. Traffic policemen here this week were issuing warnings to careless motorists prior to "clamping down" in an effort to keep the Hilltop the city's safest community.

Motorcycle Officer Fred R. Williams, 590 S. Hague Ave., whose regular beat is on the Hilltop, points out a number of things which motorists are doing which may lead to a serious accident, however.

"We don't want to be hard-boiled," he told the Record this week, "but we must get the co-operation of motorists on such things as stopping with the street cars, turning on Broad street at intersections, driving past schools too fast, stopping at main thorofares and double parking.

"We'll have to 'clamp down' if Hilltoppers will not take this warning."

Watch At Schools

Driving past local schools is especially reckless, according to Williams, who refers to section 1302-d of the Columbus traffic code. It states:

"Upon approaching or passing a school on school days, between the hours of 8 in the morning and 4 in the afternoon, no person shall drive a vehicle at more than eight miles per hour while children are going to and from school."

Double parking, especially in the sectors at Hague and Broad and at Wayne and Broad, is another factor which may lead to bad accidents. This, according to Williams, is one of the most deliberate violations of the traffic code.

Keep to Right On Broad

Another practice, which will bring down the full fury of the police if continued, is that of east bound motorists passing street cars on the left between Oakley and Hague during the time the street is being repaired. This must stop at once, is the warning of police.

The following are the worst offenses committed by Hilltop drivers, along with the minimum fines which are liable to be assessed: Passing street car on left, $10; Driving past a school too fast, $5; double parking, $1; driving with more than three persons in the front seat, $3; failing to stop at a main thorofare, $3; and failing to abide by the regulations concerning the movement of traffic adjacent to a stopped street car, $5.

Hilltop Leads

So far as statistics are available, the Hilltop is the safest community in Columbus, Let's Keep It That Way.

Herman Ohde, 535 Southwood Ave., is the other officer on the Hilltop beat, although when occasion demands, others are sent out.

800 Hear Fletcher At Democrat Rally

Marion Congressman Flays Wall Street; Hilltop Candidates Speak Friday.

A capacity crowd of more than 800 Hilltop Democrats rallied at West Broad Street school last Friday evening to hear Brooks Fletcher, Marion, O., congressman. Mr. Fletcher, a backer of Roosevelt, lost no time, however, in flaying both Democratic and Republican Wall Streeters.

"Hoover passed out millions to the 'big boys' under the theory that it would trickle down to the 'little boys'; Roosevelt is passing it out to the little boys and letting it work back up," he said.

Ray G. Hauntz, president of the school board was introduced and Wyatt Millikin, Sam Willis and Henry Fagan, local candidates, spoke briefly.

A parade preceded the rally. All democratic candidates with the exception of Mayor Workey were present.

Jew To Speak

Joseph H. Cohn, son of a rabbi, will speak tonight at Hillcrest Baptist church at 7:30 p. m. His subject will be "What I Saw In Palestine" and will give his own observations of the Jewish Christian situation in this country as well as in Palestine.

The meeting is sponsored by the Hilltop Ministerial association and is open to all.

Enrollments are now being made by many churches in Columbus for the Annual Prince of Peace contests.

H. C. Hutchison, president of the Ministerial association, will preside. Several of the Hilltop churches will join in this as a union service while others will send a number of representatives.

Hallowe'en Party Called Off Monday

Unfinished Street Prohibits Holding of Business Men's Celebration Next Week.

Because the completion of West Broad street paving has been unavoidably delayed, the huge Hallowe'en party planned by the Hilltop Business Men's association for next Thursday evening, Oct. 31, has been postponed, it was announced Monday by H. G. Deems, general chairman.

Due to the fact that the holding of the party would require the disrupting of traffic over many blocks, and the fact that a great deal of equipment used in the street paving project will undergo possibility of being damaged, it was decided to postpone the party indefinitely.

If the paving work is completed while good weather prevails, a gala celebration will be held yet this fall, it was announced.

Ned Bells Named

Ned Bells was named president of the West Jr. High Boys' Athletic association, Monday of this week. Other officers include: Tom Scoles, vice president, and Joe Galloway, secretary.

The organization is sponsoring a basketball tournament between the various registration rooms. George Williams is coach and adviser to the group.

A reception will be held next Monday evening at 8 p. m. in the auditorium of John Burroughs school for Mr. H. L. McMillan who assumed his new position as vice principal at East High school last Wednesday.

The P.-T. A. members and teaching staff are arranging a program befitting the occasion and desire the attendance of all members.

Moses Williams, Henry Koontz Announce Completed Plans for Meeting at W. Broad School.

Moses M. Williams, 11th ward Republican committeeman, and Henry A Koontz, 10th ward committeeman, have completed plans for the final meeting of the present municipal campaign which will be staged Monday evening, Oct. 28, in West Broad Street school auditorium. The affair will get under way at 8 o'clock.

With a special call sent out to all precinct captains and lieutenants, booth workers and personal workers, a huge rally of Republicans is expected. Floyd F. Green, 3046 Crescent Dr., will preside as chairman at the rally meeting, to which all voters are invited.

Former Teacher At West Jr. To Succeed McMillan

Former Principal Promoted To Vice Principal At East; Miss Schleicher At Mound.

The first of several changes in Columbus Public schools effecting local schools in particular, intimated by the Hilltop Record two months ago, came about Monday of this week when E. B. Graham was appointed principal of John Burroughs Elementary school and Miss Mary Schleicher was named vice principal at Mound Elementary. H. L. McMillan, erstwhile principal at John Burroughs, was promoted to the vice principalship at East High.

Former Teacher Here

Mr. Graham, a science instructor at North High, was a former teacher on the Hilltop at Highland and West Jr. High school. Prior to that time he was principal for five years at the Lake Township Centralized school in Wood county. He taught here for seven years and when a science teacher was needed by the late Dr. Washburne at North High, Dr. H. H. Highley consented to his leaving.

He took up his new duties in Sep-

Hilltopper Killed In Traffic Crash

Homer Roberts Fatally Hurt Sunday; Wife In Critical Condition At Mercy Hospital.

Funeral services for Homer Roberts, aged 64, of 415 S. Richardson Ave., killed in an auto crash Sunday at Greenlawn avenue and Front street, were held Tuesday afternoon with burial in Union cemetery.

The crash, which also critically injured his wife and son, ended an anticipated excursion into Hocking county hills. The other car, driven by Foster Moss, of Williamsville, was headed south. Mr. Moss and wife were planning on visiting a son in Portsmouth.

Roberts sustained chest injuries when a piece of wood pierced him and he succumbed shortly after arrival at Mercy hospital. Mrs. Roberts lingered between life and death, also suffering from chest injuries. Her condition was still critical Thursday morning.

Frank Roberts was treated from a lacerated left hand and released.

The elder Roberts was employed by the Ohio Malleable Iron Co.

West High's Cowboys Not Yet Out Of Local Scholastic Gridiron Race

West High's rejuvenated Cowboys, fresh from what should have been a first victory of the year yesterday, (you'll pardon the fact that we were on the press before game time), will launch home stretch rehearsals Monday preparatory for the East and Aquinas games yet to come.

Next Friday afternoon, on the home field, the dangerous Terriers from Aquinas will furnish some powerful opposition to the title-hopeful Cowboys. A victory over Mike Boland's Irishmen will send the Wissmen into the East Tiger lair a fortnight later with a chance at sharing the city grid title.

Nov. 8 will be an open date on the schedule, so following the Terrier fracas, two weeks will be available to polish off some un-used tricks.

A victory over these two remaining opponents, provided a win was registered yesterday, will conclude a successful season for the Hilltoppers, despite the fact that until yesterday, no victories were rung up. It is a forlorn hope to expect the squad to turn in wins, but not too much to expect. The 'punchers will be the underdogs, and close observers at Middletown last week said that the West 11 looked every bit as strong, if not a little more versatile, than the Tigers, who beat the Middletown team earlier in the season.

Last week's score was 21 to 7, but Coach Wise expressed himself as being well pleased with the performance of his proteges. The downstate lads just had too much power for the local contingent.

Business Changes

Three changes in business circles on the Hilltop are reported by Miller & O'Neil, business brokers of 2346 N. High St. These sales include the Shepler Market, 2756 Sullivant Ave., to Charles L. Kent and I. A. Heinsman; the Westgate Cafe, 2804 Sullivant Ave., to Charles O'Connor, and the Broadview Confectionery, 2340 W. Broad St., to H. C. Hale.

He has been a resident of Columbus and Franklin county for 34 years, is now 36 years of age, married, has one son and lives at 571 S. Eureka Ave. Mr. Fagan, who is a graduate of Groveport High school, is a self-educated man, having worked his way through business college as well as law school. He is a graduate of Franklin University college of law, having been admitted to the bar in 1927. He has had 20 years business experience including eight years in the practice of law in Columbus.

Discussion of Possible Addition to West High Stadium Is Revived

Possibility of a $15,000 addition to the present West High stadium was revived again this week when the board of education and school officials approved of a federal offer to provide all but $1200 of the cost.

Stadia at Central and South are included in the $45,000 project, and each school has pledged itself to raise $500, according to Ray G. Hauntz, president of the board. Whether the projects will be approved, remains to be seen, however.

Otto H. Magly, principal at West, qualified his pledge to produce the necessary money by stating that the plans for the addition must be in keeping with the design of the present structure. Mr. Magly will approve the construction of additions at both ends of the local bleachers, providing locker rooms for the home and visiting teams.

The construction of ordinary bleachers, however, will not meet the approval of local school officials. Plans for the project have not been completed, and what type of bleachers are planned is not known at present.

tember, 1932. While at West, he was in charge of attendance, and his work in that capacity and as a teacher, was excellent, according to Dr. Reighley.

He is a graduate of the Ohio State university, and his father, John Graham, started the extension school work in the college of agriculture. He is now in charge of that work for boys and girls in the department of agriculture at Washington.

McMillan's Work Praised

Mr. McMillan's work at John Burroughs, the largest elementary school in the city, received high praise this week from officials in the public school system. Ray G. Haunts, president of the school board, said that in view of his splendid work, both as principal and leader in Parent-Teacher work, his promotion was merited. Graham, acording to Haunts, was chosen from a list of candidates, and his excellent work at West Jr. and North won for him the position.

Mr. McMillan is a graduate of the Ohio State university and while doing graduate work there, was supervisor of practice teaching. He has had secondary school experience, having taught at Roosevelt Jr. High for a number of years.

Mr. Graham assumed his new duties Tuesday morning while Mr. McMillan took up his East High work on Wednesday.

SOUP INTRODUCES THE MEAL

OR SERVES AS ITS MOST IMPORTANT DISH

A clear soup, or one that is light and savory is an ideal prelude to a substantial meal. Other soups, rich in meat and vegetables can serve adequately as the main dish when supplemented by a salad, or substantial dessert. Here are satisfactory examples of each type.

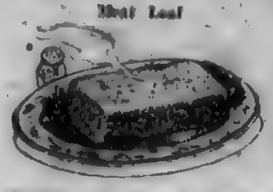
Louisiana Soup

Soak one pound of dried lima beans one hour or more. Put part of a ham bone, the beans, three onions, 12 peppercorns, and one half a bay leaf with six to eight cups of water in soup kettle and cook slowly until the beans are tender—two or more hours. Reserve one and one half cups of white beans. Force the remaining beans and stock through a puree sieve. Return the whole beans to the stock, add one cup minced carrot, one-half cup minced green pepper and one small can tomatoes. Cook until tender. If there are bits of ham adhering to the bone, mince them and add to the soup. This soup with toasted bread is sufficient for dinner with a salad and dessert.

Borscht

2½ cups shredded raw vegetables (carrots, celery and beets)
2 cups shredded cabbage
2 or 3 onions
3 cups water
3 cups canned consomme or rich beef stock
1-3 cup tomato puree
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Peel carrots and beets and cut in very narrow strips; shred outer stalks of celery; mince onions and cook in a little fat about five minutes; shred cabbage. Combine vegetables; add peppercorns, and one half a bay leaf, water and consomme and cover and cook slowly until the vegetables are tender. Do not strain. Add tomato puree, salt and pepper, sugar and lemon juice. Serve very hot with a tablespoon of sour cream on each serving.



Consomme

2½ pounds shin of beef
1 fowl
2 large carrots
2 white onions
2 leeks parsley
thyme
1 clove garlic
1 bay leaf
2 cloves
Salt and pepper
6 quarts cold water

Wash the chicken carefully, put it in a large soup pot, add the beef and cover well with the cold water. Let stand for an hour, then put on the fire and bring slowly to a boil. Remove the scum, add half a glass of cold water and bring to a boil again. Repeat this process twice. Simmer very slowly for six hours, then add the rest of the ingredients and simmer for seven hours. Strain through a fine sieve and through wet cheese cloth. When cold carefully remove grease. Reheat before serving.

TIMELY RECIPES

Meat Loaf

Combine two pounds of ground round steak with one pound ground lean pork. Add one onion, grated, one cup crushed cracker crumbs. Season and add one slightly beaten egg. Form in loaf. Pour over contents of No. 2 can tomato juice. Bake in moderate oven.

Pound Cake

Take one pound each of flour, sugar and eggs, three-fourth pound butter, one nutmeg, one teaspoon mace. Cream half the flour with the butter and add spice. Beat yolks of eggs and add sugar, then add the beaten whites and remaining flour. When this is done, mix well, bearing half an hour.

Why Cheshire Cheese Is Famous

It was a popular coffee house in the days of Joshua Reynolds, Samuel Johnson, Oliver Goldsmith and the great Londoners of that period. It was one of Johnson's favorite gathering places. In fact his memory is closely associated with this coffee house. One of Johnson's pipes is still exhibited to tourists who find their way down the narrow alley-like approach to the Cheshire Cheese.

Silver half-dimes were first coined in 1794. Five-cent pieces were first coined in 1866.

HOMECOMING A FLOP

If we omit the fact that a high school homecoming is, regardless of the thickness of the slices, a lot of bologna, we still can argue that last Thursday's West High affair was a genuine failure.

In the first place, it was held on the wrong day. The game, originally scheduled for Friday, had to be re-scheduled in order not to conflict with a teachers' meeting at Dayton. Assuming that local teachers attended that session en masse, we'll agree that Friday was not a good day for the celebration. But why change the date to a Thursday instead of Saturday? Or perhaps the question shouldn't be asked.

Reasons for Saturday playing are numberless, and I can think of but one group of individuals which would oppose the date. It should be stated, however, that Otto Magly did attempt to call Central authorities on Tuesday, but arrangements had been completed by that time.

A homecoming queen was named and two attendants were on hand. A dance was planned for the evening after the game. Just what the function of the queen was at the game, we were unable to ascertain. Her place of honor was behind the goal posts, in a vehicle (with all respect to the owner) that has been used for three years at such affairs. Representatives of an automobile manufacturer offered the use of a new car for the occasion.

And lastly, where did the "homecoming" come in? All in all, high school football at West and in Columbus, has all the ear-marks of too much commercialization. I can advance no other reason for "home-comings."

Homecoming games are held, apparently, for the half dollars, not for the homecomers. The prohibitive price of 50 cents is not established by local authorities, however. It does seem ridiculous nevertheless, that such a price should prevail, when for twice the amount at certain games admission can be gained to the Ohio Stadium where one of the finest football teams in the country can be seen in action. On occasion, high school students are admitted there for a nominal sum of 25 cents, and once each year, free of charge.

We do not attempt to place the blame for West High's homecoming flop. We merely object to the things that made it a flop—things that could have been avoided.

Keep The Hilltop The City's Safest Community

The Hilltop leads all sections of the city with regard to safety and small number of traffic accidents. Let's keep it that way.

Frequently you pay no heed to the following traffic regulation, section 1260 a: "The driver of any vehicle shall yield the right of way to a pedestrian crossing the roadway within any marked crosswalk or within any unmarked crosswalk at the end of a block, except at intersections where the movement of traffic is being regulated by police officers or traffic control signals."

Daniel Higgins In Lancaster Hospital With Fractured Skull After Mishap at Xmas Rocks.

Daniel Higgins, aged 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Higgins of 34 Midland Ave., is in Lancaster City hospital, suffering from a fractured skull sustainsd last Sunday when he fell from a cliff near Christmas Rocks. His condition was much improved Wednesday of this week, although attending physicians say that he will be confined to the hospital for a month.

Young Higgins, with Richard Wynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wynn, 148 N. Warren Ave., were playing near the Rocks when the former slipped on a mossy boulder and toppled over a ledge, estimated to be 20 feet high. The two boys went to Lancaster with Mr. and Mrs. Wynn who were visiting the Frank Larger family near the Boys' Industrial school.

Cowboys To Meet Aquinas Terriers

Hapless, Hopeless West Eleven Bows Ignominously to Central In Homecoming Grid Fray.

West High's washed-up Cowboys, yet to win a football victory this fall, will play Aquinas this afternoon on the local lot, with Mike Boland's crew the heavy favorites to win.

Your correspondent begs the pardon of both his readers as he records the sad events of last Friday's Homecoming fracas against Central, which the Pirates won, rather handily, 19-0. For, inorder to make this disertation interesting at all, we shall chronicle biddy morsels of factual information regarding the royalty of the occasion.

Probably the outstanding thing of the afternoon was the fact that the Homecoming Queen, Miss Frieda Blau, and her attendants, Miss Ruth Berndt and Miss Virginia Rea, occu-

Burial was made in Forest Lawn cemetery by C. J. Kohn.

New Theatre?

Unverified Report Says Springfield Company Will Construct Showhouse at Wayne-Broad

An unverified report was extant this week on the Hilltop which said that a new theatre would be constructed on the lots adjacent to the Hilltop Bank, sometime in the spring.

It was learned from officials of the Ohio National Bank that the lots, formerly owned by that corporation, had been sold several weeks ago to a Columbus man. His plans were not known by the bank authorities.

The new owner could not be reached by a Record representative.

City Soft Ball Leagues To Continue With "Out-Seam" Ball Says Seddon

Contrary to a report published Sunday regarding the adoption of the recognized "inseam" soft ball by the City Recreation department for use in leagues next year, including the Hilltop Church League, Charles E. Seddon, director, said this week that the regulation outseam pellet, in vogue here for 15 years, would continue as the official ball.

Certain of the national rules will be used, however, but in the main, the game will not differ from that of other years. Local teams, a survey last summer revealed, are about evenly divided regarding the two balls.

To Elect Officers

Seddon also announced this week that the annual election of church league officers would be held sometime prior to Nov. 15. Frank Colburn is the present head of the West Church circuit.

Work on Westgate Park improvements, calling for new baseball diamonds and tennis courts, is under way at the present time, and, according to Superintendent of Parks Emerson Bets, a fine athletic field is in prospect for use at Westgate next spring.

Mothersingers To Sing At Meeting

West Broad Mothersingers chorus under the direction of Mrs. Robert L. Gilliam will present a group of songs as a part of the program for a special Educational meeting to be held at the school tonight.

5 Hilltop Candidates Await Tuesday's Vote

A Smile

A smile will hide a multitude
Of sorrow and of fears.
Although the heart be breaking
In bitterness and tears.
Give a smile to those you meet—
Others facing trials too
Will be gladened, and your kind-
Smilingly come back to you.

Hauntz, Millikin, Fagan, Willis and Koontz In Race

Campaigns Completed By Respective Candidates; Close Contests Expected.

Five Hilltop residents, candidates for four city offices, had practically completed their respective campaigns this week and were awaiting the judgment of voters, to be made next Tuesday, Nov. 5.

Ray G. Hauntz, president of the school board, is seeking re-election and is opposed by a field of 14 candidates. He has the endorsement of Hilltop school leaders and is favored throughout other sections of the city to again be placed on the board.

Samuel Willis, for 16 years committeeman of the Eleventh Ward Democrats, is seeking the office of city auditor. He is the present auditor, filling out the unexpired term of the resigned Walter E. Otto.

Henry P. Fagan, unopposed in the primaries, is running on the Democratic ticket for judge of the municipal court. He is an attorney and this is his initial venture in politics.

Running for city council, on the Republican slate, is Henry Koontz, committeeman of the Tenth ward. He has the endorsement of the Republican central committee. Wyatt L. Millikin, incumbent, is also seeking a councilmanic seat. He is completing his eighth year as councilman at the present time. Six others are also candidates for council.

Mr. Fagan resides at 574 S. Eureka Ave., is married and has one child. He was graduated from Franklin university and was admitted to the bar in 1927. He is a member of Iota Lambda Pi fraternity, the Barrister's Club, the Y. M. C. A., and the Franklin County Young Men's Democratic Club.

He lives at 48 Binns Blvd., is married and has one daughter, Dorothy.

Despite the fact that the Hilltop is a Republican community by a wide margin, Wyatt Millikin and Sam Willis, Democratic candidates for city council and city auditor respectively are accorded excellent support.

Millikin has been in business here for 30 years, has been active in city politics since 1920 and is present chairman of the service committee in city council. He is married and has one son, Arthur. They live at 53 S. Warren Ave.

Willis is completing a two-year term as auditor. Prior to that he was for five years city clerk. For 16 consecutive years he was Democratic committeeman of the eleventh ward. He is married and has one daughter, Dorothy. They live at 145 S. Roys Ave.

Henry Koontz, Republican candidate for council, is a graduate of West High and Ohio State university and for the past 13 years has been engaged as manager of a West Side drug store. He is the present Republican committeeman of the tenth ward. He is married and has two daughters. They reside at 485 Hilltonia Ave.

The Nature Trail

By JOHN WOLPE

Horizons in the hill country are turning black, and landscapes, just a few days ago a kaleidoscopic array of crimson and gold and yellow and orange and green, have faded to the sombre, almost lifeless shades of brown and russet and bronze.

The rustle of forest trees has been silenced and leaves, with every breeze, come rattling and clattering earthward, covering the woodland floor with a luxuriant carpet of brown. Scuttling clouds speak solemnly of raw November days to come.

Long rays of a sun left behind by this whirling planet, shine down with a friendly warmth occasionally, on a grove of beech trees on the slope, still brilliantly yellow with lingering leaves. An even bird sings up the valley and here, on a cliff ledge, is the white flowered orchid, Nodding Lady's Tresses.

These, of course, are reminiscent of spring, but the woodlands, by and large, are speaking another language.

Crisp and Brown and Sere

For back into the forest, where just a short while ago all was luxuriant and verdant and abounding with numberless plants, we find only a carpet of leaves that is crisp and brown and sere.

Here and there, where the wind sweeps through, are uncovered the mottled leaves of the Rattlesnake plantain and the Pipsissawa, orchids that bloom in the spring. Clumps of the silvery pin-cushion moss are evident, and on the rocky ledge alone, is the fresh green generally associated with the deep woods. Here are evergreen ferns, the Christmas and the Virginia Polypody, without number and on the ledges, mosses are to be found, a dozen species or more. And the trailing plants of Partridge Berry, with their crimson fruits, add a touch of warmth.

The shining leaves of hepatica, not yet unfolded when the lavendar and blue and white and pink flowers opened to delight the rambler's eye last spring, lie half buried in the leaves and only the frosty asters rise above the new carpet and lend their touch of color to the scheme.

Goes Crazy Again

We shuffle through the woods, unaccustomed to it all. But soon the old crazy instinct is aroused, and soon we are digging and prowling about, to be well rewarded for our efforts.

Here, on an old log, the trunk of a once magnificent tree, is a colony of the black-top mushroom, its burnished orange cap a pleasant sight in contrast to the browns and blacks all about. Looking closer, on the moist and rotting log, we find the tiny disks of Lachnea scutellata, bright crimson in color, but hardly large enough to be worthy of such a formidable name. Likewise, in the same family (the slime molds), we find Trichia, a lemon yellow form, and Corina, of a watery-purplish color, and one, encrusted with tiny granules of lime, almost white in color.

Beside an old stump, the winter mushroom, or velvet foot, with bright orange caps, grew in abundance. It gets its name from the fact that its stipe, at the base, is heavily pubescent and a rich, velvety brown in color.

Beneath the leaves we found the ground star fungus and on an old log farther up the ravine, we encountered the million-spined "Hedge-hog Mushroom," pure white in color and one of the most beautiful of our saprophytic plants.

Up the trunk of a towering tulip tree, a white-breasted nuthatch spiraled his way, while on a nearby leaning oak, a brown creeper worked his way earthward, head-first in search of food. On a dead tree, a hairy woodpecker tapped and from over the hill, lingering crows called. Overhead, three vultures wheeled and circled in marvelous flight.

Winter, grim, raw winter, is slowly working his way up the "hollers" in the hill country. We look forward to brisk rambles to come, for myriad things of mystery abound, even in winter woods.

industrial engineering. He is married, has six children and belongs to a number of civic organizations.

Joseph W. Ray, 810 Acton Rd., is also a graduate of the Ohio State university and has had six years of teaching experience. He is a past president of Columbus Life Underwriters' association and has been in the insurance business for 12 years. He is married and has two children.

"As the municipal campaign nears its close, campaign headquarters for Mayor Henry W. Worley and other Democratic candidates to be voted on next Tuesday displayed strong confidence that Mayor Worley will be returned to office and that the men associated with him on the ticket will triumph on the basis of their records of experience and service, as well as their qualifications," a statement from Democratic headquarters read.

"With election day just a few days off, voters apparently are convinced that, after all, the real issues of the campaign center on the question of whether the citizens want men of experience to guide our city government through these trying times," Roy L. Wildermuth, chairman of the Democratic Municipal Campaign committee, declared Wednesday.

"Voters realize that the faithful and business-like service rendered in city council by Roger H. Addison, Frank C. Karns, George F. Ketterer and Wyatt L. Millikin, and by Samuel J. Willis in the city auditor's office entitles these men to re-election. At the same time, they have been convinced in large numbers that, by training and professional and business experience, Henry P. Fagan, for judge of the municipal court, and Garrett M. Cotter, for clerk of the municipal court, are well qualified for those positions," Mr. Wildermuth continued.

Running-mates of Mr. Gessaman on a Republican platform that promises "good government, intelligently and impartially administered," are Municipal Judge Joseph M. Clifford, seeking a second term; John E. Davies, candidate for city auditor; Arthur J. Blosser, clerk of municipal court; and Richard W. Gordon, Albert B. Gregg, Howard C. Hartman and Henry A. Koontz, city council.

GOING HUNTING

Going hunting! Going hunting! This phrase thrills thousands of men, young men and even women as the November days approach.

The crisp, frosty mornings suggest it and tho' at the close of the season last year you may have sworn by everything good and bad that you would never go again, that there's no game to hunt, that it don't pay and you were completely disgusted, you are going to get rid of your rabbit hound, sell your gun and quit.

But you'll notice that you kept your hound through the summer, that you still have your trusty shotgun and with the approach of hunting weather the old enthusiasm returns 100 per cent and you quietly step out and get your hunting license at $1.25, buy several boxes of shells at $1.25 per box, you oil up the mechanism of the single barrel, double barrel, pump, automatic or whatever you have, tell your boss you want to lay off the week beginning Nov. 15, even if you lose $5.00 per day in wages.

Here you are all set and ready to go, with dogs barking, guns shining bright, your hopes strung up to the highest pitch, you are on your way. After a twenty-mile drive you arrive at the enchanted grounds.

"Good morning, Mr. Jones, any rabbits down this way?"

"Well naow, I did see quite a few airly in the summer but I guess the dry weather must a killed all the leetle ones for I haint seen none this fall."

At this news your enthusiasm drops a few degrees but still you have hopes so you and your companions get out ready for the invasion of the fields and woods. "Turn Old Lead loose there, will you? All right, let's go." In spite of that secret fear that it may be that there are no rabbits, the hunters go along peering into likely places, the dogs go scampering around in circles with their tails over their backs.

A dog lets out a little yelp as a cold trail assails his sensitive nostrils. "Come on, Lead, put 'em up!" you tell your dog encouragingly. Soon a hound lets out a real rabbit dog wail and starts on, nose to the ground in a definite direction and the other dogs take up the cry and join in the chase.

Their cry has now increased to a crescendo and every one is on the qui-vive. The rabbit is definitely "up." The word is passed to stand still, Old Lead will bring him back, but each hunter seeks a vantage point hoping that luck will favor him and the rabbit will pass within gunshot.

The quarry goes straight up the hill as rabbits generally do with the dogs in full pursuit. He follows along the crest of the ridge, turns down the hill again toward the expectant hunters, and with the characteristic dumbness of his kind comes up nearly between them and hides himself temporarily in some underbrush allowing the hounds to come up close to him.

Suddenly a hound sees him and pandemonium breaks loose. The rabbit comes straight into the crowd, with the dogs in hot pursuit giving tongue in a manner to delight the heart of a rabbit hunter, one shot, two shots, six, ten, fifteen, twenty shots are rained on him as he runs the gauntlet of murderous gunfire and as the last gun is emptied a lucky last shot laid the rabbit low, and an exultant voice shouts lustily "I got him."

The hunters all gather round the fallen and vanquished quarry and find that they have slain a half grown rabbit whose only offense is that he is dumb and his carcass is good to eat. At this point analyze your feelings and tell the truth.

You are filled with remorse and regret that the defenseless little fellow creature is dead. He does not look nearly so formidable and glamorous lying there crumpled up on the ground as he did when leading the hounds in the glorious chase across the fields. But you stifle your qualms of conscience and for the sake of sport you repeat the process again and again bagging the limit allowed by law and this means usually all you can get.

At last your day's hunt is over, and you tie your dogs up and they immediately curl up and go to sleep.

The crowd I used to hunt with always divided up the game so no matter how much each one killed we all had an equal number. In hunting, some rabbits will be shot up worse than others. We had one man to make as many piles as there were hunters, dividing them as nearly equal according to their condition. Then a hunter would turn his back to them and name the hunter to whom each pile belonged.

There is usually some amusing incident happens in a day's hunting. We were hunting in the vicinity of a house occupied by two old people. It was a beautiful fall day and these people had the doors open through the house from rear to front. Rabbits were plentiful and we were having plenty of sport and our three hounds were running a rabbit and were pressing him rather hard. The little bunny saw the open kitchen door which he entered and went on through and out the front door and the hounds followed right on through in hot pursuit, barking loudly as they went. The old people regarded it as a good joke and laughed heartily about it.

If you wish to be welcome to hunt on the land of a farmer always have respect for his rights and interests. If he does not treat you right it will be because of past wrongs he has endured at the hands of unprincipled hunters who have thrown down or cut his fences, left his gates open, shot into his stock, frightened his sheep with dogs, set the woods or fields afire, killed and carried off his poultry or have done some other of the many acts which careless hunters do without regard to decency. If a farmer is kind enough to allow you on his farm, show your appreciation by safeguarding his interests while you are there.

CANDIDATES FOR MAYOR

HENRY W. WORLEY.

MYRON B. GESSAMAN.

CANDIDATES FOR CITY COUNCIL

Persistently charging that the Worley administration has wrecked the waterworks department, mishandled relief monies and mismanaged the city light plant, these eight G. O. P. nominees have pledged themselves throughout the campaign to "correct these evils" when they are in office, according to word from the Republican Campaign Committee.

Gessaman, at present Republican floor leader of the Ohio House of Representatives, has been an attorney for 15 years and has served in the offices of the city and county attorneys. He saw service overseas in the World War at the age of 22. He is a member of Indianola Presbyterian church and resides at 191 E. Weber Rd. with his wife and three children.

Municipal Judge Joseph M. Clifford is 36 years old, a World War veteran and member of the Methodist Episcopal church and many fraternal and political organizations. He is married and has a son.

Employed in the city auditor's office for 12 years, John E. Davies aspired to the position of auditor on the strength of his experience.

Experience likewise is the chief qualification of Arthur J. Blosser in his quest of the office of clerk of municipal court. He has been employed in the criminal division of municipal court since 1908, the last 23 years as probation officer.

Republican nominees for city council have founded their hopes for election on their success in their chosen walks of private life;

Richard W. Gordon is a Columbus attorney;

Albert B. Gregg is operator of the insurance agency bearing his name;

Howard C. Hartman, a militant labor leader for years, has been employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad since 1902;

Henry A. Koontz, a graduate of Ohio State university, is a West Side druggist.

The PEOPLES COLUMN

The Editor
The Hilltop Record
Dear Sir:

The Hilltop Record for this week just reached my porch. It's interesting as usual. When I open it up I always feel proud that our community has such a paper.

While glancing through, the idea popped into my head that your paper might hit a home run for peace and neutrality just now, when President Roosevelt is asking for the voice of America to tell him how it feels on his neutrality stand.

Why not line up the Hilltop business men, the ward committeemen, etc., and get their endorsement of the president's stand? In this instance, surely any political differences can be forgotten. Send some copies on to Washington and feel that you have done your Boy Scout deed for the day.

And, if it can be arranged, how about devoting some column of the Record to notes on the last war by leading authors and business men. For example, excerpts from Bruce Barton's "Let's Advertise This Hell."

Well, anyway, perhaps you can use these suggestions. ALSO, how about carrying a notice that persons can sign for peace and neutrality at the various neighborhood drug stores? (Courtesy Squibb & Co.) A concrete chance for the Hilltoppers to express themselves.

Keep up the good work.

Sincerely,
Marion Sehs,

Traffic Survey In New York City

New York City is at the present time making a survey of its traffic situation which, when finished, will prove of interest to other cities of lesser size and importance. The population of New York City is about 7,500,000. About 790,000 motor vehicles travel every day over 5,251 miles of streets, it is estimated, and in addition there are between 400,000 and 450,000 vehicles belonging to visitors in the streets every day, making the traffic problem one of the most complex in the world. The survey will include a traffic volume count at a series of especially selected intersections, to determine where traffic signals are necessary and where stop signs, one-way streets, and new streets or tunnels are advisable. There will also be a count of commercial vehicles, to learn where and when they should be prohibited, and a study of hauling and delivery routes. The operating of taxicabs will be taken up from all angles as one of the most annoying problems in public transportation. Of course, parking, law observance, pedestrians, accidents, speed, and other related subjects will also be investigated.

How "Nickel Plate" Got Name

An Ohio newspaper editor is credited with coining the phrase. In its issue of April 14, 1881, the Norwalk Chronicle in speaking of the road, its glittering prospects, the brilliant possibilities of trade opened up for the cities through which it operated, together with the gilt-edged character of its financial backing, characterized the institution as the nickel-plated" road, the term being intended as expressive of the bright and substantial attributes of the enterprise. This is believed to be the first use of the term as applied to the road, which from that time on was frequently used in the same connection in various newspapers until, in abbreviated form, as the Nickel Plate, it has become the accepted and popular subriquet of the trunk line.

How 'Arkansas Traveler' Started

The dispute that goes with the distinction in fifty many other of the old-time fiddler's tunes, so old that its origin is lost to history. Col. He received the idea from an old native who fiddled in between snatches of wise-cracking conversation.

The bureau of biological survey says that there are 802 specimens of native birds in North America, north of Mexico. This number includes more than 1,400 sub-species. As far as individual specimens are concerned, it is estimated that there are two birds per acre in the United States and Canada.

Chemical Can Change Structure

One of the strangest things that a chemical can do is to change the natural structure of a growing creature. An extra quantity of magnesium sulphate added to sea-water will make the two normal eyes of young fishes unite into one middle eye.

Race Horse's Temperament

The temperament of a race horse is as important as his speed. The cavorting, prancing racer, with his sheeny coat glistening with perspiration, is not wanted by the veteran trainer. Give him the phlegmatic, go-as-you-please horse which takes everything as it comes. If he has not such a horse he endeavors to make all conditions tend toward making such a one.

plied seats of honor behind the goal posts. Approaching, and on rare occasions, surpassing this ludicrousness, however, was the play of the Cowboys.

The drill exhibition of the Hilltoppers was probably the most consistent work of the year by the West team. But it was so poor. (Miss Blau has never milked a cow, though a rural resident all her life.)

Disorganized as a ladies' aid with the minister absent, the Cowboys played the game in much the same manner as would have the ladies, even with the pastor on hand. Fumbles were frequent and as a result, quarterbacking was the best of the year. West didn't have the ball long enough for the field general to make a mistake. (Miss Blau is a Lutheran and attends each Sunday at the St. Paul church in Rome.)

Big Bill Wiley's play at end was excellent, but Bill was more or less handicapped by opposition of 21 other players, although the Central eleven caused him little worry, defensively at least. (Miss Rea has never missed a home game played by West.)

There was something utterly peculiar about the play of the Hilltoppers throughout the game. It was by far the worst exhibition a Wise-coached team has shown in Columbus, and the worst this reporter has watched since the gaunt days of 1928. (Miss Berndt slept through the last five minutes of the second quarter.)

West never threatened the Central up-rights. Once the boys were facing that direction, but Central had the ball. (Miss Blau polled a total of 314 votes in winning the title of queen.)

As far as Central was concerned, it had a weak and small team, but enough interest in the game to completely squelch the Cowboys. Two aerials scored two touchdowns in the first quarter and a cowpuncher fumble was booted over the goal and covered by the Pirate center to talley the third in the second frame. (Bob Richter was the chauffeur for queen and attendants.)

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

This week Troop 20 of Burgess Avenue U. B. church finished a five-week course of training for patrol leaders. Mrs. Alva Strait, the captain of the troop, has given the instruction and the following girls have taken the training: Jeanette Flora, Wanda Martin, Jeanette Mitchell, Geraldine Layne, Pauline Krauss, Mary Ruth Huffman, Doris Krauss, Dolores Wharton, Elaine Wiseman, Betty Farber and Doris Campbell.

Nine of these girls and the captain, Mrs. Strait and the lieutenant, Mrs. E. L. Krauss, went to Southern Ohio for three days this past week-end. Friday morning they left Columbus, stopping at Ash Cave for lunch and exploring a bit. Then on to the Cabin in the Hills where they stayed until Sunday evening.

Cooking at the cabin was quite an experience as an old fashioned fireplace with a crane and iron cooking utensils were used. Scout tests such as judging, signalling and cooking were passed. Stars and wild flowers, ferns, moss and trees were studied. Saturday night a Hallowe'en party was held. Leaves were used to decorate the cabin. Costumes consisted of bathrobes, towels, pajamas, blankets and ferns were used as feathers and leaves for false faces.

Sunday morning the entire group attended Sunday school in the town nearby.

Troop 20 has chosen first aid and swimming as their fall and winter projects.

The Cathedral of Rheims

The cathedral of Rheims was not entirely destroyed during the World war. Its roof and much of its interior were wrecked, but the front, with the rose window, remained standing, although damaged. The rose window itself was not greatly hurt, and was replaced. It fared better than much of the rest of the cathedral which, though now restored, suffered many losses that were utterly irreparable.

How Sculptor's Putty Is Made

Two parts by weight of kaolin, or powdered soapstone (tone dry), and one part of wheat flour are stirred into three parts of melted white wax, not too hot, and well kneaded before cooling. The mass may be colored to suit. Modeling clay can be made from dry clay mixed with glycerin in place of water, but must be thoroughly kneaded with the hands if the mass be small, while for larger masses a power kneading and mixing machine is necessary. The modeling clay should be moistened with water every few days and covered with wet cloths.

TIMELY RECIPE TIPS

Prune Salad

Drain cooked halved prunes with cream cheese mixed with nut meats. Garnish with marshmallow cherries and serve on beds of lettuce. Serve with French dressing.

Lamb Patties

Cut meat from lamb stew, reserving bones for soup stock. Run meat through food chopper (omit fat). Form in patties, wrap each in bacon strip. Broil and serve with spaghetti cooked in tomato sauce.

Breakfast Gems

One heaping pint flour, one teaspoon baking powder, one teaspoon salt, butter half the size of an egg, one teacup water, half cup seedless raisins, one tablespoon sugar. Bake 15 minutes.

Shrimp Salad

Prepare fresh or canned shrimps and marinate in French dressing for one hour. Serve with mayonnaise and sliced pitted olives on lettuce beds.

Ginger Bread

Cream half cup shortening, add two tablespoons sugar and cream well. Add one egg and one cup molasses. Sift two cups flour, one teaspoon soda, half teaspoon salt, three-fourth teaspoon ginger, three-fourth teaspoon cinnamon and add alternately to first mixture with one cup boiling water. Pour in deep pan lined with greased paper. Bake 45 minutes in moderate oven.

Baked Navy Beans

Soak beans over night. Boil till skins break slightly. Pour off water. Place in bean pot with cubes of pork rolled in one teaspoon mustard, salt, pepper and two tablespoons brown sugar. Pour juice of one No. 2 can strained tomatoes mixed with juice of one onion over them. Place strips of salt pork over top. Bake for five hours in very slow oven, adding water from time to time.

Raised Doughnuts

One pint boiling milk, two cups sugar, half cup butter, half pint yeast and two eggs. Beat eggs, butter and sugar together, then pour in milk. Let rise three times, the last rising after the doughnuts are cut out. Fry in smoking-hot fat. Sift with powdered sugar.

Quick Dessert

Serve cream cheese with cherry jam, crisp wafers and seeded raisins.

Breakfast Dish

Make patties of cornbeef hash. Fry and top each with a poached egg, well seasoned.

Why Glass Turns Purple

The bureau of standards says that glass frequently changes color on exposure to sunlight and the surface may weather or decompose slightly on exposure to certain types of atmospheric conditions. The color change is generally from the initial color of the glass to a purplish tint. This is thought to be the result of the action of sunlight on the manganese which was used to decolorize the glass. The weathering produces a scum on the surface of the glass and renders it less transparent, but does not, in general, change its color.

Why Smoke Rises

Warm air is lighter than cold air, and the air heated by the fire seeks the nearest upward way of escape—the chimney. By doing this, it creates a draft which carries the smoke with it. It is this same draft which causes the fire to burn more brightly.

HERO AND CHAMPION

Here is Mrs. Florence Ilch's champion collie Lucuson of Ashtead o' Bell haven, for the past three years judged the best collie exhibited at Madison Square Garden, who performed the greatest feat of his seventy-year-old career the other day. The collie plunged into the waters of the North Shrewsbury river at the command of his trainer and rescued from drowning ten-year-old Anthony Salvatore. Next day a judge who had not heard of this exploit awarded to the dog first prize in the collie class at the show of the Englewood Kennel club at Tenafly, N. J.

Motherless Calf

The word "dogy" (plural "dogies") is pronounced as dojee. According to Webster's dictionary, it signifies a motherless calf on the cattle ranges in the western part of this country.

Do YOU Know—

That the blue flag or iris—the democratic nobleman of the fields—was adopted by Louis VII, the pious Crusader as the emblem of his house? The "fleur-de-Louis" in time became "fleur-de-lys." It was the flower of chivalry.

"Little Stories for Bedtime" by Thornton W. Burgess

LIGHTFOOT AND PADDY BECOME PARTNERS

THE instant Lightfoot the Deer saw Paddy the Beaver he knew that, for the time being at least, there was no danger. He knew that Paddy is one of the shyest of all the little people of the Green Forest and that when he is found working in the daytime it means that he has been undisturbed for a long time. Otherwise he would work only at night.

Paddy saw Lightfoot almost as soon as he stepped out on the bank. He kept right on swimming with the branch of a poplar tree until he reached his food pile, which, you know, is in the water. There he forced the branch down until it was held by other branches already sunken in the pond. This done, he swam over to where Lightfoot was watching. "Hello, Lightfoot!" he exclaimed. "You are looking handsomer than ever. How are you feeling these fine autumn days?"

"That's Bad News, Lightfoot. I'm Sorry to Hear It."

"Anxious," replied Lightfoot. "I am feeling terribly anxious. Do you know what day this is?"

"No," replied Paddy. "I don't know what day it is and I don't particularly care. It is enough for me that it is one of the finest days we've had for a long time."

"I wish I could feel that way," said Lightfoot wistfully. "I wish I could feel that way, Paddy, but I can't. No, sir, I can't. You see, this is the first of the most dreadful days in all the year for me. The hunters started looking for me before Mr. Sun was really out of bed. At least one hunter did and I don't doubt there are others. I fooled that one, but from now to the end of the hunting season there will not be a single moment of daylight when I will feel absolutely safe."

Paddy crept out on the bank and chewed a little twig of poplar thoughtfully. Paddy says he can always think better if he is chewing something. "That's bad news, Lightfoot. I'm sorry to hear it, I certainly am sorry to hear it," said Paddy. "Why anybody wants to hunt such a handsome fellow as you are I cannot understand. My, but that's a beautiful head of horns you have!".

"They are the best I've ever had, but do you know, Paddy, I suspect that they may be one of the reasons I am hunted so," replied Lightfoot, a little sadly. "Good looks are not always to be desired. Have you seen any hunters around here lately?"

Paddy shook his head. "Not a single hunter," he replied. "I tell you what it is, Lightfoot, let's be partners for a while. You stay right around my pond. If I see or hear or smell anything suspicious I'll warn you. You do the same for me. Two sets of eyes, ears and noses are better than one. What do you say, Lightfoot?"

"I'll do it," replied Lightfoot.

QUESTION BOX

By ED WYNN . . . The Perfect Fool

Dear Mr. Wynn:

Every time I take a railroad trip I have an argument with the train conductor about sticking my head out of the window. I am an American citizen and I always pay for my tickets, and I object to this kind of treatment. I have a right to put my head out the train window, haven't I?

Sincerely,
ANN. R. KIST.

Answer: Of course you have a perfect right to put your head out of the train window. The only reason the conductors say anything to you about it is that they want you to realize that in case the train passes over a bridge and your head is sticking out and your head damages any of the iron-work on the bridge you'll have to pay for it.

Dear Mr. Wynn:

Would you be kind enough to settle an argument between my wife and me? I say a person with great talent and a genius are one and the same thing, while my wife says there is a vast difference between the two. Who is right, and why?

Yours truly,
WRIGHT INGPAD.

Answer: Your wife is right. The difference between talent and genius is that talent gets paid every Saturday.

NO RACE OVER 'TIL LAST YARDS RUN

This writer, like about 300,000 others in Columbus and environs, was an Ohio State rooter last Saturday. Disappointed, more or less, I still am. I'm from Ohio State.

But I harbor no sickness at heart because of squelched national title hopes of my alma mater. Rather, I am grudgeful toward those stalwarts of the local metropolitan press, who, taking the situation in their own hands, were playing for national championships and All-American honors, even as the season reached the half way mark.

Even as an Ohio State alumnus, I seriously object to some pudgy or any other kind of sports writer sitting back and with deadly finality, predicting that my team will win by 30 points. I object, likewise, to the placing of 19-year-old lads on the spot by writing, in glowing terms and with utter certainty, that they are, and one specifically, is the greatest in the land. There are at least 10,000 other football players in the country whom these would-be experts will never see in one [redacted].

I do not mean to imply that these gentlemen have no right to express opinions. They have. I merely question the value of their opinions, limited as their observations must be in one football season. I question their value as reliable data on which to base the relative merits of the conflicting elevens and their effect on those of whom they write. When I read a football story, I want to know who is playing, when, where, and what has gone before. I should like to leave the details of the battle until Saturday afternoon.

On Nov. 1, Ohio State was proclaimed national champion. On Nov. 2, Columbus sports writers were also actually national champions—of a different type.

I wonder if these learned gentlemen learned a lesson Saturday. I wonder if they even learned so much as to be able to know that a football campaign lasts eight or nine weeks.

Notre Dame taught a beautiful lesson. Had the same line of thought prevailed among the Notre Dame players, as prevailed in this vicinity because of reams and reams of sadly ridiculous copy which reached the public eye, Ohio State would have won by a 13-0 score at the half.

Strangely, however, the winners weren't satisfied. They played on, and on, and even with 30 seconds yet remaining, they played the game. It takes a champion, I think, to do that. It takes a master to utilize the last 30 seconds with the same collect calm that the first 30 seconds are utilized.

And so, Mr. Shakespeare ran over and back, ever so slightly, and with deliberate precision, threw a football to Mr. Millner over the Ohio State goal. And the Golden Dome at South Bend must have shone gloriously in the cold, rose rays of the setting sun—a brilliant reflection of the "Spirit of Notre Dame"—a dazzling, unfathomable thing to those here, who only run half the race.

General Electric Corp. has a machine that will turn out 300 electric light bulbs per minute. . . . Glass manufacturers are about to emerge with "stubby" beer bottles to compete with the cans.

Legion to Have Thanksgiving Relief Drive

Bill Kinnen Is Chairman; Other Committees For Annual Affair Announced.

Plans for Camp Chase Post's annual Thanksgiving relief drive, a tradition with the local American Legion organization, are under way and details will be announced in the near future, it was learned this week.

The drive for food and clothing, which is distributed to needy families of the community, will be held on Thanksgiving Day, at which time every Hilltop home will be visited.

Bill Kinnen is the chairman of the relief committee with William Davis, co-chairman. Bob Billups, Milt Hain and Guy Myers compose the investigating committee and Clark Finneran will be traffic manager.

During the past two years, hundreds of people have been aided by the local post, and Hilltoppers have been generous in their contributions to the cause. Another banner drive is expected this year.

Milton P. Hain, 113 Whitethorne Ave., will aid Kinen in the work. Mr. Kinnen lives at 176 S. Harris Ave.

Through cooperation of the Hilltop churches, duplication of aid is avoided.

Mr. Shroyer returned Saturday while Mr. Lambert remained for further hunting.

Cowboys Enjoy Open Date Today

Conclude Season Next Friday Afternoon Against East High Tigers At Harley Field.

With only a forlorn hope of concluding the 1935 West High football season with a victory, the Cowboys will rest this week and finish the campaign next Friday afternoon at Harley Field, with East High's champions furnishing the opposition.

A Hilltop lad was the star performer in the West-Aquinas game last Friday afternoon, but he paced the attack of the Terriers who won the decision by a 13-0 score.

It was Val Boehm who scored the first touchdown for the doggies by galloping 50 yards through the entire West team on the first play of the second quarter. A blocked punt had given the Green the ball in midfield just before the initial canto was concluded.

A mis-directed lateral pass was recovered by Aquinas in the fourth period on the Cowboy 18-yard line from where Boehm dropped a forward pass into Crawford's arms for the score. Vagnone place-kicked the extra point.

The Hilltoppers, with not a single victory to their credit this year, will meet a powerful eleven in East next Friday and can hope for little, according to past performance, other than to hold the score down.

Prince Of Peace Contest At Glenwood

At the Sunday evening service of Glenwood church, the annual Prince of Peace contest will be held. Miss Margaret Koerner, Teacher for 35 Years, to Be Honored By Former Pupils

Miss Margaret Koerner, 2335 W. Broad St., a former teacher at Franklinton school for 35 years, will be honored by former pupils next Tuesday evening, Nov. 12, at the school, according to plans announced this week by Harold H. Denton, 212 N. Chase Ave., chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Miss Koerner graduated from the old Central High in 1885 and from Normal school in 1886. She started teaching the following year at the Third Street school and in 1888 went to Franklinton where she taught for 18 years. Following that, she was principal for 17 years until her retirement in 1923.

The committee is making an effort to have as many of her old pupils on hand as possible, as well as teachers who worked with her during her third of a century in the school system.

Others on the committee include: Fred Gnuggle, Walter Stabs, Mrs. F. E. Wollerman, Miss Dolores Howells, Mrs. Lillian Saunders, Mrs. Lena Mouser, Ralph Simes, Jack Southworth, Miss Mabel Lilley and Miss Rose Gormley. The latter two are former teachers.

Mr. Magann was called to this pastorate on Sunday, Nov. 12, 1933. During his pastorate more than one hundred new members have been received into the fellowship of the church. The majority of these have been adults and the most of them have come by baptism.

A number of substantial improvements have been reported in the work of the church during this time also a considerable sum has been expended in redecorating and improving the building.

Mr. Magann will preach Sunday morning on the topic, "Unaware of His Stumbling-Block."

Local Library Will Observe Book Week

Bookreading By Children Will Be Emphasized the Week Of Nov. 18 At Hilltop Library.

"Reading For Fun" will be the theme of Book Week for the children beginning Monday, Nov. 18, and continuing through Saturday. The Hilltop Branch library is making preparations to feature posters and displays of old and new books that have contributed real enjoyment to children's reading. Approximately 50 new juvenile books will be placed on the shelves between now and Nov. 18.

Miss Jane Williams, the branch librarian, has compiled book lists which will be given to all children who visit the library during the week. Reviews of the most popular books will be published in the Hilltop Record next week.

The Hilltop Branch library extends to all the children of the Hilltop an invitation to visit the library during Book Week and urges the parents to encourage book reading among the children. The local library staff is anxious that many children who have never been to the library come in and become members and really see how much fun it is to read some real good books.

John Burroughs P.-T. A. To Meet

The next meeting of the John Burroughs P.-T. A. will be held Thursday, Nov. 14, in the school auditorium, beginning promptly at 7:30 p. m.

The invocation will be given by Rev. S. T. Magann, pastor of Hillcrest Baptist church.

Mr. Harry Sain of the Industrial Commission, a forceful and well-known speaker and exponent of safety will speak on this subject.

Music will be furnished by the Karmine string quartet from the Morrey School of Music. Four young ladies will present a group of four numbers.

"Glad to Be Back On Hilltop," Says New John Burroughs Elementary Head

"I'm glad to be back on the Hilltop. My reception by parents and teachers at John Burroughs school has been cordial, and the entire situation is a very pleasant one," said E. B. Graham, recently appointed principal succeeding H. L. McMillan, when questioned by a Record reported Tuesday.

"The promotion," he continued, "came as a complete surprise to me, though naturally I knew and appreciated the fact that I was being considered among a number of candidates," he continued.

Mr. Graham will be remembered by many Hilltoppers for his work supervising attendance at West Jr. High several years ago. He made hundreds of visits to Hilltop homes during the time he served as science instructor at the local school, and his fine work was instrumental in his appointment as principal of the largest elementary school in the city.

His new duties are not new to him, however. He was principal of a centralized school system in Wood county for five years and has carried on graduate work in school administration at the Ohio State university and at the University of Pennsylvania.

He came to the Hilltop following his work there and remained at West Jr. High for seven years before going to North High as a teacher in general science.

Praising H. L. McMillan, former principal at John Burroughs, now vice principal at East High, Mr. Graham said that the John Burroughs school required little, if any, change. "We have no extraordinary situations here," he observed, "and I am taking my time in becoming acclimated. The change of leadership was made smoothly and the cooperation of parents and teachers has been excellent."

History of Hilltop Schools Reveals Rapid Development

Note: The following history of Hilltop schools was compiled by West Jr. High history and English teachers and was presented as a part of an Education Week program Monday at the school.

It has been said that the location of Camp Chase during the Civil War brought much trade to the vicinity of Hague avenue and Broad street. The houses of settlers, in ever increasing numbers began to dot this higher ground. The officers at the camp needed school facilities for their children. About the time of the beginning of the war a red brick building was standing at the corner of West Broad street and Highland avenue and was used as a church. This house, located where Six's store now stands, was converted into a school, primarily for the officers' children. This was the first school, probably, on the Hilltop. After the close of the war it was open to the children of all the settlers in the neighborhood.

Due to lack of room in this first school, a part of the old Thomas House on Price avenue, now Clarendon avenue, was opened for school purposes in 1869. About 1890, these two schools were merged into a new red brick school house which had been built by the board of education at 129 Price Ave. Mr. J. C. Mead, later to become the first principal of the Highland school, began his teaching in this building which was used, also, for church services on Sunday; at first by a Society of Friends, and then by the early Glenwood Methodist congregation. This house is still standing and is occupied by the Misses Webb. The old "blackboards" are still to be found in this house, under the present wall paper.

The first unit of the Highland avenue building was constructed on the present site and occupied Nov. 21, 1895, with a registration of 215 pupils. In addition to Mr. Mead, there were four other teachers: Clara Earnest, Kate Drake, Ada Jones, and Iola Wickham. Mr. Mead had the supervision, also, of the Camp Chase annex, mention of which will be made shortly, and of the Sullivant avenue annex, another little district school which was being held then in a brick building now being used as a garage by the Home Producers' Milk Company, at 1493 Sullivant Ave.

In 1902, Miss Daisy Charters was appointed principal of Highland school. In 1917, in keeping with the idea of the junior high school, all the seventh and eighth grades on the Hilltop were centralized at the Highland Avenue school. In September, 1921, the school was made a junior high school with our present principal, Dr. H. H. Reighley, in charge. At the end of the first term of that year, there were 468 pupils in grades seven, eight, and nine at the Highland Avenue Junior High school. With the opening of our new building the name was changed to West Junior High school. Our enrollment in these grades today is 1320.

When our junior high school was moved from the Highland building, the elementary school there was left in charge of Mr. E. N. Littleton. A few years ago, Mr. Littleton became the principal of the junior high school at Bowling Green, O., being succeeded at Highland by Miss Mathilda Stuart, its present principal.

We shall now trace the origin of the West Broad school. About 1870, need for additional school facilities further west than at Highland and Broad led to the opening of the Camp Chase

Only Two Local Candidates To Win Positions

Hauntz Leads Field in School Board Race; Millikin Edges Koontz For Council Seat.

Two of the Hilltop's five candidates for municipal offices, Wyatt L. Millikin and Ray G. Hauntz, were returned victors Tuesday at the city election. Both were incumbents, Millikin, a councilman, and Hauntz, a member of the school board.

Samuel Willis (D), candidate for city auditor, was defeated by John E. Davies (R) by a plurality of 5000 votes. Henry P. Fagan, candidate for judge of the municipal court, lost to incumbent, Judge Joseph M. Clifford, by over 23,000 votes, and Henry Koontz, Republican candidate for city council, came in fifth.

Ray G. Hauntz

Hauntz, present president of the school board and only one of the three whose terms expire this year to run for office again, led a field of 14 candidates, polling 27,066 votes leading his closest competitor, John M. Eagleston by 5000. Three other school board candidates, said to be favored by the present school administration, were named. They were: Mary Louise Johnson, Grace R. Clifton and Eagleston.

W. L. Millikin

Millikin, with 31,847 votes, remained in the top four as returns came in Tuesday evening, although later reports showed another Hilltopper, Henry Koontz, pressing him closely.

Shake-up Seen

With the election of Myron B. Gessaman (R) over Henry W. Worley (D), present mayor, political observers see some shake-up to be forthcoming in the major city offices. Although he is under civil service, Police Chief Fred Kundtz may be replaced, although no official reports have been forthcoming. The same holds for Fire Chief Edward P. Welch. Other major offices which will in all probability see changes include those of safety director, service director, secretary to the mayor, and various department heads such as street cleaning, parks, light plant, sewage disposal plant and the board of purchase.

Mention Floyd Green

A COMMENDABLE WORK

Announcement was made this week by officials of the local post of the American Legion, Camp Chase No. 98, that the needy of the community would again be aided by the distribution of food and clothing by that organization.

This commendable work has come to be a tradition with the Hilltop Post in the past few years, and hundreds of almost destitute Hilltop families have had cause to be happier on Thanksgiving day because of the goodness of these veterans.

It is no small task to canvas a community of 30,000 people for food and clothing. It is still more difficult to distribute the goods to worthy families. Yet members of Camp Chase No. 98 and its auxiliary have given unstintingly of their time to make the canvass and resultant distribution a success.

Their unselfish labors cannot be too highly praised.

To the Unknown Soldier

By Ethel Titus Worthen

You were a hopeful father's boy—
A mother's pride and joy.
Were loved perhaps by sweetheart wife
When you were called into the strife
Of cruel war that careth not Husband . . . Brother . . . Son, or what—
But spreads its devastating hand
Abroad throughout the land!

Oh that this dreadful war would cease!
And man with man in perfect peace
Would dwell. In loyalty . . . good will
And love that bears no person ill
But lives to banish greed and hate!
For price of war is far too great
In precious life. Those beneath the sod
And you—"Unknow to all but God."

school in a red brick building which stood north of Broad street and just east of Warren avenue. This building was used, also, as a church. About that time, the school was so far beyond the city proper that the teacher was paid $10 a month additional salary, $50 a month in all, to compensate her for the difficulty in getting to and from the building, the end of the street car line being one and one-quarter miles east, or the first gate into the grounds of the State Hospital for the Insane. A big stove in the center of this room nearly roasted the children close by while the unfortunates in the corners shivered with cold. This building burned down about the year 1904. For a time after the destruction of this building, under the name of the Camp Chase annex, primary grades were conducted on the second floor of the building at 2575 W. Broad St., where the Kroger store now stands. Finally, in 1910, the present West Broad school building was constructed, an addition being built to it just a few years ago. Miss Harriett Judd has been the principal of this building since its dedication.

As a part of the large building program, initiated by the City Board of Education about 1920, the John Burroughs school was built to relieve crowded conditions at Highland and at West Broad. Miss Daisy Charters became the first principal of the new school, being transferred there when Highland became the junior high school. Mr. McMillan, who recently has become the assistant principal at East High school, succeeded Miss Charters. Mr. E. B. Graham, a former teacher at West Junior High school, is now principal of the John Burroughs school. The enrollment, at the present time, in the building proper is 1117, with 77 pupils in a portable building on West Mound street. It is the largest elementary school in Columbus.

The Nature Trail

WINTER IN THE WOODS

Days are occasionally warm yet, and the rambler finds on sunny slopes, a violet in bloom, but actually, it is winter in the woods.

With R. T. Wareham and Clyde H. Jones of the Botany department, the Ohio State university, this past weekend, the writer visited once again the magnificent hill country of Jackson county.

Before the break of day we were away, rolling down the Scioto Trail to Chillicothe and from there to Rock Run near Jackson. The sun, a molten crimson disk, rose over the eastern hills, playing a rosy light on the morning mists that hung persistently over the corn fields in the valleys.

Now the fog grows thicker, hiding even the hills, but as the morning slipped by, the day became clearer, and are we arrived at our destination, the hills of Jackson county, clad in sombre raiment of oak and hickory and feather green pine and hemlock, rose in spectacular panorama before us.

How utterly poor and destitute is the man whose fancies never take him to the winter woods. How unfortunate the man whose thinking hours all are spent in a swivel chair instead of a woodland stump. How poverty-stricken must be he who has never found surpassing beauty of sinking sun over November landscapes, who has never watched the mists roll out of the valleys and unveil the mighty hills, whose feet have never trod on woodland carpets of freshly fallen leaves, whose fingers have never dug in the soft black humous of forest floors. How sad the days of those who remain forever sane, whose paths never take them to the gates of the enchanted forests.

No sooner had we arrived at the cliff edge that rims Rock Run than Dick had found a luxuriant patch of moss, green and fresh and shining and beset with a billion sparkling dew-drops, which had but once before been reported for Ohio. Under the newly fallen leaves, the rose lichen was just beginning to fruit. From around a massive column of Sharon conglomerate sandstone went up a hillbilly whoop that immediately indicated to us that Jones had found another specimen of rare excellence.

He had done as much, for in a rock cranny he pointed to the rare mountain spleenwort, collected but once before by him, a much-experienced field man. Three other spleen-worts we found that day, small, delicate, fern-like plants, not often seen in such great variety. The pinnatified spleenwort, the maidenhair and the ebony, were all found en route through the gorge.

A hundred plants we saw of interest as we made our way into the hemlock woods of the north slope, where also abounded the spectacular magnolia trees, the farthest north they are known to occur. With huge leaves more than a foot in breadth, their glaucus under-surface produced great patches of white to the woodland floor, where they had fallen. The smaller magnolia (tripetala), also has large leaves, but by no means comparable to the enormous ones of Magnolia macrophylla.

Across the valley, the stern gray cliffs rose almost 200 feet, capped with short-leaf yellow pine, with rare patches of bronze of the yet-clinging oak leaves.

In crannies and on ledges, clumps of shining club moss were to be found. In the valley, a vast swamp, Witch Hazel's yellow flowers were in evidence. Here and there were vines of Bitter-sweet, their orange-red berries a decided contrast to the browns and grays of surrounding shrubs. Bushes of Wahoo were everywhere, also with crimson fruit. On the ground, the creeping plants of Wintergreen were bearing fruit, deep rose-red in color. And the ever present partridge berry completed the range of reds to be found, it being a shining crimson.

We could list such items for paragraphs and paragraphs, but space forbids. Truly, it was a red-letter day for all concerned. Lichens, mosses and ferns in great abundance and variety, the very makers of winter landscapes, were brought back for study.

And so, as night once more fell over the hills, we made our way back to Columbus via Wellston, McArthur and Logan, another rambie completed.

Roast Turkey

Clean, singe and pick over the turkey. Wash in salted water. It is a good plan to stuff the bird the night before cooking.

When stuffed, place in a large covered roaster with a little water. Baste frequently until tender. Allow about 20 minutes to each pound. Reserve the liquid and add to it the previously cooked giblets which have been chopped fine. If your oven is too small to accomodate a large roaster you may place the turkey in the broiling pan and cover it with several folds of cheesecloth. Pour about a pint of milk over this and continue basting until the bird is nearly done. By this time the cheesecloth will have formed a mask over the fowl and you can lift it off in order to brown the turkey, uncovered, the last hour of baking.

Corn Patties

Your corn patties can be made delicious by mixing two cups of canned whole corn, two chopped hard cooked eggs, three chopped pimentos and one cup white sauce. Fill the baked pattie shells with this mixture and sprinkle with grated cheese and browned bread crumbs. Reheat in a moderate oven until the cheese melts.

A FEW DESSERTS

A MEAL is unfinished without something in sweets or a made dessert to end the meal.

Adam's Cream Pie.

Scald one cupful of milk, add one cupful of sugar and one-eighth teaspoonful of salt. Mix two teaspoonfuls of corn starch with a little cold milk; add to the scalded milk, stirring constantly. Cook until smooth; then pour on two well-beaten eggs mixed with a cupful of cream; pour into a pastry lined tin and sprinkle with cinnamon. Bake until firm in the center. Remove at once from the oven and serve cold.

Steamed Cherry Pudding.

Drain canned cherries from the sirup. Make a batter of one cupful of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt and milk to mix into a drop batter. Butter pudding cups and add a tablespoonful of the mixture, then a tablespoonful of the cherries—a bit of juice with them will not matter. Cover with another spoonful of batter, leaving plenty of room in the cup for rising. Set the cups into hot water, cover closely and boil fifteen minutes. Use the juice lightly thickened for the sauce, adding a little butter.

Orange Rounds.

Cut rounds from rich pastry and bake. Put together with orange filling prepared as follows: Melt four tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan, add five tablespoonfuls of sugar, the juice of one orange and half of the grated rind. Beat in the yolks of three eggs, stirring constantly, add two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped or grated candied orange peel and two tablespoonfuls of chopped candied pineapple, stir and cook until the filling is thick enough to spread. Use as filling for two rounds of the pastry.

As far as it is possible to determine, Charles E. Seddon will remain as director of recreation. Prior to the election, unverified reports had it that Leo Uridil would replace the present director under a Democratic administration.

Willis For Council?

It was reported late this week that W. Herbert Dailey, whose term in city council has two years to run, may resign and talk of his successor seemed to be centered about Sam Willis, present city auditor whose term will expire Jan. 1.

If the Dailey resignation is withheld until Jan. 1 or after, then council, which has charge of filling the vacancy, will be deadlocked over a candidate, with Democrats and Republicans evenly divided. The present set-up in council shows four Democrats and two Republicans without Dailey, a Democrat.

Guild To Present Book Review Series

Sponsoring a new venture, the Wesleyan Service Guild of Glenwood M. E. church, will present the first of a series of three book reviews next Friday, Nov. 15, at 8:00 p. m. in the social rooms of Glenwood M. E. church.

The first review will be presented by Mrs. Allen Adams, prominent club woman and lecturer of 'Logan, O. Mrs. Adams has chosen the book, "Loaves and Fishes," by Elaine Myers. This book depicts the life on the Maine fishing coast about 75 years ago.'

Rumania has more gypsies than any other country, 300,000 being there.

Equine Giants Win Championship

THERE are giants, still—those days—in the horse world—great one-ton giants that still bear burdens for us, just as man's oldest, most useful friend has always done. And a new world's heavyweight championship record was made in the work horse world, at Hillsdale County fair, Michigan, recently when two giants, Rock and Tom, trained by Russell Sando of Pigua, Ohio, defeated the giant champions of the East and hauled a load of 25½ tons for 20 consecutive starts. A "dynamometer," operated by Michigan State college, was used to measure the pulls scientifically. Expert horsemen and engineers were all amazed at this record. Rock and Tom are here shown doing their stunt.

INTERESTING PEOPLE, No. 5

No teacher I ever knew, unless it was Helen O'Neil, had the boundless energy of Charlotte Walton. With a refreshing vigor that amazes, after many years, she took us into new subjects and new lessons with the interest of one who tramped a flower-spattered woodland for the first time. We never dreamed she had been over the trail a hundred times before.

In her classes, people are being taught, not shoved on to the next grade. She is seeking their expressions, catering to their interests, encouraging, enlightening, patiently helping. I have wondered since, how she kept the sun always shining in her rooms, for there have been dark hours and discouraging days without number in her life.

Through misfortune and success, she has kept in touch with many of her former pupils. In a particularly dismal moment once, I received the following verse from her which raised my head and lengthened my stride, and served in part perhaps, to explain the why of shining hours in her classes.

The flight of birds
Across the autumn sky—
The weed beside the pool—
An irridescent dragon fly:
The rosy cloud reflecting
Sunset's evening glow—
A tree so dark and bare
Which 'waits Spring's magic touch
To spread its beauty everywhere—
All speak of God in clarion tones
(Although the silence seems to hold?
And those whose hearts are open,
Hear, and to His truth unfold.

How many she has encouraged and inspired I cannot tell. But there are many more than she will ever know. From them, to her, then, a bowl of Metzmaier's finest nuts.

With the exception, perhaps, of Mart Seiler, no one is such a dyed-in-wool sports fan as W. L. Potts. He knows the names and numbers of all the players from the Hilltop Church league up through the big leagues and conferences.

The freshest dope is at his finger tips and he gets a bigger thrill out of a lusty two-base wallop than the hitter. He follows events in the local leagues with enthusiasm, and there are few players whom he does not know and who do not know him. He's superintendent of the Lindy Air Products Company, and has several local ball players working for him. Work is almost forgotten, sometimes, in the heat of the campaign, should he ask the question: "Who will win tonight?" Few fans enjoy sport for sport's sake as does he.

He has one son Larry, and two daughters, Doris and Marjorie.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul O'Brien are making their home in Westerville. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Frank Howard will visit in Columbus this weekend. . . . Mr. and Mrs. John Ricker, northenders, are seeking a Hilltop apartment. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Roger Snedecker are living on the north side. . . . Geo. Ainsworth was in for a few days from New York a fortnite back. . . . That baby boy that was to be named after this pillarist had the misfortune to be a girl. . . . Edna, the Campbell clerk, is a Grove City girl.

It happenfd in the Central game of several years ago. A huge lad by the name of Burdette was lugging the leather for West. He started around the end and Rass Waller came up. Burdette faded back, and back further, almost 45 yards. Finally Rass caught him.

He was jerked later, and Coach Wise yelled: "Burdette! Whatsa matter with you?"

Burdette, in a wee small voice, answered meekly: "I wus lookin' for a hole."

Mike Boland tells one on Frankie (not very strong) Bane, when he played at Aquinas. The Terrier had been beaten severely the week before and Mike had the boys stand up and a pair of tacklers sent at each one.

Frankie went over to Mike and says: "Coach, I feels sorta sick and not very strong today. Kin I go home?"

Collicott to Name New Assistant Superintendents

More Changes In Local School Set-up May Be Forthcoming Before January First.

The appointment of two new assistant superintendents and more changes in the Hilltop school set-up, may be forthcoming shortly, it was indicated this week from a reliable source.

It was reported from Superintendent Collicott's office that he "would submit recommendations within a very short time" for the two new assistants which will inaugurate a new administrative system in Columbus schools.

The two new assistants will succeed Miss Marie Gugle, now principal at East High and Charles Fullerton, and will have charge of the senior and junior highs and elementary schools respectively. Formerly administration was divided into districts with each district containing both the senior and elementary schools.

The next meeting of the board is scheduled for Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Ray G. Haunts, president of the board, did not know this week whether Dr. Collicott would present his recommendations at that time. No indication as to who would be contained on such a list was made.

H. P. Swain, North High principal and Evan L. Mahaffey, principal at South High, have been mentioned as possible candidates, along with certain others.

Whether or not other changes in the local schools are in the offing remains unknown, although indications are that there will be. Haunts, in a statement earlier in the fall, said that widespread changes in the school system were in order. Whether or not the most important ones have already been affected with the promotion of E. B. Graham to John Burroughs and H. L. McMillan to vice principal at East High, is not known.

Membership Drive of West Sr.-Jr. Parent-Teacher Association Gets Under Way.

Mrs. Leo Pence, general chairman of the West Sr.-Jr. Parent-Teacher association, announced this week that the annual membership drive had started, and through the cooperation of Dr. H. H. Reighley, West Jr. principal and Otto H. Magly, West Sr. principal, teachers and room mothers have been enlisted as workers in the drive.

Several outstanding programs are scheduled for the association through the school year and the committee is anxious to have each meeting well attended.

Others on the membership committee include: Mrs. Mary Demorest, Mrs. Herbert Bauman, Mrs. R. J. Miller, Mrs. Glen Meeder, Mrs. Zail Kemp, Mrs. Wilbur Larrick, Mrs. Albert Link, Mrs. Frank Wolfe, Mr. George Sinclair and Mrs. John Rohr.

The program will begin at 8:00 o'clock and will be held in the church parlors. All are invited.

Otto H. Magly Will Speak At Men's Club

Otto H. Magly, principal of West High school, will be the speaker at the regular dinner-meeting of the Hoge Memorial Men's club tonight. The dinner will be served at 6:30 and group one, with George Hardy as chairman, is in charge of the program.

Enthusiasm High In West Jr. Hi Intramurals

More than 180 boys in West Jr. High schol are enjoying an after-school basketball campaign, engineered by George Williams, physical education instructor, three nights per week. The Boys' Athletic association is sponsoring the program.

Good crowds are out for the games, which are played in seventh, eighth and ninth grades, at a cost of one cent per spectator. Each junior high registration room is represented by a squad of some 10 boys, standings and official scores are kept, and genuine enthusaism prevails. Funds accumulated are being used to purchase silver trophies for the winning teams.

Close games have been in order and at the present time, seven teams in the three leagues have unblemished slates.

The following are the standings in the three intramural circuits:

West Hi Eleven In Final Game

Champion East High Tigers to Be Met At Harley Field This Afternoon At 3:00.

West High's 1935 Cowboy football team, yet to mark up a victory, will close its season this afternoon at Harley Field, with East High furnishing the opposition.

The two teams show nothing in common, insofar as football abilities are concerned. East has conquered stalwart opposition throughout the campaign, including such formidable teams as Middleton and Cincinnati Withrow. The Tigers have swept local opposition aside with consummate ease.

Meanwhile, the Cowboys have been bounced from pillar to post, by out-of-town competition and city elevens, too. Two tie games are all the Hilltoppers have to show.

So the disinterested locals will probably meet their masters this afternoon.

No Basketball Call

According to present plans of Coach Harold E. Wise, no official basketball call will be issued for a couple of weeks yet. Promising candidates have been observed in gym classes for the past week and Wednesday a meeting of these players was called.

The first ten days of January will be devoted to evangelistic services in the various churches of the Hilltop with the preaching being divided among the ministers of the Hilltop. More complete details of this winter program will be announced soon.

New Rules Prevail As Hunters Take To Field and Wood

The hunting season opens today, but not at the crack of dawn as per usual. For hunters throughout the state, who annually take to the fields and woods in quest of rabbits, pheasants, Hungarian partridges, opposum, skunk or fox, must wait until noon before venturing forth.

Following a survey of hunting accidents, it was found that a great majority have occurred early on the opening day, when anxious gunners fire at the first moving thing—before they see it. For this reason, the opening hour was changed to noon. Raccoon, which previously could be taken beginning at midnight, cannot be taken before 6 o'clock under the new ruling.

The ruling on pheasant specifies that they shall not be taken before 7 a. m. or after 5 p. m. after the opening day.

Fate of W. Broad Left Turn Into High St. Up Mon.

Karns, Millikin and Lewis Favor Present Rule; Frank, Jones, Addison Seek Abolition.

Melville D. Frank, vigorous opponent of the Broad-High left turn of West Broad street cars, will introduce a resolution in council next Monday evening which will bring about a decision by the city fathers as to whether or not the rule will be continued or abolished.

Already ruled discriminatory by Judge Joseph A. Clifford, Frank succeeded last Monday in having a resolution passed which calls for a final decision by council next Monday. He is quoted as saying: "There is no excuse for such a turn. With bad weather coming on I am afraid someone will be killed at the corner."

Council president Karns, however, just as vigorously defending the ruling, saying that he didn't see why all West Side people should be dumped off at Front street. Lewis and Millikin, both residents of the West Side, voted with Karns to defeat the Frank motion, but Addison, Dailey and Jones supported Frank.

The original resolution permitting the turn was passed July 22, but an ordinance permitting automobiles to make the same turn was not changed. Following Judge Clifford's ruling which held that the left turn ruling was discriminatory, Safety Director Pealer issued a "request" to motorists not to make the turn.

Monday's decision will probably lie with Councilman Dailey, it was indicated, with Frank, Addison and Jones favoring abolition of the rule and Millikin, Karns and Lewis favoring continuance. Dailey had not made up his mind on the question Monday.

Pealer Reappoints Local Policeman

Fay V. Nash, 233 Columbian Ave., who resigned from the police department on Aug. 5 while under fire on charges of wrecking two East Side residences during a vice-squad raid, was re-named patrolman Wednesday by Safety Director W. S. Pealer.

Board Issues Warning On Tularemia Poison

CITY HALL PURGE

Men are losing jobs in the various departments of the city administration—water works, street cleaning, etc., because of alleged infidelity to Mayor Worley during his unsuccessful campaign to be re-elected.

Service Director Lucks, with gradiose flourishes, has ordered the dismissal of one man who has been in city service for 31 years. Such action is typical of petty politicians, of which we have too great a number, going and coming, in the city of Columbus.

The attempt to remove partisan politics from city government has not borne fruit. Further steps should be taken, steps that will lead toward the set-up of a city manager plan and the establishment of a civil service free of political pressure.

"To appoint a man to a position in city government merely because of his activity as a committeeman in a ward, etc., means a lower quality of public service," writes Russell Wilson, mayor of Cincinnati. There, a city manager is appointed by council who remains in office until he resigns or is removed. His appointments are made from civil service lists, and there are no bricklayers placed in city bookkeeping departments.

The present city hall purge is costing the tax payers money. The changes which will be brought about by the new administration, will cost the tax payers money. The spoils system is a rotten system, at best.

Now that Ohio State has relinquished all hopes of a national title, we don't suppose Governor Davey will brag so much about who made it possible for the team to be as strong as it is.

November

Trees are standing desolate, bare;
Hands uplifted as if in prayer—
Asking why they, who in summer have charms,
Must now be left with empty arms.
Winds are singing a song of woe—
Of rain and sleet, and ice and snow.
Grasses are brown, and gardens shorn
Of beauty and life, are all forlorn,
And silent too, for the birds have gone.
The sun is cold, and dreary the dawn
In grey, who used to wake in rose.
Streams are silent, the rivers dose.
All nature seems asleep—
Except the sobbing trees, who lonely vigils keep.

—Claudia M. Adams.

The PEOPLES COLUMN

APPRECIATES POEM

Dear Sir:

"To the Unknown Soldier," written by Ethel Titus Worthen which was published in last week's Record, I wish to say that it, as well as many others she has written, is as good as the poems in Cyrus Readers used in the Pennsylvania schools.

It seems that the writings of authors are never appreciated when they are living as when they have passed on. I am sure that a word of praise would be an encouragement to Mrs. Worthen while she is still living.

We hope that she continues to show her great efforts, in other poems such as this one.

Mrs. C. O. Miller.

1935 Building Permits Triple Those Of 1934

Building permits issued in central and southern Ohio cities during the first ten months of 1935 had a valuation more than triple the permits issued during the same period of 1934, according to a compilation made by A. L. Guckert, Columbus district director of the Federal Housing Administration.

The total valuation of the permits issued in eight cities up to Oct. 31 was $6,899,973 compared with $2,162,488 for the same period a year ago.

The insured mortgage loans of the Federal Housing Administration are credited for a large proportion of the building and real estate activity gains.

The table of building permit gains for the first ten months:

Columbus	$ 724,100	$2,109,600
Upper Arlington	186,460	581,000
Bexley	144,230	424,740
Portsmouth	161,238	85,116
Dayton	778,336	3,220,829
Springfield	183,737	367,438
Piqua	17,095	58,850
Ironton	17,293	52,400
Grand Total	$2,162,488	$6,899,973

"TOPSY," by Marjorie Flack (for boys and girls 5 to 7 years). Topsy was a little cocker spaniel puppy who hoped she would be bought by Judy's mother, so that she could play with Judy. But she was sold to prim Miss Samantha. After she had almost wrecked Miss Samantha's tidy house, Topsy escaped and found Judy. Then Miss Samantha gave Topsy to Judy, and all of them were well pleased. A jolly little story with a pleasant touch of humor and colorful pictures.

"YOUNG COWBOY," by Will James (for boys 7 to 10 years). "Young Cowboy" is the story of Billy, who began riding at 4, went to a round-up with his father at 6 years, learned his letters from cattle brands, and before he was 10 years old, broke his first horse. This is a tale that will thoroughly satisfy boys and girls from 7 to 10, and it will increase their interest to know that some of Billy's adventures were really the experiences of Will James as a small boy, and that "Big Enough" was his own horse.

"LENDING MARY," by Eliza O White (for girls 8 to 11 years). Nine-year-old Mary is lent to a cousin while her mother goes away for a vacation. Cousin Ruth gives her a calendar and two pencils, a black one and a red one, with which she is to cross off the days—the red pencil for red-letter days on which something pleasant happens. To Mary's surprise and everyone else's, she uses the red pencil constantly. So Mary has a happy month which ends all too quickly.

"TRIGGER JOHN'S SON," by Tom Robinson (for boys and girls 10 to 15 years). Trigger is the sort of boy who believes in taking matters into his own hands, especially when it comes to the arrangements of his own life. Being adopted may be all right, but he wants to size up his new foster parents first, and contrives to do so. Through all of the story runs a really fine motive, the gradual firm-growing friendship between Trigger and his step-father, who liked him from the start. Both boys and girls will like this book with its real characters.

"CADDIE WOODLAWN," by Carol R. Brink (for girls 10 to 14 years). The author has told a story of frontier days in Wisconsin, of Indian uprisings, and of Caddie, a lovable little girl, full of spirit and somewhat of a tomboy. This book, which is founded on the actual experiences of the author's grandmother, has a rich background and an interesting plot to please young readers.

"YOUNG WALTER SCOTT," by Elizabeth J. Gray (for boys and girls 9 to 14 years). This is the account of Sir Walter Scott's own boyhood and also a delightful picture of an lovable character as ever lived. Though Scott lived in the eighteenth century, in these pages he is as real and life-like as any boy of today and not very different in many ways. It is told like a story with as much conversation as if it were pure fiction.

Carl Sherburn tells of going hunting with a prominent banker (we can't mention his name). They were riding along when all of a sudden Curt shouted: "Stop the car! There's a pheasant over in the field."

Carl stopped and Wilcox got out. He crept stealthily forward, and with careful aim, let go a powerful blast of shot.

Apparently he missed, for out across that field, like 'a scared rabbit, went a big, black tom-cat.

June Stone, I'm told, lives on the North Side now. . . . and the John Rickers have taken over a South Side apartment. . . . Ray Hauntz is on the committee working on the new civic theatre project. . . . Purely personal pish posh: I can recite "Casey At the Bat" from beginning to end. . . . I like cold applesauce on buttered bread. . . . List Otto C. France among my favorite people. . . . Would like to be mayor of Columbus just to confound the political bosses and machine politicians. Wouldn't give a whoop about re-election, so much buck passing as Gessaman and Worley are doing on the curtailment of finances would be taken care of with dispatch. . . . If I were the chief mudjemuk of politics, I would require that all politicians read a bit of Emerson, especially —quote—A foolish consistency is the hobgoblin of little minds, much adored by little statesmen, little philosophers and devines. . . . If you would be a man, speak what you think today in words as hard as cannon balls and speak what tomorrow thinks in hard words again, even though it contradict everything you said today. Ah, then, exclaim the aged ladies (we add also, politicians) you shall be sure to be misunderstood. Misunderstood? Tis a right fool's word. Is it so bad, then, to be misunderstood? Pythagoras was misunderstood, and Jesus, and Socrates, and Plato, and Newton and Galileo, and every pure and wise spirit that ever took flesh. To be great is to be misunderstood.—end of quote.

Shame. Shame. Chet Henery won't take his son, Jim, a-hunting rabbits because of what Jim "done to him" during the squirrel season. . . . Rev. Carl Scheidt, ordained in the local St. John Lutheran church, is the new pastor of the Steubenville St. John congregation. . . . Louie Dearduff is getting along better after three weeks of illness. He's at home. . . . The honeymoon is over when the wife tells the hubby that there are SOME THINGS he never heard of. . . . Curt Wilcox will not manage the Tri Mu team in the church circuit next year. . . . Ethel Greiser is withholding important gossip from the Broad-Hague area. . . . Have been wanting to write to Jim Williams about that poem that goes: "Great Father, others have been strong and confident . . ." . . . No word of George K. Hardy, the church loop's stormy petrel, in many moons. . . . Ty Thompson is papa of a two-week-old baby dotter. Hot diggity dog. . . . Jayne Hartley is home from Grant hospital . . . C. C. Hartley wanted to be a doctor in his high school days.

Personal to Martha Dunavent: Haint these mail clerks the gossipiest people. Sh-h-h-h. . . . Note to O. H. (Hoover. Rah, Rah! Craft. Razzberries taken with cream ARE delicious. . . . Dorothy Ingles (she's a Mrs. now) resides in Oklahoma City. . . . Mrs. Chas. Davis is back in town. I'm told Chas. is still in the west. . . . Add wedded folks I never knew about: Grace Cassidy, Marjorie Sheets, Donna Harmon, Lucille Seeds, and John Graham (?). Yep, a 10-minute conversation with the former Mary Jane Wiggley almost filled the above paragraph.

Members of the auxiliary will provide hot coffee and doughnuts throughout the day, and will aid in sorting and classifying the goods as it pours into headquarters. Last year more than 3700 boxes or cans of food products and 850 articles of wearing apparel were collected in the one-day drive.

A 70-year-old Westerville spinster, returning home from a visit with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Mote, 94 N. Wayne Ave., was struck by an auto and fatally injured last Sunday evening at Midland avenue and Broad street, breaking the Hilltop's immaculate record insofar as traffic casualties were concerned for this year.

Miss Sherwood was struck by a car driven by Eugene Johnson, colored, of 308 Johnson St., who became panic-stricken, police reported, and ran down a near-by alley. He returned to the scene almost immediately, but in the interim, Fred Hysell, 916 Midland Ave., had taken the body of Miss Sherwood to Mt. Carmel. She died en route.

Struck, and slightly injured by the same car, Miss Zelma Fern Jordan, 19, of 125 N. Broadway, was returning home after services at the Hoge Memorial Presbyterian church.

Miss Sherwood and Miss Jordan stepped into Broad street at Midland, apparently to board a street car, not knowing that no stop was made at the corner. Returning to the curb, one auto swerved and missed the couple, while Johnson's car, following, struck them. Following interrogation by police, who also took him to the scene of the accident and tested his brakes, he was released.

Funeral services for Miss Sherwood were held Wednesday afternoon from the Westerville U. B. church. Interment will be in Otterbein cemetery by Jerry Spears. Miss Sherwood was secretary to Dr. Howard Hyde Russell, founder of the Anti-Saloon League.

Representatives Of Civic Group At Dayton Trial

Davies, Metzal Praised For Effort and Energy In Fight For City's Cause.

Following completion of testimony before Federal Judge Robert T. Nevin Wednesday of this week, in the case of the City of Columbus vs. the Cincinnati and Lake Erie Traction Co. receivers, briefs will be filed by the opposing sides and a decision will probably be reached by the court sometime after the first of the year, it was thought this week.

Testimony was taken in court at Dayton from Wednesday through Saturday of last week, with the city, led by City Attorney John L. Davies, loosing a powerhouse of effort and energy in an attempt to win the case. Besides the city attorney, those attending sessions of the court included his assistant, Don Wiper; City Engineer Paul Metzal and his assistant, Walter Starr, and a number of representatives of the Southwest League, all of whom gave testimony.

Those from the Hilltop who attended the sessions included Hugh Butler, Harry Butler, Rev. Father Bauschard, Miss Mary Bents, Mrs. Agnes Bents, George Ashcraft, Mrs. George Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Donley, W. S. Barnett and Charles Dolder.

According to information received by the Record, a completion of testimony was to have been made late Wednesday of this week in Columbus, after which Judge Nevin will go over the tracks with company officials.

Just as soon as a transcript of the testimony is available, briefs will be submitted by each side, and the decision will be forthcoming soon after. It will require about a month for preparation of the briefs, it was thought.

Davies, Metzal Praised For Work

The work of City Attorney John L. Davies and City Engineer Paul Metzal, and that of their assistants, Don Wiper and Walter Starr, respectively, representatives of the Hilltop at the Dayton hearing last week, received high praise from representatives of the Southwest League this week.

"They have made and are making every effort to win for the city, and consequently the Hilltop," one member said. "We didn't know they were for us so much out here. Their energy and effort deserves much praise. If the city loses, it will not be their fault."

"Low-Brows" Read "High-Brow" Literature

Hilltop Best Read Community In City, But . . .

Among the world's lowest creatures, the Hilltop has a few, it was learned this week by a Record reporter. Out at the Hilltop Library they are taking precautionary measures to prevent the loss of books—alas—the loss of books by actual theft.

It is more or less useless to shame such people. It is a shame that they are present in the community, but it is safe to say that their activities will be seriously handicapped from now on at the local library. Books will be issued at one exit from now on, and another very effective way of stopping such work will be in vogue, which we refrain from mentioning.

Strange as it may seem, it's not from the larger number of children that these people are from—but from the so-called intelligensia—if the type of books taken can be indicative of intelligence.

Durant's "History of Philosophy," Van Loon's "Geography," and Stevenson's "Home Book of Verse"—costing 15 dollars, are among those taken, as well as a number of others, frequently used in college courses.

Fiction, likewise, is popular among the "low-brows," Galsworthy's "Forsyte Saga" and many others having been taken from the shelves without having been checked out.

Miss Jane Williams, local librarian, reports that the Hilltop is head and shoulders above other Columbus communities insofar as reading is concerned, the October report from the main library indicating that 1000 services more than any other branch were rendered during the month.

"An exceptionally well-read community" is her verdict. "An enormous amount of non-fiction works are being read, daily in Hilltop homes and in the reading room at the library," Miss Williams said Wednesday. "And something must be done to protect the privileges and interests of these people."

On the shelves at the Hilltop branch at the present time are 6982 volumes, not including many magazines and periodicals. The total membership is 8648.

Volumes Are Being Taken From the Library Shelves.

During the past week, librarians have been rushed by school children who are doing extra reading in observance of "Book Week." The library rooms are decorated artistically and appropriately for the occasion.

Miss Williams is assisted by Mrs. Nannie Currier, Miss Thelma Hammerstein and Miss Emma Jean Hastings.

YOUTH CAN STILL DO "BIG THINGS"

Ambitious youth seeking to find their places early in life in a maladjusted world will find encouragement if they will take a look into the pages of history. E. H. DeGroot, California Boy Scout executive, in the Rotarian Magazine tells of a few of the young men and women who have "done big things."

"William Pitt," Mr. DeGroot cites as his first example, "filled the responsible post of Chancellor of the Exchequer at 23 and served as Prime Minister of Great Britain at 24. George Washington was only 23 when he led the Virginia troops against the Indians and French. Abraham Lincoln campaigned for public office at 24. Robert Louis Stevenson wrote 'Treasure Island' at 24. Galois at 19 proved that equations higher than the fifth order could not be solved algebraically, and thereby advanced the theory of groups for the solution of higher equations.

"Westinghouse," he continues, "invented the air brake at 28. Alexander the Great conquered and ruled the world before he was 30. Sir Isaac Newton at 24 formulated the law of gravitation. Whitney was not more than 29 when he invented the cotton gin. Charles Dickens wrote 'Oliver Twist' at 25. Napoleon at 27 was in command of the Italian army. Patrick Henry was but 27 when he made his conquering and historic speech against the Stamp Act. Thomas Edison was not far above the Youth Service age level designated by Rotary (24 years), when he astounded and benefited mankind with many of his inventions.

"Paul Siple, an Eagle Scout, was only 20 when he qualified for an important post on the first expedition of Admiral Byrd to the Antarctic regions, and he was chief biologist on the second Byrd Expedition. The average age of the members of America's Continental Congress was 35. Two of its members, at least, were under 30—Edward Rutledge, 25, and John Jay, 29.

"Lindbergh immortalized himself at 25; moreover the best out of 500 poems on the Lindbergh flight across the Atlantic in 1927 was written by Nathalia Crane, a 14-year-old girl of Brooklyn, New York. And so on, almost without end could we record the achievements and services of youth in the fields of statesmanship, literature, science, education, invention, and courage."

The Nature Trail

WINTER DAYS

Winter in our climate, is a long series of gray days, alternately warm and cold, filled with rain and snow and long rays of sunshine that are not fetching of warmth—a dismal, dreary season to most of us.

Yet extremes, in politics or nature, are always provacative of an exciting warmth, and winter in its bitterest chill, resides in the coves and gorges of the hill country.

Here, with the first icey blast, the temperatures remain low, and the deep woodland floors are seldom lighted with sunlight. Colossal columns of curiously carved ice stand in a majestic beauty against the rock-bound cliffs, where in balmier weather crystal-clear water comes trickling down to spray the greenery of ferns and mosses with a million-million shining pearls.

The sun sets a molten globe of crimson over the western rim of the gorge, and myriad icy colors are reflected in the huge icicles—rose and lavender and silver. Then the sun sinks and the gorge is dark and cold and utterly silent, as lonely a place as any I know at any season. Full moonlight on the landscape, and the icy column, a 100 feet in height, becomes a phantom ghost, reigning, as it were, over a wintry realm—immutable, inscrutable, fascinating, the epitome of things silent and cold and hauntingly beautiful.

Superficially, the landscape appears black and bare, with only occasional patches of green where the pines cap the hilltops. But beneath it all on the rocky ledges and slopes, are plants without number, common to the winter rambler.

Rimming the cliff top on north-facing slopes, are colonies of the Virginia polypody, a fern-like plant, and the Christmas fern, both of which remain green throughout the season. In the cracks and crannies of the edges, spleenworts are to be found, and the rock faces now present a conspicuous flora, ignored almost, during summer jaunts afield. The lichens, gray and green and black, show forth in surprising beauty even though one of the earliest botanists described them as "rustici pauperrimi"—the trash of vegetation.

On the lower slopes, especially in the creek and river bottoms, we actually find a flower in bloom, great numbers of them, on the witch-hazel, a shrub. In our region, I think that every month of the year will produce a flowering plant, if the seeking has been arduous enough. My records reveal the common blue violet in bloom in November on a sunny slope near Delaware; Witch-hazel in December at the same location; Skunk cabbage in late January one particularly mild winter in Madison county; and in February, Trailing Arbutus near Jacob's Ladder in Fairfield county. Come March, and the list takes on a number of early beauties, and April, of course, will be well represented.

Cowboys Gridders Close Campaign Without Victory

Drop Hard-Fought Game to Champion Easterners 19 to 6 in Season's Finale Friday.

Closing the 1935 scholastic gridiron season last Friday without a single victory to their credit, West High's football warriors hung up their moleskins and turned their thoughts to the hard-wood court and basketball.

Meeting the champion East High team in the season's final game, the Wiesmen went down before a superior aggregation, 19 to 6.

After the Hilltoppers had jumped off to a 6 to 0 lead in the first quarter, thanks to the splendid play of Ed. Wolfe in blocking a Tiger punt and recovering on the East 17, the Websstermen came back to tie the count before the intermission and sweep on to victory in the second half.

Ditrick and Redman advanced the pigskin following the blocked kick, the former finally lugging the oval over for the only Cowboy marker.

East Retaliates

Noble, stellar East halfback, came back in the second stanza to break through the center of the Scarlet line to gallop 50 yards to knot the count. Another East scoring attempt was thwarted in the same period when Butler's placement from the 20-yard stripe was short.

In the third period, Redman's fumble was recovered by a Tigerman on the West 13. Noble immediately broke loose to score. In the final quarter, a pass from Compton to Butker was completed in the flat zone, the lanky colored boy negotiating the final 38 yards to the goal with a minimum of trouble.

Season Reviewed

Despite the splendid fight put up by West in the final game, the 1935 campaign was a dismal failure and probably the worst since Coach Harold E. Wise came to the Cowboy stronghold seven years ago.

Without a single player of the Dick Francis, of Dibby Deshler, or Charlie Casey type, the local eleven lacked spark. A single spark, you know, can cause a bunch of deadwood to burn brightly. Even good timber, such as that which prevailed at West this year, could not be fired without that all important spark. Where, and from whom it comes, when present, is another question. It seemed absent.

Zanesville was the opening opponent and the game of last 19 to 0. A trip to Steele resulted in a 27 to 8 loss, after a brilliant first half for the losers; North was played in the city league opener, and West was content with a 12 to 12 tie. Coshocton downed the local in what was perhaps their best game, 14 to 7, before South visited the Hilltop to carry back a scoreless tie.

A trip to Middletown brought another 19 to 7 defeat, although the Wiesmen showed well. Then came a new low in West High football, Central beating West 19 to 0 in the annual homecoming battle. Aquinas romped to a 13 to 0 victory to close the home season and the East battle completed the schedule last Friday afternoon.

Roast Chicken Louisiana

Roast a chicken stuffed with golden bantam corn combined with two slightly beaten eggs, a little cream and two green peppers, diced [illegible] with salt and pepper and a dash of onion.

When the chicken is well roasted remove it to a platter and serve with wild rice, candied sweet potatoes and grilled bananas.

Mock Duck

1 pound chopped veal
1 pound chopped pork
1 pound chopped beef
1½ tablespoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons minced onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 cup grated dry bread
1½ teaspoons sage
½ teaspoon marjoram
1 [illegible]
Dash of tabasco
1 cup stock

Have veal, pork and beef put through the meat grinder together. To this add salt, pepper, onion, sage, marjoram, parsley, tabasco and crumbs. Mix well and add slightly beaten egg and stock. Make stock to use for gravy and for basting meat from a piece of veal bone broken in pieces covered with water and cooked slowly for about one hour. When liquid has been well blended with meat pack into a greased pan shaping into an oval loaf. Bake in a moderate oven for three hours basting occasionally with half cup stock to which three tablespoons fat have been added. Serve with mushrom gravy.

Your mushroom gravy is your best bet to go with this dish. Fry chopped onions in fat about three minutes. Add mushrooms chopped fine and cook ten minutes longer. Sprinkle with flour and stir until flour browns. Add veal bone stock and cook until thickened. Season to taste.

Vienna Cake

½ cup flour
½ cup sugar
2 cups scalded milk
1 cup butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 ounce melted chocolate
1 sponge cake

Add combined flour and sugar to milk. Cook over low fire 15 minutes, stirring often. Remove from fire; add butter; stir well. Cool; add vanilla. To ¼ of mixture, add melted chocolate. Chill. Cut sponge cake in three layers. Spread some of vanilla filling on bottom layer, chocolate filling on middle layer, rest of vanilla filling on top layer and sides. Sprinkle entire surface with finely chopped nut brittle.

Mash cream cheese, add dressing; mix until smooth. Put the cream cheese mixture in a pastry gun; force it through a rose tube around pear, covering the the joining and making a rose on top. Tree Belts Will Cost Millions
The Forest Service had a million dollars with which to start work in the spring of 1936 on the tree belt from Canada to Texas. About five million seedlings, costing on the average of 20 cents a tree, will be planted. The complete plans provide for the use of about three and a half billion trees at a cost of 75 million dollars. The purpose in planting these trees is to keep moisture in the soil and thus decrease the danger of drought. It is also claimed that they will slow down wind velocity and thus reduce the erosion of the soil.

Why Stratosphere Is Black
When sunlight enters the atmosphere particles of dust and the molecules of oxygen, nitrogen and other gases scatter the light in all directions. It is this that causes the blue color of the sky. At great elevations there is no dust, therefore the light is not scattered and the general appearance of the stratosphere is black.

the lookout

by John Wolfe

And Governor William Bradford, we are told, proclaimed that a day of thanksgiving be set aside, and sent four men into the forest to shoot wild fowl that the settlers "might, after a more special manner, rejoice together."

The stillness of the first gray dawn of that first Thanksgiving day was shattered by the thunder of cannon from the hilltop, and a sturdy band of Pilgrims, led by Elder Brewster, garbed in his long preacher's coat, and carrying a huge Bible, marched three a-breast to the church, to return thanks to an all-prevailing Providence for a bounteous harvest.

And after the thanksgiving, the little band feasted and sang and rejoiced, and the merry-making penetrated the forest and the Indians came with Massasoit, their leader, and participated in the celebration, giving war-dances and fetching with them also, seven huge haunches of venison. For three days the occasion lasted.

* * * * *

None have ever exhibited greater faith. Here was a band of people, all but broken and destroyed by a gaunt winter of disease and starvation and rude shelter on bleak and desolate shores of a strange land.

Here was a people that looked out on a merciless sea, surging and roaring on rock-bound, ice-covered shores. In the opposite direction stood the virgin wilderness, inhabited by unfriendly Indians and strange animals.

Here was a band of stalwarts existing in cold New England winter, with insufficient food and shelter, with disease rampant, and death taking half their number ere the spring returned. With the indefatigable Miles Standish furnishing courage and much labor, they built rude shelters. They worked, we are told, until "men could no longer stand by reason of faintness."

Yet, when spring came slipping back, and the planting season had come, and then the harvest, Governor Bradford set aside a day that the remainder of the colony might "after a more special manner, rejoice together."

Creed or race cannot mar our admiration of such matchless courage and faith. If the recent years have not been seemingly good to us,—if depression has smitten time after time with merciless affect,—if we have lost all but faith and courage,—we still have reason, it seems to us, to rejoice together, after a more special manner.

West Squad Begins Preparations For Defense Of Title

First Official Rehearsal Held Monday; Opening Game With Lancaster St. Mary's Dec. 6.

Opening preparations for defense of their city cage crown Monday evening with the season's first official rehearsal, West High's Cowboys are looking forward to retaining laurels won last year.

Coach Harold E. Wise, with three of last year's regulars back, namely Redman, Mitchell and Highland, is worried over the center position, left vacant by the lanky lads, Burr and Hoffman. Replacing these two players will be a difficult task.

Approximately three dozen candidates are aspirants for the first string squad at the present time, with several football players yet to report. The initial tilt of the campaign, scheduled for the home floor, will find Lancaster St. Mary's furnishing the opposition. The game will be played Friday evening, Dec. 6.

Local Fans Start For Michigan Game—Via West Jefferson.

Herb Deems, Dr. W. M. Baker, Albert Jordan and Ralph Deems left early last Saturday morning, at five bells, for Ann Arbor, Mich., where they planned to see Ohio State tangle with Michigan.

Talking and chewing the fat, as is the wont of football fans, and these especially, they headed north, via Dublin, etc.

"I tell you," said Herb, "this guy Heekin is a steam roller."

"Well, what about Bouchet," says Doc.

"I dunno," says Albert, "but for actual jakin' that ball and goin' places, give me MacDonald."

"Well, for goin' places, give me my old man," chimed in Ralph. "That sign back there said we are in West Jefferson." And by golly, they were.

However, the quartet arrived in Ann Arbor in time for the game.

Legion Relief Drive Scheduled Thursday

Seek Donations From Residents of Community

Special Call Issued For Food, Clothing, Furniture; Auxiliary, Business Men Help.

Beginning at 8 o'clock Thursday morning, a battalion of legionnaires from Camp Chase Post No. 38 will begin a canvass of the Hilltop for food and clothing with which to aid the community's needy during the winter months.

Fifty crews of legionnaires and Boy Scouts will be assigned to duty by Clarence O. (Bill) Kinnen, 176 S. Harris Ave., who is chairman of the drive this year. The committee assisting Kinnen includes Milton Hain, Guy Myers and William Davies.

It was stressed by officials of the legion last week that goods distributed as a result of the drive actually aids families. There is no duplication of relief. A special committee, cooperating with Hilltop churches, investigates each case and aid goes only to those who have been unable to obtain relief from other sources, but are worthy of help.

Business Men Help

Hilltop business men are cooperating by loaning trucks to carry the equipment from Hilltop homes to Legion headquarters. The Legion Auxiliary is also helping with the work, and will furnish hot coffee and doughnuts to workers throughout the day, as well as sort and classify the donations as they are brought in.

Any type of gift will be accepted by the Legion representatives, according to Chairman Kinnen. Furniture, old clothing, canned foods are especially desired.

Del Howard to Travel, Hunt and Raise Chickens

Hunting in season, travelling as fancy dictates, tending his flower garden, and perhaps, raising chickens on a small tract of land somewhere, are uppermost plans in the mind of Del Howard, just this month retired from service of the Pennsylvania Railroad after 43 consecutive years of labor.

Born in Athens county in 1867, he worked on the farm of his parents until he was 14 years of age, and spent seven more years on a farm in Indiana, coming to Columbus in 1892 and going to work immediately for the Pennsylvania as a brakeman. A year of that, and he was promoted to yard conductor, which position he has since held.

The rugged years have almost met their match in the constitution of the captain, as he is known to many. For he is yet hale and hearty, despite his 68 years, and each hunting season finds him out in the fields, usually with V. E. Wolfe, in quest of game. Five days in a row, from dawn to dusk, they hunted last year. The number was reduced to three this fall, but many other trips kept the average up.

Restless, used to hard work, retirement will not be retirement to Mr. Howard. He'll be gone soon, to some place in Florida, or on a hunting trip down along the Wabash in Indiana, or through the great Northwest, to Yellowstone and on into Alaska—just to see the country.

A fisherman? No. "I'm too nervous," he says. "I can't sit around all day waiting for fish to come along that evening."

But a hunter? Yes. Ever since he was 14 years old, on that Indiana farm,

Cage Teams May Hold Rehearsals

Glenwood Courts Open For Practice Prior To Opening Of Church League Campaign.

New legislation passed at a meeting of church league officials at the city hall last week included the passing of a rule whereby an athlete must attend his church at least 50 per cent of the time during a period of six months. He must have been a member for a period of one year. The former rule stated that a player must attend 50 per cent of the time over nine months.

Another rule change permits the pastor of a church to certify a player at any time, if conditions warrant. The new rulings go into effect immediately.

The annual district meetings of the various church circuits will be held within the next few weeks it was said by recreation department officials.

The annual basketball races will get under way the first of next year. Practice sessions can be arranged for local teams on the Glenwood courts now, Director Seddon announced. Dick Murray is in charge at Glenwood, but practice dates must be arranged through the recreation department.

Although nothing official has been forthcoming, reports say that the Hilltop will support two recreation ball leagues next year, both circuits composed of church teams. One loop will use the in-seam ball, and the other the official out-seam pellot.

Prizes Awarded

George Jones, 243 N. Warren Ave., won the football awarded by Wheatie manufacturers last week. A headgear went to Joseph Baesman, 144 Midland Ave. Several hundred box tops of the cereal were returned by many contestants.

ON BEING THANKFUL

A study of the conditions of life back in 1621 when the Pilgrim Fathers held their first observance of Thanksgiving, suggests but meager reasons for the ardent spirit of gratitude that glowed in the hearts of the first settlers. Their huts were built upon rock lands and before them was the merciless sea, beating upon a stern coast. At their backs was the wilderness, where savages and beasts lurked, an ever-present menace to life.

But the harvest that year had been good. There was an assurance of sufficient food for the long, hard winter, and this certainty of the means of sustaining life was considered by these simple, hardy people, whose material needs were so few, as sufficient cause for public thanksgiving.

What a contrast the present day offers! We have suffered reverses, it is true, but still we enjoy relative comfort and freedom for the specter of starvation.

Our problems during late years have been serious and disheartening. Many have yielded to the influences of despair and desperation but, for the most part, the fires of faith have been kept burning and through hard struggle and faltering steps, we have returned to the upward path of progress.

The future, while not glowing, is nevertheless brighter. The forest is behind us and somewhere, off on the horizon, is an America that conforms more closely to our hopes and ambitions.

MENTAL-SUNSHINE

Imagine, if you can, a cake of ice one and one-half miles square and 92 million miles high. It would reach from the earth to the sun.

Scientists tell us that this gigantic cake of ice would be completely melted in 30 seconds if the full power of the sun could be focused upon it!

Mental-sunshine is powerful, too! The sunshine of faith and confidence will melt the ice of inertia and fear and bring back better times. The sunshine of understanding will melt the ice of suspicion and mistrust and erase from the earth the scourge of war. The sunshine of laughter will chase away the clouds of despair.

Mental-sunshine will cause the flowers of peace, happiness and prosperity to grow upon the earth. Be a creator of mental-sunshine!

A HALF MILLION FOR YOU

In his stimulating book, "Life Begins at Forty," Walter B. Pitkin says that we all come into the world with a certain chance of acquiring a working capital of a round half million. No, not dollars—hours! Those hours will be paid in full if we are skillful enough and lucky enough to stick around until we reach the age of three score years and ten.

Our greatest sin is the measuring of everything in terms of money. We should get off the money-standard in our thinking. The art of living is the art of getting the most out of the minutes that are ours. How to make every minute count for happiness, for growth, for service, for peace and contentment—that is our real objective.

The man who burns himself out piling up wealth and then spends the sunset of his life sitting on the porch of a sanitarium watching the healthy poor go by—has failed. He has failed in his use of time—the minutes that came to him bright and shining right from eternity—just as they come to you and me. In his accumulation of millions of dollars he has sacrificed thousands of hours of happiness. For time, not money, is the stuff that life is made of.

THANKSGIVING

With deep gratitude and praise,
We enter Thy courts today.
Thanking Thee for every blessing—
And for guidance on our way.

For skies that smiled above us—
And for sweet showers of rain
That fell on field and orchard,
Across the hill and plain.

We give Thee thanks for home and food—
For health and friends so true.
Help us to serve Thee better,
And prove our love for You.
—Ethel Titus Worthen.

Del Howard to Travel, Hunt

he's handled a gun and known dogs. He has one of his own, even now, though his use as a bird dog is limited because of multifarious restrictions by conservation commissions.

Your reporter caught the captain leafing through a magazine looking for a place to go trapping for this interview. But when his wanderlust is settled, and his hunting fever low, he wants a piece of land of 10 or 12 acres, where he can raise chickens—just to have something to do. Perhaps he'll raise flowers on that tract of land, too. His collection of roses at his present residence, 136 S. Harris Ave., have been admired each summer by hundreds of Hilltop residents, and next to hunting, that's his main hobby. Some of the rarest roses and dahlias in the land are to be found in his garden.

So, retirement holds no idleness for Del Howard, for he has many plans. Just now he's resting a bit, and showing friends a letter from his superintendent in Indianapolis, which reads in part: "It is indeed gratifying to know that your long and faithful service has won for you an enviable place on the roll of honor, and I hope you will enjoy your vacation for many years to come." Likewise, his many friends on the Hilltop extend best wishes and congratulations.

He has two daughters, Mrs. William Stabbe, Houston, Tex., Mrs. Harry Judy, who with her husband and daughter, Janice, lives with him, and Frank, who is married and lives in Indianapolis.

Having forgotten the past disastrous football season, and remembering a whirlwind finish that copped for them a title in the cage circuit last winter, the Cowboys are seeking to repeat. It may be possible.

Punkah Is Large Fan

The punkah in use in India is a large fan, consisting of thin cotton cloth stretched over an exceedingly light frame of bamboo from 6 to 8 feet high. It is usually attached to the ceiling by cords or ropes and kept in motion by servants for that purpose. In the hot season in India the punkah is almost an essential to living.

HE COMES TO CHURCH

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

AT LAST he came to church today;
Six neighbors carried him that way;
But, when he passed the portals straight,
Another had to swing the gate,
Another open wide the door,
For he could open it no more.
But now at last he came in search
Of something that they have in church.

The preacher spoke a helpful word,
And yet I wonder if he heard.
Or, if he heard, he understood?
His hearing now was not so good.
He was made welcome, for all men
Are always welcome, even then;
And yet he would have been, I know,
As welcome years and years ago.

We all must go to church some day,
But some of us too long delay.
The words of comfort by our bier
We could have come in life to hear.
For here to greet us waits a Friend
At the beginning, not the end.
Religion is for living—aye,
To live by, not alone to die.

Largest Game Preserve

High above the north rim of the Grand canyon in Arizona the United States government has set aside a district of 2,500 square miles, comprising about 1,500,000 acres, as a preserve for deer. Named the Kaibab National forest, it is the largest and most famous preserve of its kind in the world.

Hydrogen and Helium

A hundred cubic feet of hydrogen will lift eight pounds. Helium has 92 per cent of the lifting power of hydrogen. Helium, though less buoyant and much more expensive, is preferred when available because it is non-explosive.

Ancient Monuments Protected

London and the home counties contain some 250 castles, abbeys, and other historic buildings, and relics which have been scheduled as "ancient monuments," and as such must not be removed or interfered with in any way.

The Housewife's Column

Crimcrom Bacon Omelet

Arrange eight strips in two layers overlapping in skillet. Place in moderate oven and bake for 10 minutes. Pour off excess fat. Beat six egg yolks (1 tsp. salt and 3 tbs. water added) until light and lemon-colored, and fold into six egg whites which have been beaten until light. Pour omelet mixture over bacon; cook slowly in oven until dry, delicately browning the top. Fold the omelet; place on platter. Garnish with more bacon, if desired, and lemon shells filled with grape jelly.

Baked Ham

Place a whole or half ham in a roaster. Add two cups water; cover the roaster. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees), allowing about 21 minutes a lb. for a large whole ham; about 25 minutes a lb. for smaller (up to 12 lb.) hams or half hams. When ham is done, remove from oven. Lift off rind. Score surface and dot with cloves; rub with mixture of ½ cup brown sugar and 1 tbs. flour. Brown, uncovered, for 20 minutes in a hot oven (400 degrees).

Banana Salad

6 bananas
1 cup macaroon crumbs (dried)
1 head romaine
½ cup currant jelly
¼ cup vinegar
2 tablespoons salad oil
¼ teaspoon salt

Peel bananas and roll in macaroon crumbs. Arrange bananas on romaine on individual salad plates. Mash jelly, add vinegar, oil, salt and serve on bananas.

Peas Au Boef

3 tablespoons fat
3 tablespoons flour
Few grains pepper
2 cups milk
2 cups peas (cooked or canned)
1 cup dried beef (cut fine)

Heat fat, add flour and pepper; add milk slowly. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Add peas and dried beef. Heat thoroughly.

Sausage Creole

1 onion (chopped)
2 tablespoons fat
½ cup rice
1 No. 2 can or 2½ cups tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
1 pound sausage

Cook onion in fat until brown, add washed rice, tomatoes and salt. Cook slowly, stirring occasionally, until rice is tender. Broil sausage until almost cooked; drain. Put tomato mixture in casserole, arrange sausage on top. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 15 minutes.

Harlequin Cake

¾ cup shortening
1½ cups sugar
3 eggs, separated
2½ cups cake flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
⅝ teaspoon salt
¾ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 squares chocolate, melted

Put shortening, sugar and egg yolks in mixing bowl. Beat light. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk. Beat well. Add vanilla. Fold in egg whites beaten stiff but not dry. Grease two square 8-inch layer-cake pans. Fill one pan with half the batter. Add melted chocolate and two extra tablespoons milk to other half. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) about 40 minutes. Cool. Use light layer as bottom, chocolate as top. Put Snow Icing between layers, also on top. Use Chocolate Icing on sides.

Snow Icing: Beat 2 egg whites and 2 tablespoons water until stiff but not dry. Add ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar, 3½ cups confectioners sugar, using Dover beater. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla. Sprinkle ½ cup nutmeats on top.

Chocolate Icing: 3 squares chocolate (melted), ½ cup milk, 2 egg yolks, 1 cup confectioners sugar, ½ tsp. vanilla, 1 tablespoon shortening, ¼ tsp. salt. Put ingredients in bowl; beat over ice water.

3 slices canned pineapple, halved
1 tablespoon candied lemon peel
¼ cup sugar
2 tablespoons tapioca
⅛ teaspoon salt

Mix sugar, tapioca and salt. Sprinkle over top. Cover with pastry. Crimp edges down firmly. Cut small hole in top to allow steam to escape. Bake 8-10 minutes in hot oven (425 degrees F.) then lower heat to moderate (350 degrees F.). Bake 45 minutes longer.

Caviar Canapes

1 teaspoon onion (chopped)
12 wafer shells
2 tablespoons caviar (red)
1 egg white (hard cooked)

DISHES THAT ARE DIFFERENT

A CREAM puff pastry is very simple to make, but the baking is the test of its perfection.

Bagdad Cream Puffs.

Heat together one cupful of boiling water and one-third cupful of corn oil. When boiling add altogether three-fourths of a cupful of flour mixed with one and one-half tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and one-half teaspoonful of salt, all well sifted together. Stir and mix vigorously until the mixture leaves the sides of the pan. Cool and add one at a time three eggs, beating well after the addition of each; now add one teaspoonful of baking powder and beat well and drop by spoonfuls on a baking sheet, shaping into circular form. Bake from 35 to 45 minutes, depending upon the size of the puff. Cool, cut with a sharp knife near the bottom of the puff, remove any doughy center and fill with the following:

Cut one-half a package of dates and one cupful of marshmallows with the scissors. Dip the scissors into water to keep the mallows from sticking. Chop one-half cupful of nutmeats, add one cupful of cream beaten until stiff, add a pinch of salt and a flavoring of vanilla. This amount will make one dozen large puffs.

Irish Kisses.

To one-half cupful of peanut butter add one-half cupful of dates, three-fourths of a cupful of powdered sugar and two unbeaten egg whites. Mix and beat until they are thoroughly blended. Drop by teaspoonfuls on buttered baking sheet and bake 15 minutes. This makes 15 kisses.

Orange Cream Sehrbet.

Boil one and one-half cupfuls of water with one cupful of sugar five minutes. Cool. Add one-fourth cupful each of orange juice and lemon juice and when frozen to a mush fold in one cupful of cream whipped. Continue freezing.

Everybody knows how to stew cranberries, but try them this way and see if they aren't better: Put two cupfuls of sugar and two cupfuls of water on to cook five minutes, add four cupfuls of cranberries and stand off the flame for five minutes. Then cook five minutes. Keep tightly covered until cool.

QUESTION BOX
By ED WYNN . . .
The Perfect Fool

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I am a girl sixteen years of age. I have just left school to help earn money for my family. I would like to be an elevator operator. Can you please tell me the qualifications necessary to apply for a position to run an elevator?
Sincerely,
UPSON DOWNS.

Answer: To run an elevator you must be a good "story teller."

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I met a man yesterday with two little boys. He said: "These boys are sisters." How could they be?
Sincerely,
CARRIE MEBACK.

Answer: He was right. He meant they were his sister's children.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
There is a chap in my class at college about twenty-two years of age and he has the most peculiar habit I have ever seen. Whenever I look at him he always has something on his nose, for instance, one minute he is juggling a feather on his nose, the next time I look at him he has a book on his nose, at another time he'll be strumming a tune on the bridge of his nose with the tips of his fingers. Can you tell me what in the world his idea is?
AL LOOMNUS.

Answer: He must be one of those fellows who likes to have fun "on his own hook."

Dear Mr. Wynn:
What does a "Union" mean when its men go on strike for more money and shorter hours?
Yours truly,
DELIA GATE.

Answer: That means the men want more money and more time to spend it in.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
When a business concern has a "failure" there are generally two kinds of creditors. Just a plain creditor and a preferred creditor. Can you tell me the difference?
Sincerely,
I. M. STUCK.

Answer: A preferred creditor knows immediately that he gets nothing, while a plain creditor has to wait 60 to 90 days to find it out.

Polar Icecap Is Receding

A Soviet Arctic expert has discovered the polar icecap is receding. He found the ground in the region of Mount Mezen was no longer continually frozen as it had been 40 years ago.

Watchful Waiting

Jud Tunkins says he doesn't know what a "chick" is but he holds the title in respect because there is never any telling when one of 'em will show up with a revolver claimin' to be either a policeman or a gangster.

Since the publication of that Truman story, Curt Wilcox has prepared a list of public enemies. Carl Sherburn is No 1, your correspondent No. 2. . . . It's a good story, if not true, which it may be. It's about the tattered chap who walked into a cigarette manufacturer's office, handing the chief exec. a slip of paper, on which were four words. "I'll take $25,000 for that," he said, "or we'll both forget about it!" The exec. wrote out the check. The words were: "Be happy, go lucky." . . . Margaret Tharp of West Hi '34, who whangs out such mellow music on the xylophone, learned the art from Rags Anderson. . . . Frank Allen would like to be able to sing. . . . Jerry Spears is strutting plenty these days. Cleveland papers are giving Jerry Jr. space for football performances of high calibre at Oberlin. . . . Roger Dolder was in town last week, for a couple days of hunting. . . . The Bob Nowells moved from Belvidere to N. Warren 10 days ago. . . . It's through courtesy of Metzmaier, the florist, that actual roses are sent out from this corner. . . . Ronald Dolder is a junior in the college of law at OSU.

H. C. Shetrone passes us a couple of definitions: "Experience," he says, "is what is left after everything else is gone." And "A bank is a place where you can borrow money if you can prove you don't need it." . . . Llewellyn Trueman says this pillar is getting more sensible. Alas, one of us is crazy. . . . They're calling Russ, the Griffin butcher, "Pinkie" now, since he bumped his head and spilled mercurochrome on his hair. . . . Kitty, the Griffin clerk, went a-hunting tother day—and fell in a mud puddle. . . . It was mentioned here issues and issues ago, but some of you didn't get it. Ray Hill is head of the Chillicothe YMCA. . . . Ancient and windtattered thistle-blossoms to the people who slammed the door in the face of a Boy Scout helping in the legion relief collection Thanxgiving day. . . . But a bouquet of blossoms from this department and Metzmaier's for splendid and unselfish work done by Clarence Kinnen and his gang for Hilltop needy. Place them at the head table at the next Legion meeting, William.

Howard (Lightnin') Doelker had a mustache (or was his lip dirty) 11 days ago. . . . It's old, but chuckle again. "Is there anything dumber than a dumb Irishman," wailed Knute Rockne at a young lad who had gone through a play a dozen times and hadn't done his part rightly once. The lad paused a moment, in deep thought, and said: "Not unless it's a smart Swede." . . . Jerry Spears gave each Hilltop minister a turkey for Thanksgiving day. . . . If D. D. continues his scholastic work at OSU, in the prescribed manner, you'll hear of him next fall. . . . Otherwise, says Francis Schmidt, he'll make a good truck-driver. . . . Word is about the campus that line-coach Ernie Godfrey and frosh mentor Fritz Mackey will be replaced next fall. But Ernie will stay to direct the scholastic destinies of incoming freshmen. . . . Jesse Owens and his bride are Hilltop residents, a report from Wheatland Ave. says. Yep, the Buckeye Bullet. . . . The Robert Joneses have a new piano. . . . There are mushrooms in the county so deadly that a small crumb, if eaten, would be fatal. . . . The Keyhole is the latest West High publication, but it's not official. Curt Graves and some pals of his'n are the editors, I'm told.

Flash: Whitie Looker rolled a 600 in a local bowling loop last week. So that's why local pin smiters are mad at the pin setter-uppers. F. H. The boss put meat on the table when he shot a quartet of bunnies last Fri. with L. Persons, Jim, David Hastings. One got away after five shots were fired.

Installed

E. E. Graham, principal of John Burroughs school, was installed as master of Neoacacia Masonic Lodge, F. & A. M. 590, last week.

Cowboy Cagers Meet Lancaster 5 Tonight

Open Campaign At 8:15 In West High Gymnasium

Opening Lineup Announced By Coach Wise; Locals Working Hard to Defend City Title.

The enormous task of defending the city scholastic basketball crown, copped last year by the West High Cowboys, will lie largely on the shoulders of Curt Graves and Bill Wylie, according to an opinion expressed by Coach Harold E. Wise this week as he sent his proteges through their final week of rehearsal preparatory to opening the season tonight on the local court.

Of the five wearers of gold basketballs returning this fall—Gentile, Redman, Highland, Mitchell and Graves—the aforementioned pair will form the nucleus of the Cowboy attack.

To what extent they shall be able to take care of their responsibilities will be indicated tonight when Lancaster St. Marys comes to the West gym to open the campaign. The game will get under way at 8:15 o'clock, and will be preceded by a preliminary tilt.

The loss of Burr and Hoffman, the former an all-high performer, will hit the locals hard. Wylie, who approaches Burr's height, does not possess the latter's basket eye, and is far more erratic in floor play. Graves, although as rugged as Hoffman, likewise must polish up his floor game and acquire more accuracy in shooting. Should these lads acquire the perfection exhibited by last year's pair, West may be expected to do well in the city race.

Tonight's starting line-up, released by Coach Wise Thursday morning, will find Mitchell and Highland at the guards, Wylie at center and Redman and Curtiss at the forwards. Graves may replace Wylie, however.

Others who are very likely to see action include Ditrick and a quartet of players from last year's reserve squad, including Weigand, Emery, Howison and Preston.

Just Ahead

They turn the bend so quietly,
We do not see them go;
We have no chance to voice a plea
Nor wave; and yet we know
They have but wandered on ahead
Beyond the sunset's flare —
That they will wait inside the Gate
And we will find them there.

Free Show For Local Kiddies

Old Toy Is Price Of Admission At Rivoli Saturday.

In an effort to add to the hundreds of toys already collected and repaired by firemen at engine house No. 17, George Pekras, manager of the Rivoli Theatre, announced this week that a free show would be held on Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock for Hilltop kiddies, with an old toy being the sole price of admission.

A western picture, a comedy and a cartoon are on the program, and every Hilltop lad or lass may see them merely by bringing a toy to the box office. Firemen will collect the admissions and make necessary repairs and re-distribute them on Christmas eve at a gigantic party to be held at the local fire house.

Hundreds of old toys have already been repaired by local fire fighters, who are also taking orders for Christmas. Similar work is being done throughout the city, and on Christmas eve, all who have placed their requests with Santa Claus will be rewarded by Old St. Nick himself.

Paint and necessary supplies are being supplied by dealers throughout the city.

Two units of 10 men each compose the fire-fighting corps on the Hilltop. All but two of the men are Hilltop residents and all are West Siders. Unit No. 1 includes: Capt. F. L. Kidd, C. R. Jones, J. J. Wright, M. F. Mosely, W. E. Reed, Lt. F. L. Luckshaw, L. R. Reece, H. C. Barber, Grover Johnston and A. N. Lanthorn.

Hilltop's Second Traffic Fatality Is Hospital Patient

The second traffic fatality on the Hilltop in the past month was recorded late last Thursday afternoon when Miss Claire Irwin, aged 65, a patient at the State Hospital for the Insane, was killed by an auto at Whitethorne and Broad street.

The auto, driven by Irwin Dyer, 248 S. Grant Ave., struck Miss Irwin as she started across the street. Her body was dragged almost half a block, a witness said. She suffered a fractured skull and other injuries.

She was taken to Mt. Carmel hospital and later transferred back to the state institution where she succumbed.

An only surviving relative, a sister, of Pittsburgh, Pa., had taken Miss Clair out for Thanksgiving dinner earlier in the day. The deceased was formerly a practical nurse and was rather widely known in the community.

John Burroughs Students Hope to Avoid Traffic Mishaps By Practice

Students at the John Burroughs elementary school will not have their number diminished or confined to their homes as a result of traffic mishaps if practice had anything to do with it. A regulation traffic light, like the one in operation in front of the school, has been installed in the school gymnasium. Platforms have been placed in each corner of the room and a natural-sized intersection is developed.

Classes are taken there for 15 minutes each day, where they are drilled in watching the traffic light before crossing a street. According to E. B. Graham, principal, the greatest difficulty is teaching the youngsters to watch the signal light. Looking up diagonally, they frequently see the green signal flash for traffic going the opposite direction. They step into the street, which on an actual thoroughfare, would be dangerous.

The light has been installed by the Columbus police department at the suggestion of Mr. Graham. Daily classes will be held for a month or more, if possible.

In conjunction with the new feature, all of the children have been tested for color-blindness. Four of more than 1000 pupils have been found to be definitely color-blind. Extra work is being done with them, until they are able to distinguish the red from the green by recognizing brilliancy of the light.

Announcement was also made this week by John Burroughs officials of the purchase of raincoats, rain hats and galoshes for members of the Safety Patrol. The new equipment arrived Monday.

Members and substitutes of the patrol, on duty before and after classes and during the noon hour at intersections near the school, are: Tom Beynon, Bruce Durfey, Jack Aiban, Edward Steward, Bob Lemmon, Edwin Peters, Harry Collins, Neal Blake, Billy Farber, Robert Aker, Harry Hopwood, Bob Theda, Charles Fleming, Wayne Brown, Stanley Oyler, Paul Johnson and Richard Huffman.

Miss Stella Schart is in charge of the patrol.

Dr. Thomas to Speak to West Sr.-Jr. P.-T. A.

West Jr.-Sr. P.-T. A. will meet Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium. Dr. James Thomas of Broad Street M. E. church will speak on the subject, "Following Wisdom's Star." Music will be furnished by the Junior High orchestra and by the glee clubs of the senior high school.

The "Spaide" Girl To Be At Seiller's

Beginning Monday, Dec. 9, and continuing through Saturday, Dec. 14, the "Spaide" girl, a representative from the Spaide factory will be at Seiller's, 2404 W. Broad St. To anyone purchasing a Spaide garment she will embroider, free of charge, their initial or any initial on the garment.

Party, Election On Tap for B.-M. Tuesday Night

Dr. J. H. Cratt to Oppose Dr. C. O. Miller for Presidency; Free Turkey Dinner Is Carded.

The Hilltop Business Men's association, meeting for the last time this year, will enjoy a turkey dinner and Christmas party next Tuesday evening, Dec. 10, at the Matsonia. Important business of the evening will be the election of officers.

The dinner, scheduled for 6:30 o'clock, will be free to all members. Plans call for a Christmas tree and gifts for all present.

The nomination committee announced Monday selections of candidates for the various offices on Thursday morning of this week. Dr. J. H. Cratt and Dr. C. O. Miller will oppose each other for the presidency of the organization.

The altar before which the vows were exchanged was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and baskets of varied colored chrysanthemums.

TWO FATAL PHRASES

"What's the use?" and "Why should I?" according to the late Chauncey M. DePew, are the two most fatal phrases in the English language. They mark the dividing line between success and failure for hundreds of thousands of human beings.

"What's the use?" is the philosophy of the chap who throws up the sponge when the battle has just started. He sits down along side of the road when he finds that the sign post has deceived him—instead of lengthening his stride. He is satisfied with "good enough." He has no goals, no visions. He accepts no challenge.

"Why should I?"—is the cry of the work dodger. His aim is to do just enough to "get by." He is a clock watcher who is afraid he will render more service than he is paid to perform. He is too lazy to think; too selfish to put his shoulder to the wheel in a common cause.

How much more vibrant and dynamic are the phrases, "It can be done!" and "You can count on me!" These phrases sparkle with the spirit of success.

THE INSPIRER OF MEN

The wise executive does not work from outside the minds of men driving and forcing them, but from inside their minds stimulating and inspiring them. He knows that an ounce of sincere appreciation is worth a ton of domination.

"Caesar," said Mommsen "took care that victory, which primarily no doubt brings gain to the general, should also be associated with personal hope in the minds of the soldiers."

Words and acts of appreciation have magic power. Compliment a stenographer on the number of letters she has written in a day and she will write more tomorrow. Tell a man he is doing good work and you vitalize and energize him. You inspire him to increased effort.

Every man is basically an egotist. He likes to believe that he is a success—that he is doing something worthwhile. He likes the man who appreciates his efforts.

A famous trainer of horses once said, "You can't train a horse if he doesn't like you." And you can't lead men or run an organization successfully unless your employees like you.

Appreciation is one of the best tools an executive can use.

Starts on Solo Round-World Sail

J. BARTON SCATTERGOOD of Syracuse, N. Y., waving a cheery goodbye, is shown as he started on a projected 44,000 mile world jaunt on his tiny 84-foot auxiliary yacht. He expects to touch at 300 ports throughout the world before returning to Syracuse, two years hence. He will be unaccompanied throughout his journey.

Hilltoppers Are Early Members of Junior Rifle Organization

Boys and girls, between 12 and 18 years of age, who are interested in joining the Franklin County Junior Rifle club are asked to meet with the officers and instructors of the club in the council chamber, City Hall, Front and Broad streets, Columbus, O., Friday night, Dec. 6, at 7:30.

The youths are requested to bring help father or mother with them if they can come so that they too will know what their sons or daughters are learning as a member of this organization.

The youths attending this meeting will get to send their names to Washington, D. C., when they sign the application for a charter for this club.

Charles A. Starrett, 671 Kelton Ave., and "Bud" Maxwell, 649 S. Ogden Ave., are the first and second boy members of the club. "Jacky" Dean, 336 S. Richardson Ave., is the first girl member.

Classes will be formed at this meeting by Clyde L. Miller, instructor of the club, and the first class will begin Monday night, Dec. 9, at the police range, Safety building, Gay and Front streets.

Frank Barker, secretary, urges all boys and girls who have not sent in their application for membership to do so at once or they may find themselves on the waiting list for classes. See your school principal for applications or write direct to the secretary, Franklin County Junior Rifle club, 174 Hutton Pl., Columbus, O.

When "Fitness" Fits

"Survival of the fittest would be a good law," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "if conditions could be always such as to assign fitness to the worthy and honorable."

Why There Are "Pi" Lines

When a linotype operator has set a part of a line, then for some reason wishes to start it, he usually runs down "pi" to fill out the line, and he or the make-up man is supposed to remove it before making up the type into pages. In running down "pi" the operator simply runs his finger straight down the keyboard, which results in any of the following six-letter combinations: etaoin, shrdlu, cmfwyp, vbgkqj, etc. He repeats the combination as many times as necessary to fill out a line.

Do YOU Know—

That on July 25, 1909, Louis Bleriot of France flew across the English channel (from Calais to Dover) a distance of 21 miles in 37 minutes? At that time this was the longest flight ever made and was considered a very remarkable feat.

"Now Is Time To Build," Says FHA Associate Director

Pointing out that the cost of building materials and labor are certain to rise instead of decreasing, Paul Kennedy, associate director of the Columbus District of the Federal Housing Administration, urges that now is the time to build.

"However," said Kennedy, "a boom is not what we want. We want a steady drive that will be sustained through its own power and not blow up as building booms have had a habit of doing in the past."

In spite of the forecast for increased costs for materials and labor, Kennedy sees a paradox in that use of new materials and new technologies will bring a reduction in cost to the home owner.

Basis for the belief that there will be cheaper housing despite increased payment to labor and greater material costs was cited as the plentiful supply of money, hooked up with the great demand for housing units in the face of an impending shortage.

Bankers are coming to see, Kennedy said, that their greatest opportunity is offered by the insured mortgages of the Federal Housing Administration, and housing is the "self-starter" already functioning to bring recovery to the nation.

Why Chickens Get Out Of Way For Automobile

Chickens never have been noted for their intelligence. They are rather short lived and probably no chicken is living today that was here before automobile driving began, but there has been a change in the ways of the poultry permitted to run at large along public highways, observes a writer in the Indianapolis News. Many reasons have been given for chickens crossing roads. One is that chicken does not see directly in front of it, but that its eyes, set in each side of its head, are inopposite directions. This, it is said, has caused many a hen to go to her death because she dashed from one side of a road toward the other just in time to be run down. Chickens now seem to understand what a motor car horn means. Instead of flapping their wings, cackling loudly and trying to cross a road, they move in the direction of safety. They know what to do when a car approaches and the decrease in the number killed on public roads is evidence that chickens have changed.

How Handshaking Originated

In ancient times the right hand was the weapon hand. It was extended empty to signify friendliness and show absence of weapons. This developed into the handshake, the supposition being that while the right (the weapon) hands were clasped, a treacherous blow could not be struck. An interesting exception to this is found in the Bible, Judges 3:15-21, while the handclasp as a covenant of friendship is shown in II Kings 10:15. Both the Greeks and Romans practiced shaking hands.

Plan New Church For Hilltop

Proposed Hilltop Community Church

The above artist's sketch illustrates the proposed Hilltop Community church of which Rev. B. H. Haynie, former Warren Nazarene leader, is founder and pastor.

The church will be constructed through the aid of "dime offerings," more than 50 entering the campaign at last Sunday's meetings. It is hoped that sufficient money can be raised to begin construction activities in the spring. The church will be located in vicinity of the temporary meeting quarters, at 3060 W. Broad St.

The church is interdenominational and will appreciate the cooperation of anyone wishing to aid in the enterprise.

"Now, we will engrave the young lady's name inside the ring, if you like, at no extra cost," said the jeweler, anxious to make a sale.

"Well," said the cautious young man, "if it doesn't cost anything you might just put in 'To my beloved' and let it go at that."

Christmas Cookie Recipes

For those that haven't made their Christmas cookies yet here are some old German recipes that have been used for years. For best results they should be well mixed, especially the Hickory Nut Drops, Springerlies, Pepper Nuts and Pfeffer-Neusse, beating these half hour with electric mixer or one hour by hand. These cookies should be baked in a moderate oven, from 350 to 375 degrees F. except Angel Faces which require slow oven, 275 to 300.

Wandering Jew

1¼ cups sugar
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup butter
2 eggs
2 cups fruit, figs, citron, raisins, nuts well floured

Cream butter and sugar, add spices, eggs well beaten and fruit well floured Add flour enough to roll out as cookies.

Carmel Frosting

Carmel Frosting (For Above)
2 cups brown sugar
½ cup butter
1 cup hot water

Cream butter and sugar, add hot water. Boil until it candies.

Hickory Nut Drops

3 eggs
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 cups sugar
1 cup hickory nuts
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 cups flour

Add a little more flour if necessary as they must be stiff enough to stand when dropped in a pan. Grease the pan a little.

Lebkuchen

1 quart of syrup or honey
1 pound sugar
6 eggs
½ cup butter
½ cup blanched almonds
½ pound citron
1 tablespoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 lemon rind and juice
1 tablespoon soda

Flour enough to roll out; let stand over night then cut out.

Springerlies

3 pounds sugar and 6 eggs, beat one hour
1 teaspoon anise oil
1 teaspoon hartshorn
2 pounds flour

Flour enough to make a soft dough, oil with springerli board or roller, cut and let stand over night.

Peppernuts

Same as above only add 1 teaspoon each kind of spice and 1 cup hickory nuts.

Dutch Almond Cookies

½ cup butter
½ cup lard
½ cup white sugar
½ cup brown sugar
2 eggs
½ cup blanched almonds
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon soda
3 cups flour

Cream sugar and shortening, add eggs and mix. Then add flour, sifted with baking soda and spices. Add nuts. Mold into a loaf in a small pan lined with waxed paper and let stand in a cool place over night. In morning unmold, slice thin and bake in a hot oven. Raisins, chocolate or coconut may be substituted for almonds.

Iron is too hot. If it bounces around a second before evaporating, iron is not enough.

Grease iron very lightly. Don't pour grease on. Spread it thinly with pad or brush.

Pour batter into iron. Let bake until a golden brown.

Prune Frosting

Especially good for spice cake

½ cup prunes (stoned)
1 cup sugar
½ cup water
1 teaspoon vinegar
2 egg whites
Few grains salt
½ teaspoon vanilla or lemon extract
½ cup nuts (chopped)

Steam prunes 5 minutes, remove pits, and chop fine. Cook sugar, water and vinegar to 236 degrees F., or until syrup spins a thread. Pour slowly over stiffly beaten egg whites, beating constantly. Add salt, vanilla, nuts and prunes.

Fresh Oyster Stew

½ cup butter
1 pint oysters
1 quart milk
1½ teaspoons salt
Pepper
1 teaspoon paprika

Melt butter, add rinsed and drained oysters and cook three minutes, or until edges curl. Add the oyster liquor, milk, salt and pepper and bring almost to the boiling point. Sprinkle each serving with paprika.

Six-Spice Cake (1 egg and 1 egg yolk)

2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon mace
½ teaspoon allspice
½ teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon cloves
⅛ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup butter or other shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg and 1 egg yolk, unbeaten
2 tablespoons molasses
¾ cup milk

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and spices. Sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs and egg yolk and beat well. Add molasses and mix thoroughly. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Bake in two greased 8- or 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 25 minutes, or until done.

Christmas Almond Cookies

1 pound butter or oleo
4 cup light brown sugar
1 cup granulated sugar
3 eggs
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspooh cinnamon
4½ cups flour
1 pound almonds

Mix in form of a sausage roll and set in ice box or cold place over night. In morning slice very thin and bake. The roll must be very cold and solid to slice nicely. Will keep for months and be crisp if kept in a closed jar.

Nurnberger

1 cup honey
½ cup brown sugar
1 egg
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ cup chopped citron
½ cup chopped nuts
2¼ cups flour
½ teaspon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon allspice
½ teaspoon nutmeg

Bring the honey to a boil, remove from fire and add brown sugar. Allow to cool thoroughly, then add beaten egg, lemon rind and juice. Sift flour once before measuring. Mix and sift together, flour, soda, cinnamon, cloves, allspice and nutmeg. Stir into honey mixture. Add chopped citron and nuts. Let stand in ice box over night. In the morning roll out to about ¼ inch thickness, shaped into round cakes. Decorate with blanched almonds arranged as the petals of a daisy with a round piece of citron for the center. Bake 15 minutes in a moderately hot oven. The flavor of these improves with standing.

Fruit Cookies

1 cup sour cream
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon salt

½ pound chopped fruit, dates, figs, pineapple, cherries, citron, orange and lemon peel
1½ cups nectar raisins

1941 In Review On The Hilltop - - - - A Brief Sketch

By PAUL WICHTERMAN

New calendar designs already peer down at us from our office walls as we compile this annual report of outstanding happenings on the Hilltop for a year just being brought to a close. The ink will scarcely be dry on these pages ere new events unfold themselves for recording in next year's Hilltop Record files.

The year 1941 may well be looked back upon by many of us as a turning point in our lives. Looking it brought recognition [illegible] places rightfully gained; to some it brought sadness and sorrow; to some it was just another year, uneventful and soon to be forgotten.

As in every city and town in the country the greatest change was accomplished when the United States found herself plunged into another world conflict. All through the year young men form the community had been taking their places in the peacetime mobilization but it remained for the actual outbreak of hostilities to bring the reality of war close home. Fear for the safety of hundreds of Hilltop boys in every branch of the service was immediately felt by loved ones back here at home.

Without attempting to round up at account of every happening during the year we review the following series of events as significant:

January

Bonnie Janet Warsmith acclaimed the winner of the fourth annual Hilltop Stork Derby. George Matson took the oath of office required by all County Commissioners. Robert Draper was unanimously elected president of the School Board. Dr. J. H. [illegible] outstanding Hilltop churchman, succumbed following a heart attack. Four Hilltop Scout Troops were awarded the Governor's Citation of Merit for outstanding work. Eleven Hilltop youth were inducted into service. F. E. Robertson was reelected president of the GOP Club. Local Legionnaires registered for national defense duty on Feb. 22. Fred Sulzberger was appointed to the Civil Service Commission. Hilltop chimes [illegible] more than $1000 in [illegible] money to the Central Ohio Ed[illegible]dition of Memorial Hall.

E. opened new lodge quarters at 2354 W. Broad-st. Gene Hays was named to head a new Eleventh Ward Democratic Club. Draft boards inducted 35 more Hilltoppers. James Manus, 11, was killed when his bicycle was struck at the foot of Asylum Hill. The Hilltop Record asked for better fire protection for a growing community. Fire gutted the residence of Marvin Brodie, 424 S. Warren-av. Roy Bowen, West dramatics teacher, was inducted into service.

The twelfth annual Minstrel played to near capacity houses each of three nights at West High Auditorium. Double funeral services were held for Mr. and Mrs. David H. Varner, who died within two hours of each other. Donald H. Latham, 53, was killed in an auto accident near Kenton. Thirty West athletes received letters. An ambulance was dispatched all the way to Tampa, Fla., to birng back Charles Butler suffering from a heart attack.

Many Prizes Await 1942's First Arrival

The Big Job To Be Done In 1942

In the minds of every individual all over the country today there is perhaps one idea uppermost as far as 1942 is concerned. There is an unanimous opinion that our first and most important job of the new year will be to win the war and get it over with just as quickly as possible.

While there is a general feeling that the job may not be completed in '42 but it may take a little longer, there is likewise the genuine feeling that this will be the year we get in those mighty jabs that will cause the actual decline and fall of the axis.

And in view of how this is to be done there is likewise a feeling on the part of practically all patriotic individuals that we are willing to make many sacrifices.

Already we see these sacrifices facing us. For long now many auto owners will be unable to operate their cars because of a shortage of tires. There may be further restrictions on auto necessities such as oil, gas and batteries.

Numerous businesses are already feeling the effects of restrictions.

But as we enter a new year unlike any we have entered before I have a sincere feeling that the thing that has made this country great will continue to make it great and the American people will find new work to do, new outlets for their energies and there will be "business as usual."

It stands to reason that business people cannot and will not just sit back and allow their business to decay. A few more weeks will find them more firmly determined to do something about the situation that faces them.

And this is the spirit that will win the war!

Your Newspapers Will Aid The Red Cross

A simple little thing like your old newspapers and magazines can be of material help to the country today in the winning of the war. In the first place the country needs more waste paper. In the second place the proceeds from the sale of such paper when turned in to the Red Cross will be making possible a furtherance of the fine work of this humanitarian organization that so badly needs your support today.

In this connection The Record offers its services in assisting.

If you have old newspapers or old magazines you wish to donate to the Red Cross just call Ra. 1125 and leave your name and address and they will be picked up at your home. Or if you care to bring them to the office that will be even better.

It is requested that magazines and newspapers be carefully separated and substantially tied so they may be easily handled. All proceeds from such sales will go directly to the Red Cross.

Who'll be the first to come through? Your response will be appreciated. It will be patriotic!

Reported two weeks ago as "unaccounted for" by the Navy Department following the outbreak of hostilities at Pearl Harbor, Ray Smith, 18, is now known to be "alive and well." A wire bearing the first news that he was located was received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Smith, 870 S. Wayne-av, on Christmas eve.

A letter received by Mrs. Smith Monday of this week assured the family that he was all right. Bearing a postmark that read U. S. Navy, the letter had been passed upon by censors and bore few details of his whereabouts. The letter was written on Dec. 21. It stated that he had mailed a post card a few days earlier. (This card had not reached the family this week.)

Hilltop Defense Boys' Club To Organize Friday Night

Three Hilltop boys determined to have some part in the defense of their country were instructed from Washington to organize a Hilltop Defense Boys' Club. Purpose of the organization will be to collect old paper, tinfoil, etc., to be turned over to the government for National Defense.

Robbin Adair, 11, 39 Whitethorne-av, 6-B pupil at Highland School. Ralph Elkins, 13, 114 Whitethorne-av, 7-A student at West Junior High; and Carl Dicesare, 15, 153 Whitethorne-av, 7-A student at West Junior, addressed a letter to President Roosevelt on Dec. 8, the day the United States declared war. They asked to be informed in what way they could best serve their country at this time.

The reply they received, while not written by President Roosevelt himself, is as richly prized as anything could be to a boy. The letter addressed to "Mr Ralph Elkins" reads in part:

Dear Ralph:

President Roosevelt has referred your letter to me and I want to thank you for your splendid desire to help defend our country in this crisis.

However, fighting is not the only necessary activity and those of us who are old enough to be soldiers in the army can be soldiers to promote defense right in our own communities. After all, what we do at home is very important in making it possible for the armed forces to fight.

You can help your community defense program by collecting waste materials, such as paper and tinfoil. It is especially important that all young people keep themselves healthy, and to do this, we must know what we should eat, we should organize more outdoor games and so forth.

These are only a few sug-

Red Cross Drive To Begin Here Thursday

North Is Buck Foe January 9

By Harold Mers

The West Cowboy cagers are taking advantage of the holiday [illegible] before the [illegible] city league play with two practice sessions each day this week, excepting New Year's Day.

Williams' Westerners will meet the strong North Polar Bears on the local floor next Friday, Jan. 9, and it will probably be a growling-mad Maroon outfit anxious to avenge their loss of the last game of the season and a part of the 1941 championship at the hands of the rampaging Cowboys. North has lost one game, to Springfield, who also trimmed the Bucks 28 to 17.

Bucks Are Green

However, the starters for West will all be strangers to the Bears as West has only one lettterman back from the twelve of last year and it is doubtful if he will start since his offensive play has improved too slowly.

Richards and Hoover will probably begin the game at forward positions, and Dale Young, who ranks in the first ten scorers in the city loop, will start at guard. Goodman or Ours will take the other guard post while Underman, Meloeny, Wisdom and H. Stewart are still battling for the center position.

Although the main defect in the Buck's-eye-view is the lack of experience, the silver lining shows that none of the Cowboys' squad are mid-year graduates and all will be able to play all season.

Cowboys' January Schedule

After meeting the North Maroons at West, Jan. 9, the Cowboys will go to Central Friday, Jan. 16, and to South Tuesday, Jan. 20. The Irish of Aquinas will invade the Westerners' gym Friday, Jan. 23, and on the following Wednesday, Jan. 28, the locals will trek to East for the final game of the first round of league play.

Mrs. Floyd F. Green To Head Relief Drive in Hilltop Area

A drive of unusual intensity will be launched on the Hilltop starting next Thursday, Jan. 8, and continuing through Jan. 12, when the combined Red Cross Roll Call and War Relief Fund gets under way under the direction of Mrs. Floyd F. Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, wife of the mayor of Columbus.

The quota for the Hilltop has been set at $1,600.

Mrs. Green, who will serve as colonel for the Hilltop area will be assisted by Mrs. Paul Benton, 85 S. Westgate-av, Mrs. Leonard Winston, 241 N. Harris-av, and a group of 10 Hilltop women. The canvass is expected to be the most thorough ever undertaken to insure victory in this drive to raise $315,000 in Franklin County.

Workers are stressing the need for at least $1 from every home. This would more than take care of the amount needed. Residents were asked to lend their very best cooperation to speed the drive inasmuch as only five days are allotted for the work.

The additional fact that this will be the only Red Cross [illegible] conducted this year is hoped will serve to make those approached as liberal as possible. The usual Roll Call quota will be taken out first and all other money collected will apply on the War Relief Fund now badly in need of funds to carry out emergency work.

Stations to Be Open

Three stations where contributions may be left at any time were set up on the Hilltop this week are Seiller's, 2404 W. Broad-st; Kent's Modern Market, 2787 Sullivant-av, and William E. Jones, realtor, 2765 W. Broad-st.

The area canvassed will be that covered regularly by the Hilltop Record, Central-av is the dividing line to the east and the city limits on the west. The village of Valleyview will be included in the drive and workers from that section will aid in the work.

— Letters — To the Editor

Dear Sirs,

I understand that you occasionally publish letters from boys in the service—especially those from far off places. With this in mind I write what I have to say, hoping it will be printable and of interest to Hilltoppers.

This comes from one who considers the Hilltop his home—and though the scenery here is beautiful and the atmosphere exciting, he wishes that there was no war to keep people from being where they would like to be this holiday season. For myself, and there are many other boys in the same boat, there will be no Christmas or New Year this year—for these occasions are wonderful only in that they are times of family reunion, good food, mistletoe, friends, egg nogs, and everything that goes to make a wonderful time. For about two weeks it is a time during which one has no enemies and knows no strangers.

For that reason and many others we will have no Christmas this year. For here our whole training preparation and everyday work is to deal in the art of war as effectively as possible. Naturally much of what I could say about the steps being taken are not for publication—but I can say that the entire west coast is on the alert. All strategic points are being closely guarded. All big cities are experiencing practice blackouts and the atmosphere is reminiscent of the description of wartime English cities.

Gas masks are carried by most soldiers and many civilians. The people do not talk much of war—they are facing it.

Soldiers and officer personnel are arriving daily. Some of them are no doubt preparing to embark for Pacific action. Others are supplementing and bolstering what already seems an impregnable defense system.

But we have a vivid recollection of another "impregnable defense" and are grimly guarding against a recurrence.

Altogether it is a very exciting place to be, and there is a strange contrast between the beautiful snow capped mountains, the lovely forests, the waterfalls and the very obvious militant atmosphere.

Tacoma is a very hospitable city. There are many theatres (very popular) and many small cafes and restaurants. It is very reminiscent of the Canadian cities. The weather is similar to that of London—damp and very foggy.

The air has a very faint odor of fish. No doubt this is somewhat due to the thriving industry of the northwest coast—but then again it is probably partially due to the contamination of the Japanese current, a geographical phenomenon and a temporary simile.

But this is all foreign to the Hilltop—and I for one would not trade one square foot of the pavement between the hospital and the viaduct for all the magnificence I have seen here. And when things let up, even temporarily, I shall be only too glad to get home again.

You may edit, alter or supplement this as you see fit—it simply represents what has met the eye during my first few days, and no doubt there are many grammatical phenomena which are in obvious need of alteration. Just like other Hilltop boys in current service for Uncle Sam, I appreciate hearing from my friends. I will gladly answer any allowable questions and all correspondence from Coumbus' "Golden West."

Sincerely,
Bob Ferguson

A PRAYER FOR THE YEAR

Jesus gave these words, "The first shall be last, and the last shall be first," also "One jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, until all is fulfilled."

Alas, dear Heavenly Father, jot and tittle are measures of man's knowledge of Thee! yet in prophecy we are told, "The earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord as the waters cover the sea."

At the beginning, Thy Voice brought order out of chaos, dispelled the darkness, and in a likeunto-way the World needs to be righted.

The first record of war tells us that the kings fell in slimepits, and I confess besmearing words are some of the weapons used in our own elections. Skillful with such weapons are we, and it is another one of our many sins. Dear Lord, forgive, open our eyes.

In the battle with Sisera, the stars in their courses fought against him. And we know, Heavenly Father, Thou art on the throne, the cold of winter, hailstones, darkness, blindness, and all things are at Thy command.

We must not seek vengeance, for vengeance belongs to God. But I pray that as Jael drove a material nail through the head of Sisera, that some Truths of Thine shall enter the brains, and hearts of all the leaders in this world upheaval, and that all shall see Thy glory in the coming of Peace, in a searching of hearts, in praise, and in glory given to our Maker and Redeemer.

Create in me. Thy humble servant, a clean ... Amen.

The late Giulio Gatti-Casazza at an exhibition of Napoleana told a story: "At Fontainbleau one day," he said, "Napoleon was bored by a nobleman who kept bragging about his ancestry. The nobleman bragged on and on, and finally it became intolerable to Napoleon. "Monsieur," he interrupted, "since you are so great an admirer of ancetsors look at me. I am an ancestor."

America, Music Center of World

Not much of great music or art is left in Europe today.

Chaos and mass slaughter have driven out nearly all of that which is beautiful to a refuse within the historically hospitable shores of the United States.

America has become the depository of much of the world's music and artistry, in the words of Charles O'Connell, noted orchestral conductor and Musical Director of RCA Victor.

"There is but one thing that one can be thankful for when thinking of the present war," Mr. O'Connell commented. "That is the arrival of such great musicians as Toscanini, Bruno Walter, George Szell, Hindemith, Schonberg, Lotte Lehman, Emanuel Feuermann, and scores of others who cannot, or will not, return to Europe. True, many of our talented visitors were here before the war broke out, and are not refugees, but all have found large audiences and ready appreciation here. In fact, a few have taken out citizenship papers."

Broad indeed is America's musical horizon today, as compared to that of 1900, according to Mr. O'Connell. Then the artists and composers were largely European, while today there is as well a splendid variety of American musicians. Radio has made tremendous strides in musically educating the American people, while RCA Victor has pioneered in recording the works of American composers, thus helping to make America aware of her own music's mighty scope. Classical records are experiencing a boom hitherto undreamed of, and today no country on earth is as "record-conscious."

"In order to thoroughly convey an adequate picture of American music, I cannot fail to touch upon two important factors, our patriotic music, and our folk music," Mr. O'Connell said, "Everywhere one hears Sousa's marches, and recently patriotic cantatas such as Latouche-Robinson's 'Ballad for Americans' and Kleinsinger's 'I Hear America Singing', have become a vital part of our national music."

CONCAVE PILLOW

If you like to read in bed and find that you spend a good bit of your reading time rearranging pillows so that your neck doesn't feel tied in konts, then you don't know about the new concave, bone-shaped pillow designed especially for readers-in-bed. The pillow coverings are of rayon satin in rich dubonnet, dusty rose, green or blue, and you can buy washable cotton slipcovers bound in ricrac to keep the satin from becoming soiled. Both slipcovers and pillows are in the inexpensive class.

DEVICE SPLITS SECONDS

Split seconds that are ages to a bullet or a camera shutter, are measured as easily as a wristwatch measures the time of day by a new device called a chronoscope. The device, built into a portable cabinet, splits the second 1000 ways and will measure from one up to 200 of these milliseconds with les sthan 1 per cent error. Given an electrical impulse at beginning and end of an event, it can be clocked.

HILL TOPICS —By P.W.—

WOOING BY WIRE

Distance never has been able to thwart the course of true love, an old adage tells us but it has its disadvantages. Take the case at hand for instance.

When the national emergency put Pacific Coast posts on the alert Carl Holland, 82 N. Warren-av, found his Christmas leave cancelled. This called for some quick thinking for Carl had an important mission to perform on that anticipated trip back home. So to Jane Anderson, the object of his "one-a-day" correspondence, some quick plans were drawn up.

The ring was sent to the Anderson home and on Christmas Eve a long distance call from Seattle explained the very obvious purpose for the sparkler. With the aid of Miss Anderson's mother, who was instructed at just what moment to slip the ring on her finger, the engagement was effected and although the conversation lasted for 10 minutes little of the time was required for persuasive purposes. At any rate a beautiful diamond is now conspicuous on the "third finger of the left hand."

It Happens Here

These two incidents reflecting decidedly different points of view were reported to this department and witnessed by this writer. It is so much in contrast we believe it is worthy of thought.

Two young men (probably not Hilltop youth) waited for a bus at the corner of Ogden and Sullivant near midnight one night this week. Apparently for lack of something better to do they tore down Christmas decorations from a utility pole there and proceeded to trample them in the street and otherwise deface them. Crossing the street, they repeated the performance to other decorations. Still not satisfied, they went up to Warren and Sullivant and engaged in more of their destructive work. Fortunately for the men the person who witnessed the escapade did not have a telephone and was unable to summon police.

Tuesday morning of this week two boys (probably not more than 14 years of age) rode down S Terrace-st. Seeing some ugly pieces of a broken bottle in the middle of the street one of them dismounted and carefully picked up the jagged pieces of glass and carried them to a container in the alley nearby. The glass could easily have ruined one or more automobile tires, however, the boys were not driving cars and could easily have passed by without taking the time to save someone else a big tire bill.

Yes, fortunately there are some thoughtful young people, too.

We're Told

Bill Gibbon was home from Miami College over the holidays . . . Dixie Margaret More, from Antioch . . . Sgts. Dave Shiflet and John Eckard were visiting friends and relatives for several days . . . Pvt. Joe Mechem was home from Camp Lee for three days . . . Charles White, recent Ohio Wesleyan student, will be in the army shortly . . . Harry Thomas set many feminine hearts aflutter when he visited West in his uniform depicting the colors of Columbia Military Academy . . . Mrs. Walter Davis was "fit to be tied" when she paid 2c postage due on a Christmas greeting only to find it didn't even have a name on the inside.

Dear Santa:

There are times when anything you do is wrong, i. e.

Two days before Christmas, feeling in a charitable mood, we volunteered (after several days coaxing) to scrub the front porch for the Missus. Feeling quite proud of our accomplishment we returned home that evening to find Henry Bauch, whose domicile is located directly across the street, performing the same menial chore.

"The next time you go out there and set a bad example for my wife to see I'm coming over there after you," was one of the several threats that greeted our ears.

MINTS BUSY IN 1940

Uncle Sam's three mints at Philadelphia, Denver and San Francisco set a new record in the number of coins minted last year, 1,209,478,982. They represented a face value of $50,157,850.32. Previous high record of coinage was made in 1919 when 738,742,000 pieces were turned out. Last year's coins minted were 781,155,872 pennies, 259,729,138 nickels, 108,119,827 dimes, 46,756,846 quarters and 13,717,279 half dollars. Not a single dollar was coined in 1940, in fact no "hard dollars" have been turned out for several years.

Highland Center Has Xmas Party

The first annual Christmas party of the Highland Center was a very successful one. Over 70 persons attended. The program was rendered by the Highland Center Play School. Carols were sung by all present. Santa Claus climaxed the party by giving presents to the Play School children and candy canes to everyone. This party was made possible by the contributions of the Tuxedo Club and Silent Builders Club. Assisting with the party plans were Mrs. Ella Robinson, Mrs. J. K. Smith, Thomas Burbanks and Mr. Stevens.

Join the American Red Cross Today!

It is needless to point out the emergencies of war to anyone, but perhaps some of us do not realize that the element of time calls for IMMEDIATE action.

Most people are familiar with the very necessary program carried on by the Red Cross in soldier camps and at the points of action in World War I. In this war the threats to our very homes and communities have resulted in the government assigning a much greater responsibility to the Red Cross.

In addition to the work with armed forces, the Red Cross must train civilians to replace doctors and nurses called into the service. They will be responsible not only for much local public health but also the emergencies which may arise. This involves first aid, firo wardens, and looking after families who are without food and shelter as a result of war's ravages. The Red Cross is pledged to see that no family of a soldier or sailor is in want of necessities.

Franklin County has been assigned a minimum quota for its Red Cross War Fund of $315,000. While people likely will give willingly, it takes a large organization to handle raising of the money which is needed NOW. Representatives of the Red Cross are appearing before organizations asking the members to volunteer their help and are making a house-to-house canvass for contributions.

Not all of us can shoot the Japs but we can do our part in offering our services in this call of our country and our community.

Join the American Red Cross today!

New Winter Road Service Offered

Ohio's nationally famous winter road condition reporting service was put into operation for the 1941-42 season Dec. 5.

Groginated two years ago by the Ohio Department of Highways, this road condition reporting service is far in advance of any services offered by any highway department in the country, according to H. G. Sours, director of highways.

Accurate information is gathered from in excess of 100 stations in Ohio, three times daily, and broadcast from the state highway patrol's central broadcasting station. Information stations are the division and county garages of the state highway department. From the outlying points the road condition information is transmitted by phone to four patrol sub broadcasting stations and from them boosted to the central broadcasting station in Columbus where it is assembled into a statewide broadcast, made three times daily. Newspapers and radio stations cooperate by announcing the driving conditions.

Commercial haulers and bus lines can instruct their men of conditions to be avoided. In this manner the flow of commerce is uninterrupted in Ohio and retail and all phases of business avoid cessation as was customary in the path when rumor, inaccurate information and word of mouth reports misguided Ohio's 2,000,000 motor vehicle owners.

Two maps are being published and are available without cost through the Bureau of Public Relations, Ohio Department of Highways, 811 State Office Bldg., Columbus. One of these maps shows the flow of information and gives the location and telephone number of all local information gathering points where information which therefore will be more readily cleared for traffic. A postcard addressed as described will bring either or both of these maps.

Maintenance crews and equipment are stationed at strategic points in every county and have standing orders to go out and clear every condition without waiting instructions from a central office.

may be secured on local conditions. The second map shows which roads are cleared first and

New Production Requirement Plan

The new procedure is designed to help manufacturers obtain needed material for defense production essential for civilian use. This plan replaces the old Defense Supplies Rating Plan under which priority ratings were given to certain producers who found it necessary to schedule production in advance of receiving orders, but it will have much wider application.

How to apply: First, you must obtain copies of form PD-25-A from the Production Requirements Plan Section, Office of Production Management, Washington, D C. Five copies of this form must be filled out and submitted to the above office showing the kind and volume of products you are making, the priority ratings of orders you have filled during the months of July, August and September, 1941, the inventory of materials which you have on hand, as well as the anticipated material requirements for the first quarter of 1942, and other pertinent data. The Plan cannot be used to obtain capital equipment, such equipment must still be obtained by filing application form PD-1.

It is important that you make application for classification under this plan as soon as possible, even though it does not go into effect before January 1, 1942. An applicant granted a rating under the Plan serves the rating on his suppliers by a prescribed endorsement on his purchase orders. Suppliers of the applicant may re-extend the rating to obtain delivery of materials which are to be physically incorporated in the applicant's product.

PEARL HARBOR

Hitler's in fear; Japs grabbed the wrong ear.
An avenging nemesis is on their trail
Retribution is calling; their planes are falling
Like a bleak December hail.
Souls of our dead are floating overhead
Watching over their comrades so brave—
Floating in the air, on the ground, everywhere
Guarding from an untimely grave.

That treacherous crew flew over the blue
With their vaunted jujitsu and skill
Now going back with an empty knacksack
To practice a new drill to kill
Some have gone to sleep in the boundless deep,
Never again to have need for a barber,
The sun and the moon will enrich the lagoon
Before we forget Pearl Harbor.

RED BAFFLING COLOR

Science has just given us a brand-new theory to the effect that red may baffle mind readers. The psychologists say their research indicates that thought transference can be confused by mental images of red things, probably because most people are both stimulated and disturbed by red.

Speaking of Baby's Eating Habits

The varying reactions of young children to solid foods is one of the absorbing topics for discussion taken up by parents these days. One reason is that one can notice a great difference in the attitudes with which the babies accept the new foods. Many handle them easily at the age of three months—but others are better equipped to handle strained foods at four months.

One should not be dismayed if it is discovered that an older child is not adapted yet to taking strained foods while a younger one is already well started. Physicians say the real reason for this variation is not that the more advanced children have had better feeding training or are learning more quickly from this eating experience—but rather that the muscular development and nervous control of their mouths may have progressed more quickly. This, of course, is one reason why the doctor should be the one to say whether a child is ready to have strained foods added to his diet.

However, when a doctor advises the introduction of strained foods, the mother should not be discouraged if she seems to have some difficulty in initiating them at first. Thus it behooves her to not become tense or over-persistent in giving the baby this new food experience. By not pressing the feeding too strenuously—but possibly at first limiting strained food feedings for a week or two—she may in the long run have the child experiencing the advantage of their high nutritive values more quickly.

An important reason for giving the child strained foods is that the vitamins and minerals they supply are necessary for his healthful growth. Iron, especially, is needed by the child at an early age—since his reserve store of this important mineral starts to become depleted shortly after birth and this depletion continues for several months because the milk making up most of his diet is low in iron and copper. At approximately four to five months of age, then, most babies need to have iron in some form added to their diet.

Strained foods provide the iron in a form that is easily taken and digested by the baby. They also supply vitamins A, B, C and G in varying amounts—as well as the other minerals. During babyhood, of course, a larger proportion of the food eaten is used for growth than during any other period in a lifetime—and so it follows that if these nutritious foods are digested easily they should certainly be included in the baby's diet.

Food manufacturers have obtained the help of scientists in perfecting a process for preparing these important strained foods in such a way that a high proportion of the original vitamins and minerals of the fresh foods are retained in the canned product. Briefly, the method is to cook the foods in the absence of air immediately after they are taken from the fields at the height of their perfection. After straining, they are processed under pressure also in the absence of air. The result is canned strained vegetables, fruits, soups and cereals which are unusually well suited to the baby's needs.

You have 14 different kinds of the prepared strained foods from which to select a well balanced diet for your baby. The doctor recommends which should be added to his mealtime schedule first. The initial strained food should be diluted with some of the milk formula or with water to make its consistency similar to that to which the baby is accustomed. A teaspoon of the new food diluted with an equal amount of water or milk is all that he can take at the start. Gradually the amount of strained food may be increased and the liquid be eliminated. Finally the baby will be taking a full 4½-ounce can at each mealtime. The foods should be heated slightly—of course—as they are more appetizing this way.

One can't over-emphasize the fact that the early feeding of strained foods to the baby has the favorable effect of having him already enjoying the flavors of foods which are "good for him" long before he reaches the age when he might develop food dislikes. Thus they help you avoid later food problems.

When sufficient teeth have developed, at about 12 to 18 months of age, the child then graduates to Junior foods—special recipe combinations of fruits, vegetables, cereals and meats prepared with the same care used in canning the strained foods. They have a coarser texture which encourages the child to chew—yet these foods do no harm if they should happen to be swallowed without chewing. Naturally, these foods are also a great help in developing good eating habits in the child while he is very young. Introduce them by mixing first with strained foods of similar flavor.

Fashion Decrees

By Rosellen Callahan
CBS Fashion Editor

The west coast is making a strong bid for fashion leadership. And from the dozens of models recently shown by 14 first rank California designers at the famous desert resort, Palm Springs, we are inclined to believe that there is every chance of their becoming leaders in spectator and active sports wear. And California really goes to town when they stage a fashion preview. Dozens of reporters, cameramen and fashion editors were flown to Palm Springs to attend the showing. And the setting for the style preview was worthy of a Hollywood four-star picture. Remember the silent film star, Charles Farrell? He's now proprietor of the very exclusive and swank Racquet Club where the collection was staged. Charlie arranged a runway around the large pool, had a huge buffet table set up at one end of it, and bright umbrella-ed tables on the lawn. From this vantage point we watched mannequins and their reflections parade around the pool—and cheated a bit every now and then by stealing a look at such famous film stars as William Powell and Franchot Tone.

And radio was well represented too. CBS decided this was such an important style event that it should be covered pictorially right on the spot. We took our touring station wagon, piled in four of our prettiest actresses, photographer Ted Allan, hundreds of film and flashlight bulbs, and hied ourselves down to Palm Springs a day before the show to make sure we'd be able to bring you pictures of the most interesting clothes shown. We chose Julia Bannon of the "Lux Radio Theatre" series to model exotic patio pajamas and midriff playsuits; Linda Johnson, heard on many "Big Town" programs, looked equally pretty in western sports clothes and figure forming swim suits. CBS songstress-actress Martha Mears looked very Latin in a Spanish dancer-inspired play and patio outfit; and songstress Louise Tobin climbed way up on a boulder to show just how much action the new bowling shorts allow. Sharon Douglas had a call from the studio at the last minute to appear on a program, and couldn't make the trip. But she saw our fashion pictures and immediately ordered the patio playsuit we photographed.

Exotic color combinations and cowboy styling were the keynotes struck. We liked especially Marge Riley's shirt and skirt models fashioned after the cowboys' outfits. They were of natural gabardine with bright embroidery on yoke, collar and pockets, studs instead of buttons, and tooled leather belts. There are matching riding breeches too, for dude ranchers. Another style California is stressing are the new long shorts. They are styled two ways—in bright printed silk playsuits with solid color wool jacket, and in gabardine to be worn with gayly printed blouses—for a more feminine feeling.

USE CANNISTERS OF STAPLES

To keep staple groceries that are bought in bulk from spilling out of their cloth or paper bags and messing closet shelves, transfer them to cannisters that can be washed inside and out. The latest cannister sets, made of transparent, colorless plastic material, are not only washable, but make it possible to keep a constant check on the quantity of flour, salt, sugar, etc., on hand without opening the lids.

Vehicles Taxed Century Ago

Evidently there's nothing new under the sun! Persons who believe that taxes on vehicles originated after the advent of the automobile must now consider new evidence that such levies are much older than the horseless carriage. According to the Automobile Club of Southern California a tax receipt more than 120 years old was discovered recently near Birdsboro, Pa., showing that $2 was paid on a year's license on a two-wheel carriage.

Your Invitation To Assist

This is an invitation to men between 20 and 35 to assist in Civilian Defense. Possibly it is a type of civilian defense that has been overlooked.

This is a type of civilian defense that is meant to be last- . . . not just for the duration of the war. But at the same time the program will have a vital part to play in the present emergency.

I have reference to the Boy Scout movement. Men of the above ages are needed to help in this work on the Hilltop and West Side. It is important that they be found . . . men who are interested in boys and are willing to give of their time to the proper preparation and conduct of a program for these boys.

For example: A West Side school has 25 boys who are anxious to become Boy Scouts. These boys need the scouting program. But no one has come forward to accept the responsibility of serving as a sponsor or scoutmaster.

This is an appeal for help. If you are among the many who are asking "what can I do?" this is your opportunity to respond.

Ideal Organization For Home Defense

This week comes an announcement from Lawrence Roach, president of the Eleventh Ward Republican Club, Inc., to the effect that his organization has offered its services to Mayor Green, chairman of Home Defense, for any work he may outline for them. The organization will be completed in a short time.

The way the two political parties are set up in each precinct in the county makes these groups logical ones to turn to for assistance at this time. They are the only groups having definite representation in every section.

A Good Job Of Swearing

Judge Charlton Myers down in Highland County advises that he does the best job of swearing in these parts. And furthermore his swearing is as it should be. Of course I have reference to the taking of an oath on the witness stand. It should be done like this: . . . "Do you solemnly and sincerely swear that this statement is true to the best of your knowledge and belief as you shall answer to God, the searcher of all souls, on the Great Day?"

Your Support of Red Cross Needed

What will happen to the money the Hilltop is giving to the Red Cross War Fund?

It will make it possible for the Red Cross to go with our soldiers into the field, with our bluejackets to outlying naval stations, and with the air force and our marines wherever they may be called.

It will give to our fighting forces peace of mind because their families at home will be cared for.

Civilian relief will be administered from the fund. Never before have civilians suffered so much from direct assault. There is very real danger from sabotage, fire and explosion. Relief to be of any value must be at hand.

It will make it possible for the Red Cross nurse to be at her station everywhere ready to combat disease, the companion that goes hand in hand with war. Epidemics must not strike us down at home.

These and other services in endless variety will be made possible only if the fifty million dollars asked for by the Red Cross is fully subscribed.

Give to the Red Cross.
Give as much as you can.
Give now.

New Civic Group Is Formed

Organization of home-owning residents of Broadview, Westgate and Westgate Park to protect the interests of the area represented, was completed at a meeting held Jan 8, in the Club rooms of the Camp Chase American Legion Post.

A committee headed by Donald F. Smith, 2977 W. Broad-st, was appointed to incorporate the group as a non-profit organization.

The constitution which has been adopted limits membership to families which own and occupy homes within the area bounded by Broad-st, Roys-av, Sullivant-av and Demorest-rd. Membership cost is set at one dollar per year per family.

Objectives are of a general civic nature, particular emphasis being placed on the district to which members are restricted. Activities which are to be undertaken immediately include investigation of all proposed construction to prevent erection of undesirable houses or those which do not meet the legal restrictions; to oppose the establishment of undesirable businesses; to plan and encourage beautification of the community; to investigate zone ordinances and recommend changes where desirable; to promote traffic safety; to suggest improved facilities by the city for child recreation.

Officers elected were Mrs. P. Benton, president, also elected were A. E. Wollerman, Demorest-rd, first vice-president; Clyde D. Moore, 236 Binns-blvd, second vice-president; Sam Orr, 239 Algonquin-av, treasurer, and Mrs. W. H. Kight, 3144 Wicklow-rd, secretary.

Meetings will be held on the first Wednesday of every second month beginning in March. A special social meeting to welcome and entertain new members will be held Wednesday evening, Feb. 4. Previous to that time a membership drive will be in progress.

In order to become a member of this corps one must have, first of all, a private pilot's license, which is necessary before being assigned a flight duty. Wanted especially are trained nurses, clerical workers, and photographers.

The applicant is to have three pictures of himself, one and half by one and half inches. These pictures must be of the head and shoulders and front view. Figure prints will be made. Applications will be sent to Washington for approval from the airport.

Duties of the corps personnel will be to protect defense factories, power lines, transport military personnel and ferry war planes.

All planes used in this work will be privately owned. There will be about 15 or 16 ships in a squadron. Both men and women may apply.

Instructions in various branches of the service will be given by government designated men.

Applications are to be made in the superintendent's office in room 214, Administration building, Port Columbus.

In connection with pilot's licenses and of interest to private operators is the notice of pilot's reinstatement.

Since Dec. 8, it has been necessary for the pilot to be reinstated to prove his loyalty to the United States as a flier.

Red Cross Drive on Hilltop Nets $3,641

With a goal of $1,600 to be raised in the Red Cross drive, women of the Hilltop tackled their job this past week in bitter winter weather and on Wednesday of this week had gone over the top with a total collection of $3,641.59 and more money being reported from day to day.

In an effort to make it possible for further contributions to be received from Hilltoppers, arrangements have been made for donations to be received at the Hilltop Record office, 2465 W. Broad-st. Anyone not contacted may make their contribution at the Record office.

Mrs. Floyd Green, colonel of the local drive and all her aides this week expressed their appreciation for the very hearty response of the community in this drive. They were especially grateful for the fine cooperation of all the workers who did not let the extremely cold weather stop them in their solicitations.

This is the first year Valleyview community has been included in the Hilltop drive and an exceptionally fine response was noted there.

Special expressions of thanks were extended to local theatre owners for their assistance and to Kent's Modern Market, Seiller's and W. E. Jones for their window displays, Jack Thomas for his magic show, local schools and the American Legion for use of the hall.

Suggestion has been made that the Red Cross sticker be displayed in windows for at least the coming month.

West and Central Meet Tonight

By Harold Mers

West's Cowboy cagers will meet the Central Buccaneers on the Riversider's floor this evening to initiate a full week of City League play. The loser of tonight's fracas will repose in the loop cellar, at least until Tuesday, when the Westerners will trek to South to meet the Bulldgs, favored as champions for the third straight year.

Next Friday, the Irish of Aquinas will meet the Bucks on the West floor. The final game of the first round will be played at East, Wednesday, Feb. 28.

Cowboys Lack Height

Playing a spirited game of ball, a lowly-rated West quintet hard pressed a lanky North squad in Friday's city loop opener. The Cowboys were tied at 16-all at the half, but with Butler and Elliot, both over six-feet-three, in the last half, the Maroons pulled away but six points at the end of the game, the final score was 35 to 29.

The defensive play by all of the locals was almost airtight and if the Westerners had the tall players, the score would have undoubtedly been reversed.

Bill Richards, sophomore forward, racked up 15 points to be high scorer for the evening and capture second place in the city scoring race. Hoover scored nine points for the Cowboys.

Burgess Ave. U.B. Church Founded In 1916

The Burgess-av Church of the United Brethren in Christ is located at the corner of Burgess and Sullivant-avs, across from the John Burroughs School. It was organized in July 1916.

Three men were largely responsible for the organization: Dr. J. H. Harris, the late pastor of the Hilltonia United Brethern Church, was at that time Conference superintendent. Associated with him in the project was the late Dr. E. E. Burtner, of Westerville, Ohio (Dr. Burtner's son is the present pastor of the Church). Rev. E. B. White, the first pastor, of course, carried the burden of the actual work of preaching and calling required to get the church established.

It must have taken far-ranging faith and vision to select the location and start the work. Cornfields stretched away to the South of Sullivant-av. North of the church and in the first block on Burgess-av there were all of five houses. Also just north of the church a small stream meandered toward Sullivant-av and crossed it at what is now Terrace-av. In cold weather the water backed up to form a pond that froze over. Here the young people of the Church held skating parties. Sullivant-av itself has been described by one who knew it then as "a little more than a mud ditch." At regular intervals along the car line thoughtful officials had provided wooden platforms for the convenience of the patrons of the line. When the ministers mentioned above were first looking over the present location, they were standing in deep mud in a pouring rain.

The first building was a simple white frame chapel. It stood on what is now the front lawn of the church. Though the beginnings of the church were humble and the prospects of success none too certain, later events showed that it is not size but spirit that counts. There was a spirit of devotion from the start. This is shown by one of the most interesting items in the church records—a list of men who contributed their labor to the new building. Rev. Harris, who had once been a bricklayer, built the chimney with the help of Rev. White. Rev. Harris loved to joke. One of his jokes is worth recording here. "All you have to do," he said to Rev. White, "is get the bricks and mortar to me, and I'll do the work." Giving work to the church has become a tradition at Burgess-av. When in 1940, the interior of the present building was re-decorated the men built in an arch above the choir and did a great deal of painting under the direction of the decorator, and both men and women worked to clean floors and pews and to repaint the basement.

The first services in the chapel were held Aug. 25, 1916. Seventeen members were present. Children outnumbered the adults. The church maintained the first and for a long time the only Sunday School in the neighborhood. It has remained a center for the religious education of hundreds of children and young people.

The church grew rapidly under the leadership of Rev. White. The first revival in 1917 resulted in a splendid increase in membership, 36 being received in one service. It was in Rev. White's pastorate that the present brick structure was built. The corner stone was laid in 1920, and the new church was dedicated in 1921. It is a substantial useful building designed primarily as a Sunday School plant, with a hope that some time a sanctuary can be added to it.

The laying of the corner stone came nearly being a tragedy. Something went wrong with the machinery and the corner stone fell on Rev. Harris' head severely injuring him.

The church has been supported by a succession of faithful laymen. Original trustees were S. McAninch, A. R. Wheeler, John Green, H. O. Cush who is still living, and Ed. Wollam. Mr. Fred Seitz, also a member, drew the plans and contracted to build the present structure. Michael and Earl Riser contributed generously and at critical times to the funds of the church.

—E. E. Burtner, Minister.
R. Coyle, Steward.

In 36 years of its history the church has had only five pastors, one of whom served two pastorates:

Rev. E. B. White, 1916-1923; Rev. W. E. Riebel, 1923-1925 (Now pastor of the Hilltonia U. B. Church); Rev. C. E. Miller, 1925-1931 (The parsonage at 2632 Sullivant-av was built during this pastorate.); Rev. Lilly, 1931-1932; Rev. A. W. Clutch, 1932-1934; Rev. E. B. White, 1934-1938; Rev. E. E. Burtner, 1938 to the present.

The present membership of the church is 429. The Sunday School has an enrollment of 600, and an average attendance of 275. It is well organized and has regular meetings of teachers and officers.

The schedule of services follow:
Sunday School 9:15 a. m.
Morning Worship 10:30 a. m.
Christian Endeavor 6:30 p. m. (Junior, Intermediate and High School groups).
Evening Worship—7:30 p. m.

The church affords many people with varied opportunities for participation in its work. For Adult Women there is an outstanding Sunday School class, an active Missionary Society, an Aid Society subdivided into circles. For girls and young women there are the Otterbein Guild and Girls' Chorus. For men there is a fine men's class with interesting monthly programs; for boys Troop 79 with a fine advancement record. For young people there are active Sunday School classes and Christian Endeavor Societies. A Youth Council composed of representatives from all youth groups in the church sponsors monthly Sunday night programs. The offerings of these occasions go to a fund to send representatives to our Summer Training Camps. Those who like to sing may try out for a place in our choir (or in the Girls' Chorus).

The Burgess-av United Brethren Church seeks now more than ever to serve people; to welcome all who come into its doors; to guide them to know God as a present help, and Christ and his teachings as our only hope.

Teach Ballroom Dancing

A Hilltop couple will continue next week in their second year as instructors for the ballroom dancing classes of the Independent Men's Association at the Ohio State University.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Schubert, who are popularly known as the Veda-Howards.

The couple first started teaching these classes in September, 1940. During the past fall quarter they also became the instructors of the private classes of the Baker Hall men's dormitory, as well as the classes jointly sponsored by three other university men's dormitories, The Towers, Buckeye and Stadium Clubs.

In addition, Mr. Schubert, or Howdy, as he is commonly known, furnishes recorded dance music service around Columbus. At West High School alone he has furnished the music for four class dances in the last three months.

A recent dance at West High School for which Howdy furnished the recorded music marked the tenth anniversary, almost to the day, of his beginning to furnish dance music at the local school. His first job was with his own dance orchestra while he himself was a student at West.

All of the electrical amplifier equipment used was built either by Howdy himself, or another Hilltopper, Floyd Martin, 1970 Sullivant-av.

Married in September, 1941, the Veda-Howards moved into their new home at 264 S. Westgate-av.

MOTHERS' CLUB TO MEET

The Tewahna Mothers Club will meet Jan. 20, at 1:30, with Mrs. S. H. Yost, 656 Hiltonia-av. All former members of the club are invited to be present.

Ann Wants "Real Home"

To the Editor:

Do you suppose there is a family among your readers who would enjoy a little girl in their home?

For confidential reasons we will call our little girl Ann. She is 10-years-old, a friendly, intelligent, alert, responsive youngster. She has curly brown hair and is quite attractive. Ann has no home of her own. Her mother is dead and her father has not been interested in her for a long time. She has been under boarding home care of our agency for the last two years. During this time she has had excellent physical care and good training. She is very much interested in her school work and loves to go to Sunday School.

Ann's only wish now is for a "real home" as she calls it. She wants parents who will take her as their own permanently and where she may feel she really belongs. She responds readily to love and affection.

Our agency offers cooperation in working out such a plan and we will be glad to share some of the responsibilities with the family if they wish.

We hope to find a home for Ann within the next few weeks. Will anyone interested in her call for an appointment to come in and talk the situation over with us? We are sure this child will bring much happiness into any home in real companionship.

The Family and Children's Bureau,
38 S. Sixth-st,
Adams 3197.

Jan. 9, 1942.

Editor:

We appreciate your cooperation and interest in seeing that our Christmas project was a success this year. We would also be grateful if you would write a little notice in your paper, thanking all the people who brought gifts to the Hilltop Record. It was through their cooperation and yours that all our patients were remembered this year.

Sincerely,
(Mrs.) J. F. Bateman,
Columbus State Hospital.

Editor:

Several people recently have called us on the telephone asking why it is that The Salvation Army will not accept waste paper unless they have 100 pounds or more and made up in bundles. In some way or other this thought has got into the minds of quite a few people in Central Ohio and I would like, if possible with your help, to clear up this situation.

We are operating from the above address, 19 trucks, collecting daily waste material of all kinds and we have never to my knowledge or permission refused to pick up the paper from the housewife that was not in bundles or demanded that there must be at least 100 pounds. We are cooperating 100% with the National Defense Program and any money derived from the sale of the material which we collect is used for the upkeep of this home and incidentally this is our only source of income for this particular branch of our work.

If you can put a piece in your paper notifying the public of what I have just written, it would help to clear up any doubts in their mind and undoubtedly help us to get many more pounds of waste material to the mill where it is so much needed.

By calling the following telephones, quick service can be given. Ma. 4611 and Ad. 7688.

Walter S. Cruickshanks.

"SHOVE THEM INTO THE SEA"

The Japs have made one fearful blunder
That Uncle Sam would not make
Concentrated their Army for a little plunder
Around the small island of Wake.
Immediately China congregated her forces
And started an aggress'v way
If we assist China with all our resources
The British can hold Singapore.

When Russia gives us an airplane landing
Our sailing will then be clear
All enemy possessions we'll be commanding
Before the new year is here.
Isolate the Japs at Guam and Wake Island
We are fighting for our liberty
We'll go there later by water and by land
And shove them into the sea.

The Hilltop Record

-In Its 25th Continuous Year Of Community Service

Vol. XXV, No. 50 | The Hilltop, Friday, Jan. 23, 1942 | Total No. 1194

Round About The Hilltop

January Notes: Comes a card from Bill Hill of out Powhatan-av way telling that he and the missus, son Jimmy, and teacher Roma Waymer were spending the holidays at Miami Beach . . and now they are back . . in time to greet our first snow of the season . . . Add to interesting calendars received: the doggy one put out by insurancer John Kuhn. Each monthly sheet contains a Will Rannells dog sketch . . . Dolores Yank Ream, husband former Ohio State footballer Charlie, and baby daughter, Nancy Lee are back at their home in Geneva, N. Y., after spending the holidays with Dec's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Yank.

That New Year's eve hair do of Eileen Griggs was daubed "Dazzle in Daytime." Katherine Cockley, owner of Dot's Beauty Shop, and her sister, Edna, have taken an apartment on Wayne near their shop.

On War and Defense Fronts: Carlton Hartley and dad have just completed a big model airplane and Carlie is all for offering it to help smack the Japs . . . The J. F. Vaughn's son is reported safe in Honolulu and Hilltopper Jim Bercaw now patrols the California coast out of Camp Ord in a cavalry unit . . . Rose Ferguson is doing her bit as a member of the Home Service unit of the Red Cross . . . Bob Day reports those news reel bombings of England reminds him of a golf course after Whitie Looker has made the rounds.

A RED, RED ROSE

Comes a hearty thank you from E. D. Graham and the teachers of John Burroughs for the fine cooperation from Mr. Cleaver of the First National Cleaners at Oakley and Sullivant at Christmas time. He donated a truck and driver to deliver the 26 baskets made up by the students for needy families. . . . One of Gurt Roberts' [illegible] to the gentleman with the compliments of the Record . . . and speaking of John Burroughs. . . One of the teachers offered her students a treat before the holidays and the class voted to donate the money instead, one half to the Red Cross and half to the USO.

Melba In Blackout: Her experiences in a black-out on the Pacific coast were told this week in a letter received from Melba Powell, former Record bookkeeper. With the intention, of Christmas shopping, Melba went gaily off to Hollywood and then came the blackout! Ordered off the street, she found her way through the dark to the Broadway-Hollywood department store where she remained with a horde of others for three solid hours! No light was permitted, not even a match. Came the all-clear and the mob rushed from the store, crowding buses and cars so that midnight passed before Melba at last wended her way home. We'll bet her first New Year's resolution was to attempt to be at home on all further blackouts.

Comes word from Record linotyper Frank Prince that he is in Capestrano, California, and he wonders why any intelligent sparrow would ever leave the place . . . And pressman Don Bailey writes from South Carolina that there is snow down there as he heads still farther south to Florida . . . Harriett Huff reports she took her morning horseback ride even when the temperature tumbled below zero . . . Mary Bentz reports that Florida hotels are offering much reduced rates this season in view of fewer spenders wending their way south . . . Have you ordered your groceries yet? Remember there are but two deliveries daily . . . Denver Painter, erstwhile Hilltopper who went to Florida to live is back in the grocery business on the east side. His mother has returned also.

It Was Just Another Morning---And Then It Became Historical

Hampton Cruise

It was just another morning on duty . . . Dec. 7 . . . [illegible] on the Pacific on Midway Island.

That is, it had been just another morning until about 7 a. m., when he began getting a play by play description of the attack on Pearl Harbor from the Pan American airways radio operator at Honolulu.

This is the answer given to the question "Where were you on Dec. 7, 1941?" by a Hilltop young man, Hampton Cruise, returned this past week from the war zone.

Cruise, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Cruise, 2432 Westwood Dr., remained on Midway until Dec. 27, was transported by boat to Honolulu and on New Years day sailed from that port for San Francisco, arriving in the U. S. last Tuesday. Thursday evening he arrived in Columbus by plane, made immediate arrangements for his marriage to Miss Mary Albaugh on Sunday at Hillcrest Baptist Church, and then on Tuesday was to report for duty again with Pan American's Alaskan division at Seattle, Washington. From here he was transferred to Fairbanks, Alaska.

On that fateful morning he relayed the message of the Pearl Harbor incident to officials on the island and immediately everything was changed to a war basis. Ships at sea were notified and flying boats were called back. Temporary bomb shelters were provided.

He related that he went to bed about 8:30 that evening to be awakened by a loud crash about 9:30. The Japs had arrived and were shelling the island from two sides from their ships. The shelling came alternately for 15 minute shifts from a side and lasted about an hour.

While there may have been casualties on the island civilians had no official word of how many. Some damage was done.

The Wake Island Clipper arrived in time to get a birds eye view of the shelling of Midway and reported seeing a huge fire on the island as far as forty miles out.

In the interim from Dec. 7 to Dec. 27 when civilians were evacuated from Midway there were numerous air raids but no further attempts were made by the Japs to take the island.

These were hectic days though, according to Cruise. The suspense was almost as bad as being attacked. There were days when the populace would have almost welcomed a little action.

Their nights were spent in air raid shelters made by throwing sand over sheets of steel and their only company was that of the Gooney first cousins of the sea gulls that exist in few exceptions, only on Midway.

"The Moaning birds like to dig in the sand," said Cruise. "And after we had dug two feet in the ground it wasn't uncommon at all to have a bird come along and dig another half foot and strike water, thus making our shelter into a bathtub.

From the time of the Dec. 7 raid until he arrived in Pearl Harbor New Years eve he had his clothes off but three times, slept in a bed not once.

About the only comment he could make on Pearl Harbor was that things were generally a "mess" but that the one thing hurt most was the pride of the people of Hawaii who believed such a thing would not happen. Now this feeling has been turned into a determination to get the Jap.

Shortly after the war broke out Cruise met Dick McQueen on the island. He had been stationed there with the marines since July. He was a former guard at the Hilltop swimming pool.

Perhaps the most nerve racking days and nights since Dec. 7 were those spent on the water on the long and slow journey in the convoy home. "The sight of sharks in those waters didn't make a very pleasant invitation to jump overboard in event we had been torpedoed," he said.

"I've seen war in the movies, read about it and talked with those who have been in it," he concluded, "but I never had any idea of what it must be like until I realized that those fellows were shooting to kill us."

Isn't Susie Silly?

Of course, it would be silly to churn your own butter to save a little money—and you wouldn't do it. You appreciate the quality and service by modern creameries and are willing to pay a little more for this convenience. It is just about as inconsistent to work like a horse to drag home a load of groceries on the false theory of saving a few pennies. When you figure the cost of transportation, time involved, and the inconvenience you incur, it really costs you more than our convenient delivery service.

Save for Defense! Save your automobile, our delivery service will help save you time and unnecessary wear on your auto.

Think of the time and effort saved when you just phone our friendly clerk, who will know you by name and know your preferences in brands and quality, who will choose fresh vegetables and meats as you would choose them and deliver your order to your kitchen. Don't let hidden costs cause you unnecessary labor—be as modern in your shopping as your are in your home.

"A FARMER'S VIEWPOINT"

Save election expense for National Defense

Put each man in office for life

Cancel every old debt—without any regret

Moral life with sin is rife.

Issue new money for our bread and honey

Modify our system of taxation

Our financing plan will bankrupt any man

We are living above our station.

By our silly code, honest men tote the load

While the rich and the poor go free

The rich hoard away, and the poor cannot pay

And thus we undermine Democracy.

Some interpret laws, to suit their own cause

Hire lawyers to show small tricks

We'll never be free, on land or the sea

Until we abolish all politics.

The Hilltop Record

In Its 25th Continuous Year Of Community Service

Vol. XXV, No. 51 | The Hilltop, Friday, Jan. 30, 1942 | Total No. 1195

The Spectator
By C. C. Hartley

Over The Top: Statistics reveal some interesting points. For example in the recent Hilltop Red Cross Drive, the Hilltop went over the top by 273.3% and were in first place in the city. The West Side was fourth in the city and 180.7% over the top of the quota set. Nice work we call it!

These Numbers Paid: Comes a story of a Hilltop lady who plays the numbers. No names will be revealed. But friend hubby played an important part in the program. Each day she would call him at the office and tell the number she wanted to play, whereupon he would drop the one cent, two cents or nickle as it might be, in a jar on his desk. Then one day it happened. She hit for $5 and instructed her husband to collect. For a moment he was a little worried. But when the pennies in the jar were counted, over $7 turned up. So far as we know he hasn't told her yet that he never did actually play the numbers for her.

Mispronounced: A contributor sends in this bit regarding mispronounced street names:

For, years the names of our streets in Westgate have been mispronounced. A classic example of this is the varied pronunciations of Palmeto-av. These have ranged from Pimiento-av, which might have been mistaken to have some relationship to Olive-st, to Palmolive-av, which might infer that it is a very clean neighborhood, but a mispronunciation that takes the cake was recently overheard from a small country girl here in town on a visit.

It seems she insisted on calling one of our very beautiful and spacious streets Binns Bullyard, with accent on the bullyard. The street of course was Binns-blvd.

When the knot was tied this past week for Mr. and Mrs. Ed Weaver they were not allowed any time to think about evading a "belling." When they came from the church parsonage they were met with the required number of bells, pots, pans, etc. At this same wedding Fred Perkins, many, many times a best man, served in that capacity again. A local doctor reports a bumper crop of babies delivered so far this month . . . 15. Lee Davis is moving to 30 N. Westmoor-av.

Bits Of This and That: We have it from good authority that Herb Davis is reducing . . . probably with the thought of making another appearance in the minstrel . . . Jack Shank reports he caught fish so fast in Florida there was a hole in the water all the time . . . On the college of education honor roll are Carter G. Sanders, 96 S. Hague-av; Jack D. Adams 5467 W. Broad-st; Annamaye Hull, 222 S. Roys-av, and Frances M. Newlon, 124 N. Burgess-av.

Mr. G. King ran the following ad in The Hilltop Record and sold everything advertised.

3 people called for these after they were sold.

FOR Your Rumpus Room—Fine mounted deer heads and 6 ft. aligator skin $5 each. RA. 0051.

Eight people wanted to buy this refrigerator after it was sold. The first party took the dining room suite and there were four other calls for it. ELEC. Refrigerator Philco Conservadore 1½yrs old. Excellent cond., $75. Dining rm. suite, solid oak, $12.50. Priv. party. RA. 0051.

If you have anything around the house that you are not using, why not place an ad in The Record. Call RA. 1125. "You Can Charge It."

Contest Winner Named

Letters to the right of him . . . letters to the left of him . . . all about him . . . that was the kind of response received by the Contest Editor the first week of the Hilltop Record Misspelled Word Contest.

And winner of first of the weekly awards was Mrs. E. Kelton Martin, 430 S. Westgate-av. The prize was a $5 basket of groceries from the Broad-Warren Market, 2656 W. Broad-st.

This week the contest goes into its second stage with an additional prize being offered by a newcomer to the contest, Mone's Drugs, Whitethorne and Broad who will give away a $5 drug order later in the contest.

Perhaps the big news of the week for those interested in contests is the fact that the prize to go to the person having the nearest solution of the contest this week will be a ton of WeStCo coal from the West Side Lumber Co., W. Broad-st and Big Four R. R.

All details of the contest are printed on page three of the Record today. Turn now and start working on a solution. Then mail your entry addressed to the Contest Editor, care of Hilltop Record, 2465 W. Broad-st, so it will be received not later than noon Tuesday.

Hilltopper Gets Scouting Award

"POP" CAMPBELL

An honor that comes to but few men was bestowed upon a Hilltopper Wednesday evening at the annual meeting of the Central Ohio Area Council of Boy Scouts at the Y.W.C.A.

The Silver Beaver award for 1942 was given Perle A. "Pop" Campbell, 44 Whitethorne-av, in recognition of his many years of service with the Boy Scouts in this section of the city and county.

The award is presented to not more than four men in the entire Central Ohio Area each year. Last year Charles Riggs, another Hilltopper, received the honor.

The citation for Mr. Campbell reads: "Not old, but full of the wisdom of years, 'Pop' has belied the man of 'snow-crown' who says, 'I'm too old, I'll seek my fireside and let life pass by.' Hundreds of Columbus boys would have been denied the adventure of Scouting and its influence in their lives were it not for this man who has worked unceasingly in acquiring churches, schools and clubs with the values of Scouting and their responsibility for making it available to boys'."

He is actively associated in Scouting as chairman of the organization and extension committee of the Southwest District and is chairman of Troop 181 of the Hillcrest Baptist Church.

Cowboys Win Two Games

By Harold Moss

Having finished the first round of City League play, the Bucks are looking upward from their fourth place position to a spot among the leaders.

After dropping three straight league encounters, the Westerners did an about-face and polished off the final two opponents, paced by Jack Underman and Dick Hoover, who scored 29 and 28 points respectively, in the last two games.

West will trek to North for the first game in the second round, Elliott, six-foot-four guard, and Phelps, the Bears' best ball handler, were both lost to the Maroon squad at the mid-year graduation, making the Buck's prospects somewhat brighter.

Bucks Scoring Record

Nearly every one on the West squad hit the net for points in their 63 to 37 rout of the fruit of Aquinas Friday evening. In running up 63 points, the Bucks shattered the City loop scoring record by five points. The former record was held by North since 1939.

Underman, lanky center, dominated the rebounds and racked up 16 points during the game. Hoover scored 13, Richards, 13, and Wisdom got 10.

East Defeated 31 to 25

Although the Cowboys won their Wednesday's game with the East Tigers, they exhibited some of the sloppy ball-handling that lost them three games in the first round.

Hoover and Underman scored all but five of the Bucks points, each getting 13. Usual high-scoring forward, Bill Richards, was held scoreless by East guards.

L. G. Dolder Rites Monday

During the last 15 years Mr. Dolder has been actively engaged as a real estate broker, continuing until his recent illness.

He was a member of the Woodmen of the World; he had been very active in the Townsend movement as vice-president.

He is survived by daughters, Mrs. Oliver Cromwell, Miss Anna Dolder, Mrs. Harry L. Hopwood and Mrs. Roscoe A. Kirkpatrick; sons, William A., Charles G., Norman E., Albert O. and Walter A.; 18 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. Mrs. Dolder died 13 years ago. One son, Monroe, died at the age of 33.

Your Cooperation, Please!

These are times of war effort and conservation of energy and materials. Curtailments are being made all about us.

While other businesses have been forced to ask for the hearty cooperation of the public at this time it is likewise true your community newspaper must have every cooperation in order to continue to be able to serve the greatest number in the best possible ways.

Therefore, effective immediately, we are asking that the following rules be adhered to strictly:

All club, school, church, organization or social news must be MAILED OR DELIVERED in person to The Record office not later than noon Wednesday. We will not guarantee the publication of any items received after this time. We also ask that all copy be plainly written in ink or on typewriter, on one side of paper only.

Costs of publication and newsprint prices have advanced to the extent that we must of necessity refrain from printing any more papers than our regular press run. Therefore we will not add any new homes to our list until such conditions justify a change.

In recent weeks we have had excessive demands for extra copies of The Record. We are glad to provide one free copy to a home each week but any additional copies will be 3c each and should be ordered in advance of publication.

Isn't Susie Silly?
She works like a horse to wash her clothes the old-fashioned way and it probably costs less than with a modern washer—but would you do it? Of course not—you appreciate modern conveniences and are willing to pay for them.
But our delivery service is a labor-saving convenience that you really don't pay for. You may think you save a few pennies here and there, the cash and carry way, but actually you don't when you figure the cost of driving your car or taking the bus or street car, the time required, the inconvenience and lugging packages. Actually you're not ahead at the end of the month. Why not help yourself, save the wear and tear on your automobile and save your tires. We can help you save that much. Also with our Save for Defense Policy you can help us by ordering your groceries early, because we now are offering only two deliveries daily, except on Saturday.
Next time just phone our friendly clerk, who will know you by name, know your likes and dislikes and see that quality groceries are brought to your kitchen. Don't let hidden costs cause you unnecessary burdens. Be as modern in your shopping as you are in your home

"CAPTAIN KELLY"

We have heroes this date, I am glad to relate
Who gave all they had to give
They paid a great price, the supreme sacrifice
That we in comfort might live.
Greatly out-numbered, heavy guns thundered
The enemy treacherous and sneaking
Bravely they battled, while machine guns rattled
About Pearl Harbor I'm speaking.

The flag they defended, within war is ended
They'll stand in the conference hall
The month of December won't have to remember
But not by a careless sentinel
I especially refer, as you likely infer
To Captain Kelly so brave
Like the suicide squad he went to his God
He died his country to save.

Editor:
I sent a copy of this poem to President Roosevelt, and while it is doubtful if he reads it, his secretary, Miss Tully, was kind enough to write men and acknowledge receipt of the poem and thank me for my trouble and consideration in sending the president a copy, and that is more than I expected to get. I suppose the president is much too busy to put in any time reading poetry.
The president spoke so well of Captain Kelly in the papers that it gave me the incentive to write the poem and send him a copy

To Observe World Day Of Prayer

The World Day of Prayer will be observed on the Hilltop Friday, Feb. 20, with services being held at Hoge Memorial Church, 26 S. Eureka-av, at 2 p. m.

The theme for this will be "I Am the Way":

The Way Men Have Lost
The Way Back to God
The Way of Self Surrender
The Way of Peace
The Way of Love
The Way of Light
The Way of Power

Rev. A. J. Wold will read the prayer.

The committee states, "In this period of history, we need to be far more conscious than many of us have been in the past of the world-wide nature of our Day of Prayer. Last February in Korea 17 Christians and missionaries were imprisoned because of the World Day of Prayer. The immediate cause was the Bible verse in our Day of Prayer program, 'Fear not, little flock, it is the Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom.' War gods seem to have fear of prayer and Bible verses. Many are still imprisoned and even now Bishop Ward and several missionaries are being held in a hospital compound for their belief in prayer and the Bible. May we not have more diligence in prayer and with thankful hearts meet for this brief period to pray for peace among all nations."

The four projects will be given as follows: "Migrant Work," Mrs. G. J. MacDonald; "Christian Literature," Mrs. A. R. Coyle; "Union Christian Colleges in United States Government Schools," Mrs. Leonard Echols.

The reader will be Mrs. L. E. Kline and the voice from the congregation will be Mrs. Marguerite Colwell. Mr. Fern Buckingham will be at the organ and Mrs. R. L. Gilliam will direct the music.

The committee includes Mrs. A. R. Fox, Mrs. E. E. Burtner, Mrs. H. W. Langhorst, Mrs. Howard Whitehead, chairman.

Rabbi Tells Students of Experiences In Bombing Raids In London

By Jean Young

"This is the most unpredictable war in all history and most unexpected things are likely to happen," stated Rabbi Raphael Levine in an address before the student body of West High School, Monday.

The Rabbi had been in England for nine years and just returned to America four months ago. He gave his audience a vivid account of the hardships the English people are going through at this time and of their courage.

In September, 1939, when the blitz fell on England the populace expected London to be completely wiped out. They had expected to see planes fly over England ounched together in the thousands with their wings touching one another. Much to the disappointment of the people nothing happened—that is not for a while.

One false air raid alarm followed another. It soon became a war of nerves from expectancy.

It was six weeks after the family of Rabbi Levine left for America and three o'clock in the morning when he heard the screech of the air raid siren. He left his bedroom and went to the basement to await the shower of bombs. In his basement was a bucket of sand for smothering incendiary bombs, a long handled shovel for picking up the dangerous objects and a pick axe. The ceiling was reinforced with heavier timbers to guard against falling debris should the house overhead be hit.

"I don't mind saying that sitting there in the dark I was scared to death," grinned the narrator.

Soon the all clear signal sounded—it was another false alarm.

Nothing happened for the first 10 months of the war and the people were becoming a bit bored, but soon their patience was rewarded with a steady bombardment from Nazi planes which lasted constantly, day and night, for the ensuing 10 months when good weather permitted.

One finds the humor of the English people astounding in such uncertain times. Over craters filled with water one might find a sign reading, "Please, no fishing" or a sign on a stack of canned goods where a store stood the day before with a hand painted sign on it reading, "My shop today is more open than usual."

"In the course of my first meal when I returned to America four months ago I had enough food to feed two Englishmen for a week," the Rabbi recalled.

The English are rationed one egg per person per week, six ounces of butter per person per week and two ounces of cheese per person per week. To offset these rations there is an abundant supply of carrots, cabbage and brussels sprouts.

Four Hilltoppers Are Injured

Four Hilltop persons were involved in auto accidents Tuesday.

Mrs. Myrtle Bratt, 46, and Mrs. Carrie Baumgardner, 65, both of 384 S. Burgess-av, were slightly injured when their car collided with another at W. Broad-st and Sandusky-av. Mrs. Bratt suffered a possible fractured finger on the left hand while Mrs. Baumgardner received possible rib fractures.

Mrs. Bratt was charged with failure to yield on a left hand turn, according to police.

Wilbert Lamborn, 37, 721 S. Terrace-st, was named as the driver of the car which struck a girl while she was crossing Riverside-dr at Town-st. He was arraigned for not giving the right-of-way to the pedestrian.

When his truck caught on fire after an explosion seven miles north of Sunbury Tuesday afternoon, Joseph Panos, 43, 48 N. Westmoor-av, escaped without injury.

According to state highway patrolman, Panos saw the flames shooting out of the rear of the trailer, stopped and attempted to uncouple the tank cars. Seeing this could not be done, due to the intense heat, he unhitched the tractor, drove it a safe distance from the burning trailer and called the state highway patrol.

West Seeks to Beat Central

With three straight wins under their belts, the rampaging West Cowboys will try to make it four by sinking the Central Pirates this evening.

Central lost Covington a good rebound man, at midyear, the Bucks received their worst drubbing at the hands of the Buccaneers and the game is on the West floor. If the Westerners can uncork a passing attack like they used against North, added to these advantages, they should give Central some uneasy moments.

Bucks 45, Boars 36

Combining a lion's share of the rebounds with a lightning passing attack, the West Cowboys outplayed a stubborn North team, 45 to 36.

Hoover outpointed everyone with 15 markers, while Underman, besides doing a fine job under the basket, shared second honors with Richards, each getting nine points.

For the second straight year, the Bucks have been the underdogs in their second game with North, after dropping the first, and have come back to win the return match.

Last Friday, for a change, it was the Cowboys who were going away with the scoring in the closing moments of the game instead of North, notorious for their last minute comebacks.

THEATRES

Loew's Ohio

Loew's Ohio is currently showing the beautiful technicolor romantic spectacle, "Bahama Passage," with Madeleine Carroll and Stirling Hayden, the blonde giant of "Virginia." Much of the picture was filmed in the seldom-photographed beauty of the little islets of the British West Indies. Added feature is "A Close Call For Ellery Queen." Starting next Thursday, Feb. 19, the Ohio will show one of the year's most anticipated pictures, "Women of the Year," with Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn, plus "Right to the Heart."

Loew's Broad

Loew's Broad is now showing the timely and dramatic story of those soldiers of the home front—defense plant workers—in "Joe Smith, American," with Robert Young as a typical airplane workman. Marsha Hunt is his wife and Darryl Hickman is his son. Added feature is "A Gentleman at Heart," with Cesar Romero, Carole Landis and Milton Berle. Starting next Thursday, Feb. 19, the Broad will show a strong dual bill—Frank Morgan in "The Vanishing Virginian" and "A Yank on the Burma Road," with Lamaine Day and Barry Nelson.

VALLEYVIEW WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Women's Club of Valleyview met at the home of Mrs. Lafayette Wareham, 505 N. Harris-av, Friday, Feb. 6, with Mrs. George Halliday as assistant hostess. All came dressed as comic valentines. Mrs. Albert Cawley won the prize for the best dressed. The next meeting will be held Friday, March 6, with Mrs. Alma and Miss Thelma Turner as hostesses.

TWO SONS IN SERVICE

Mrs. J. B. Lowry Sr., 363 Midland-av, sends word to the Record that she has two sons in Uncle Sam's service. John Hutchinson left last March and has been in the Medical Detail with Co. F, 31st Aviation Engineers at Langley Field, Va. He is at present trying out as a flying cadet. The other youth, Robert Hutchinson, joined the Marines Jan. 3 this year and is stationed at Parris Island, S. C. He has also taken tests for mechanics and aviation.

These Two Are Regular Siamese Twins Even on Army Duty

Apparently there is nothing that can separate Sergeant Jim Smith and Corporal John Hoy.

The young men went through senior high school known by their many friends as an inseparable pair. From all that can be learned there is really no origin for this lasting friendship that has been carried to military ranks. It just began.

Corporal Hoy joined the Ohio National Guard in 1939, Sergeant Smith had joined a year before.

The first real taste of army life the boys had together was when the O. N. G. went to Wisconsin on maneuvers in August of 1940. A year later from Camp Shelby, where they are stationed, the boys went on maneuvers again. This time on a much larger scale. These maneuvers were held in the swamps of Louisiana. The companions left for Camp Shelby with the O. N. G. in October, 1940.

Each time one is coming home you may rest assured the other will be right along. Both were home for two weeks in November and again for one week in December before Christmas.

Mrs. Hoy said, "The boys are typical buddies."

Sergeant Smith and Corporal Hoy are in Co. 'D" of the 112th Quartermaster Regiment.

"The duty of the boys," Mrs. Hoy explained, "Is to transport troops throughout the south. They took the soldiers to Louisana before the maneuvers."

Before joining the army Sergeant Smith worked with his brother in the plastering business and Corporal Hoy was substation manager for the Columbus Dispatch.

Sergeant Smith is the son of Mrs. Eva Smith, 34 N. Hinman-av, formerly of the Hilltop. Corporal Hoy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hoy, 2413 W. Broad-st.

The Hoys have another son in the army, Corporal Carl Hoy. He is in the same company with his brother. Carl was with the C. O. Wright Market four years before joining the guard in 1940.

One of the girls from the Sullivant Avenue Sit and Purr While We Slur Sewing Club, says she can always tell when her husband has been out bending the elbow by the way he tipsy-toes up stairs.

One feature of drafting men up to 65, they may not be too old to fight, but they are too old to cause much worry to the wives they left behind them.

It's some consolation to know we're up against nothing but a wild Duce, a Feuheretic and a Tokyokel.

— Letters — To the Editor

To All My Friends on the Hilltop:

I again take this method of corresponding with you.

I wish to thak you all for all the cards and letters and gifts that I received at Christmas time and since then

This is about the only way I have of keeping in touch with all of you and letting you know where I am.

At the present I am in California about 12 miles from the coast. The weather here has been fine for the last two weeks. Up until then it did nothing but rain for a solid two weeks. All in all for a place to live I can't think of any better place than Columbus, Ohio.

The camp is located about 200 miles from Los Angeles and about an equal distance form San Francisco. Or if you like just a plain 200 miles from civilization.

The camp itself is donated to the purpose of training men in all branches of the infantry. My particular phase of it is anti-tank tactics. All in all it's not such a bad place to live. You cannot associate with 35,000 or 45,000 men without having a little fun somewhere along the line. Our training in this anti-tank battallion consists of learning the proper use of the different makes of .30 calibre rifles and other small arms. But our main course will be on the use of the 37 mm anti-tank gun, the principle weapon with which we have to acquaint ourselves. Each gun carries a crew of six men, made up of the gun commander, truck driver, first and second gunners and two ammunition carriers.

I want you to know that any word from home is welcome. Mail call is about the most exciting time of the day. I never realized what a letter from home could mean until now. I sincerely hope that each and everyone of you is well and able to meet the things that seem impossible for us to do now, but will have to be met before this war is over. With the help of the Almighty I know that our country will come out on top. Don't worry about the boys in camp we are being well taken care of. But think ahead aways and try to keep conditions so that we'll have a job to come back to when the war is over. That's a big job we are trusting that it will be done. If a problem has to be met I know that real Americans can meet it.

With a wish for your security and happiness I remain

Sincerely yours,
Pvt. John W. Tierney,
Co. A 85th Infantry
Training Battallion.
4th Platoon,
Camp Roberts, California.

P. S. For the benefits of a few that might not remember my name. I formerly operated the route for the Omar Bakery from Hilltonia to Terrace-av south of Sullivant-av.

Dear Carlton:

Here I am saying "Thank you" again. We're always doing it and yet not quite as frequently as your service really merits. Anyway we appreciate very much the time and trouble you went to in order to properly publicize our 32nd anniversary in the Hilltop Record. It was a knock-out of a page and certainly should help strengthen our work in the area covered by your paper.

Cordially yours,
Robert H. Heistand

Classes in leadership training began at the Hoge Memorial Church Monday evening and will continue for five consecutive Monday nights.

Courses offered are as follows: "How the Bible Came to Be," Rev. Shellhaas; "Teachings of Jesus," Rev. Wold; "Ways of Teaching," Miss M. Stuart.

In order that full credit may be obtained the school will permit enrollment to be continued to the next meeting, Monday, Feb. 16, with the promise that satisfactory make-up work will be turned in by the pupil under the direction of the teacher. If no credit is expected enrollment can be made by special permission. Anyone interested is asked to contact Mrs. Henry Jones at Hoge Memorial Church or Rev. G. J. MacDonald.

ATTENDS MUSEUM MEET

Henry C. Shetrone, director of the Ohio State Museum, attended the winter meeting of the Council of the American Association of Museums, held at the Biltmore Hotel, New York City, Feb. 6. Plans for protection of museums during the war were discussed and formulated. Williamsburg, Va., was selected as the place for the meeting of the National Association in May, 1942.

Special Crews For Bridge Repairing

Complete plans for the immediate repairing of any bridges in the state of Ohio which might be bombed by enemy planes have been made by all divisions of the Ohio Department of Highways, Hal G. Sours, director, made known today.

Special crews in each district have been formed so they may get into action as soon as damage is reported to any bridge in the state by bombs or sabotage, Director Sours said.

He pointed out that because of Ohio's central location many war products are constantly rolling over Ohio's roads and bridges. Just recently one of the largest anti-craft guns built in the United States traversed northern Ohio's highways crossing scores of bridges on its journeys to be put into use by the United States army, the director brought out.

"Special surveys have been made of the bridges throughout the state so that in event of damage to any one of them, rerouting plans are perfected so there will be no delay in getting our war products, our soldiers, our army supplies, and their equipment to their destination as rapidly as is humanly possible.

The same detailed plans in regard to bridges throughout the state apply also to all state highways and each division is now in a position to repair immediately any roads damaged by bombs

MUSE AT SOULS HARBOR

Rodenfels Has Parts For All G. M. Cars

Rodenfels Chevrolet Co., 1160 W. Broad-st, has enlisted in America's great car conservation plan. They are directing their best efforts toward conserving the Hilltop's fleet of individually owned automobiles.

In their service headquarters at the above address they have an abundant supply of parts for every make General Motors car of which there is no shortage. They have trained mechanics, approved tools and equipment to work on each car.

Rodenfels suggests for defense that car owners keep their cars in good running order at all times.

A convenient pay plan on auto repairs has been devised.

Man Is Injured

"HONEST MEN"

We write names down of great renown,
And celebrate their birthday
Born in the sticks or among city tricks
Like Webster, Calhoun and Clay.
It is hard to recall all that enthrall
Like Washington, Grant and Buchanan
Many a great name is unknown to fame
The Murphys, Mullins and O'Shannon.

I'm trying to pen of great honest men
Like Lincoln, Pierce and Fillmore
There's millions more from door to door
Plain Thompson, Johnson and Gillmore.
Honest men are divine like pure sunshine
Regardless of fame or station
Hewing close to the line of God's design
An asset to state and nation.

"WHO WILL TAKE MY PLACE?"

Some new face will take my place
When my journey here is through
Will it be a face of my own race,
A Japanese or a Jew?
My place will not be hard to fill
And I wish him plenty of luck
Just a little nerve, a little skill
And a little pep and pluck

I wish all could say, when I go away
That I performed a worthy task
Pleasant and glad, to the good and bad
Just one thing more I would ask—
That men could state, honest and sedate
Though I wavered from God's plan
The young and gay, the feeble and gray
That I had been an honest man.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our Bobbie's 16th birthday, Feb. 13. He has solved it, life's wonderful problem
The deepest, the strangest, the last.
And into the school of the angels, With the answer forever has passed.

How strange he should sleep so profoundly,
So young, so unworn by the strife
While beside him brimful of hope's nectar
Untouched stood the goblet of life.

God knew all about those who loved him.
How bitter the trial must be.
And right through it all,
God is loving,
And knows so much better than we.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sherman, son. Dick.

POETRY

This poem was written by the late Mrs. Mae Finley, who until her death two weeks ago, lived at 253 Whitethorne-av. It was given to us by her daughter, Mrs. Mary Dearth of the same address. Mrs. Finley was a charter member of the Rebecca Lodge; charter member of Pythian Sisters of Westwood Temple; member of WCTU, Spanish-American War Veterans' Auxiliary, Eastern Star and Bethany Bible Class. She was a highly respected citizen of the Hilltop for many years.

The poem was written a few days before her death

TO ALL I SAY
Good night, farewell for a little time.
Welcome release, when Death calls for me,
I have enjoyed living, now I turn and say
Dear Life, I've had a lovely time!
It's all been just a lovely day.
And now, dear friends, I turn to smile
To one and all, along the way I've met
And some, perhaps, may see me
With something of regret.
I hate to leave the lights and flowers
And gay, bright jests I know;
But then I should not like to be
The very last one of all to go.
So when Death calls to me, I shall say
I am weary of pain, and I am glad you came.
It was a lovely party; I've had a lovely time
But now I am weary and ready to go home,
So Good Night, farewell for a little time.
I am going to meet the dear ones gone before.
I am waiting to meet you when you come,
Good night! Good night!

INHERITANCE
The tapestry was worn and old;
The pattern almost gone;
The threads, once bright, were faded
As the life that had passed on.
One living symbol still remained
That her life story told,
For interwoven through the years
A thread of purest gold—
This the faith that kept her life
From fading in the gloom—
And left behind for those she loved
Gold thread still on the loom.
Jean Elaine Ett.

When the first Census of Manufactures was taken in 1810, the manufacturing volume for the United States was $172,000,000 a year. Now the value of manufactured products at factory approximates $60,000,000,000 a year or 350 times the 1810 figure. Production in American factories in one day now equals that of the entire year in 1810.

The Hilltop Record

In Its 25th Continuous Year Of Community Service

Vol. XXV, No. 54 | The Hilltop, Friday, Feb. 20, 1942 | Total No. 1198

The Spectator
By C. C. Hartley

Down-Right Shame: This is a story that calls for sympathy.

A Hilltop lassie of very pronounced Scottish ancestry went on a down town shopping tour on Thursday, Feb. 12. On her return she boastfully told of how she had saved 25c. She had dropped a nickel in a parking meter and then an hour later came back to the car and dropped in another nickel, thus saving the parking lot fee of 25c.

But latest reports have it she has even tried to get the city to make a refund of those two nickels she dropped in the meters when, the next day, she read in the morning paper that Thursday was a legal holiday and parking in meter zones was free.

The young lady may be identified by Shank & Saunders.

Bits and Bits: For a super excellent sun tan we recommend the type now possessed by Eva Berman . . . Comes a note from Hamp Cruise who says he's leaving Seattle on Feb. 17 for Fairbanks, Alaska . . . Betty Hoover is now a steno at the Hughes-Peters Electric Co. . . . What's this about Don Smith evading the cigar passing at last B-M. meeting? . . . Story out West High way is that Phil Wisdom came to school with one sock on wrong side out and blamed it on the darkness.

Something new has been added to . . . down at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Carlton Hartley, 124 S. Brinker-av, who are announcing the birth of a baby girl, weighing 7½ pounds, Wednesday morning at Mt. Carmel Hospital. She has been named Patricia Ann.

Wanted to Thrill 'em

Reports have it that the young man who almost scared the North Side out of its wits a few weeks ago when he flew so low over that territory in a big plane was none other than Don Scott.

It was the same Don Scott of football fame at Ohio State and he is reported to have said he flew over the stadium and recalled how he had thrilled 'em a few years back as he dashed across the gridiron, and so he couldn't resist the temptation to do it again, from the air . . . And HE DID!

But it had its good effects too . . . It revealed what might happen should an enemy bomber take an hour and a half to fly down from up above Nova Scotia and while down here drop a few eggs on this vital defense area. COULD BE!

War Gardens

One of the most interesting books to absorb one's attention about this time of year is a seed catalogue. And this year they should have more significance than ever.

Probably this will be, the year when many of us will take the book more seriously and do more than look at the pretty pictures and long for an opportunity to be a dirt farmer just for awhile.

This year it will be practical to do something about it. If you have a plot of ground adjacent to your home, or a portion of the back yard that would make a good garden spot it will pay big dividends to sharpen up the spade and get that sod turned under and some seeds and plants in the ground at the proper time.

War gardens were beneficial to many in the last war and they can be again. Why not take that seed catalogue seriously this year?

From Here and There: Mary Bentz, who is heading up the Hilltop Minstrel advertising committee, is planning something new in the way of a big week-end value giving sale among all local merchants . . . Herbert Deems was a Valentine baby, a few years ago, of course, he reminds . . . It's Grandpa Ray Boord now, he'll have you know and he is the struttinest grandpappy one ever did see . . . Seems to be some dissension in the ranks along the side on which way the politicos have placed themselves into the defense picture, as though it is an ideal way to make contacts, what with elections coming up in future years . . . Lee Koontz, a Hilltopper of some years ago, is a Hilltopper again after spending 15 years in vaudeville and now he'll take a part in the Hilltop Minstrel . . . Quite a few from this neighborhood saw the North Broadway minstrel this past week-end . . . and they're holding their comments until after our show shows . . . Last year 15,000 were killed in Britain by bombs but 17,000 were killed in auto accidents there, mostly due to blackouts . . . Cookie Byron is the name of the new girl employed at Henry Mone's Drug store . . . she's from Richmond, Va., and has that genuine southern drawl.

Ton Coal Prize In Contest

It's cold and it's coal weather, so what could be more appropriate than a ton of coal from Jones Lumber & Coal Co., 57 N. Sylvan-av, as the prize in this week's Record Misspelled Word Contest.

Turn now to page four of the Record and determine your entry in this week's contest and mail it to the Contest Editor, care of the Record, before Tuesday noon.

Winner of the $4.95 heating pad from Murphy Pharmacy this past week was Mrs. Herbert E. Rudy, 676 S. Hague-av.

Correct sentence this past week was: "During winter weather be careful of getting colds and coughs."

Local Dealers Make Tire Inspections

There are no tire rationing boards on the Hilltop!

The only one for the city is in room 225 in the City Hall. This board is open daily from 1:30 to 4 p. m. except Saturdays when it is open from 10:30 to noon.

The Hilltop has three inspectors whose duty it is to check the person's tire for new or retreads. After the tires have been thoroughly checked by the station attendant a chart will be filled out and given to the owner of the car. This chart must be presented to the tire rationing board in the city hall in application for the needed tire.

In order to check the tire it is necessary to remove it from the car, thus there is a standard charge of 50 cents per wheel for this service.

Local inspectors are: Horn's Service Station, 2570 W. Broad-st; Lee's Hilltop Service Station, 2460 W. Broad-st, and James E. Hite Filling Station, 585 N. Hague-av.

Sherry Elected G. O. P. Head

James G. Sherry was elected president of the Eleventh Ward G. O. P. Club Thursday, Feb. 5, in the K. of P. Hall at Burgess-av and W. Broad-st.

Other officers elected were first vice-president, Norma F. Paul; second vice-president, Robert M. Laird, recording secretary, Grace Good; corresponding secretary, Ursula Roberts, and treasurer, Amelia Witter.

Public installation of these new officers will be held Thursday, March 5, at 8 p. m., at the K. of P. Hall.

B-M Essay To Be Worth $25

"Why We Should Patronize Our Independent Stores" is the topic for the essay contest the Hilltop Business Men's Association is sponsoring for the Hilltop children. The prize will be a $25 defense bond.

A committee from the Hilltop Business Men's Association will select the winner, whose name will be announced at the minstrel and the bond will be presented at that time.

Any Hilltop child in school from grades up to and including the eighth, is eligible to enter. Entries should be written on one side of the paper only and neatness will be considered by the judges.

Essays should be mailed to the Essay Editor, care of the Hilltop Record, 2465 W. Broad-st.

Howard Minnemeyer Joins Air Corps

Howard Minnamever, 125 S. Terrace-st, left last Thursday for Patterson Field where he will be a mechanic in the U. S. Air Corps.

Minnamever has operated his own garage known as "Minn's Garage" on the Hilltop for several years.

King and Queen Are Selected

Herb Stewart and Frankie Williams were elected victory king and valentine queen, respectively, at the valentine dance held at West High School last Friday after the Central-West basketball game. Both are seniors at West.

GROGAN IS PROMOTED

Mark Grogan, formerly of 274 N. Wilson-av, has been promoted to the rank of corporal. He is on duty [illegible] in the engineering department of the Forty-sixth Squadron at Randolph Fie[illegible]

Well, I Do Declare!

This is Topsy.

Yes folks, this is Topsy, and until the evening of the Hilltop Minstrel show we aren't going to reveal just who is behind all this burnt cork and fancy hair-do.

At any rate the young lady is a talented performer and will be one of the outstanding features of the thirteenth annual show sponsored by the Hilltop Business Men's Association, on March 11, 12 and 13, at West High School.

By the way, tickets are now on sale by all members of the association!

New Westgate Church To Have Contest For Best Essay

An essay contest is being sponsored by the Westgate M. E. Church for everybody in the community whether he or she is a member of another church or not. The theme chosen for the essay is "What I Would Expect From a New Church in the Community."

The contest will terminate March 15, and winners will be announced March 22. All essays are to be brought to any service of the Westgate M. E. Church, which until construction of the new church, will continue at the West High School Auditorium. Services begin at 9:30 each Sunday morning.

Contestants are asked not to write their names on the essay or the envelope in which it is submitted. The name and address should be placed on a separate piece of paper and sealed in a smaller envelope, then the essay and the small envelope should be enclosed in a larger one.

In order to win, however, the writers of the essays adjudged best must be in attendance at the service March 22. Winners will not be announced until that date. Prizes will be awarded.

Members of the committee in charge of selecting the judges are H. L. Heinzelman, Robert Fisher and C. J. Vickers.

There will also be a sales tax stamp saving contest for all children in the community. Prizes will be announced for this later. Any children interested may enter whether they belong to the Westgate M. E. Church or not. Envelopes for saving the stamps will be furnished by the church and the children having the most on the closing date of the contest will receive the prize. All stamps will go to the church building fund.

Hilltop Girl Gets Call From Friend In Sydney, Australia

"I'm in Australia," the muffled voice of First Lt. Harold W. Allen, A. G. D., reported to Miss Helen Schiller, 91 N. Powell-av, in an early morning telephone call, Feb. 11.

"When I answered the phone the operator said, 'Sydney calling.' Naturally I thought she meant Sidney, O.," explained Miss Schiller.

Just as soon as Lt. Allen said he was in Australia Miss Schiller knew the call was coming from a much greater distance than Sidney, O.

A second operator came on the line before the connection was entirely completed and warned the recipient that the call would come via a radio hook-up and that she must refrain from asking any questions pertaining to place, time, date and weather.

"He said he was fine and that he was working hard and long hours," Miss Schiller related.

Miss Schiller and Lt. Allen have known each other for five years. He was stationed at Fort Hayes barracks until a few months ago when he received a notice from Washington to report to a port of embarkation in California.

Lt. Allen had been unable, for military reasons, to inform Miss Schiller as to his whereabouts but told her that he would leave a note in capable hands in California and the person would be instructed to send the note on to her after he had safely reached his destination. The note arrived a few days after the telephone call but did not say where he was located.

FAIRFIELDERS VOTE TO CEASE ACTIVITIES

On Monday night, Feb. 16, at the Southern Hotel, a meeting of the executive committee of the Fairfielder's organization was held at which time the officers decided that for duration of the war all activities of the Fairfielders as an organization be suspended.

Officers include Myron T. Seifert, publicity and publication of official newspaper, "Fairfielder."

Illustrated County Financial Report

An illustrated report showing where your county tax money goes has just come off the press and is being mailed this week by County Auditor Newton Thatcher.

This report is unique in that not many people have a proper conception of all the activities of the county.

The report contains eight pages of photos of various county departments, not only in the court house but throughout the territory served, and has a breakdown showing the cost of these particular institutions to each individual taxpayer.

The printing, incidentally, was done by the Hilltop Record.

2553 Local Men Sign Up In Draft

Men literally flowed into the draft boards Feb. 14, 15 and 16, when they registered for possible military duty.

Board 11 reported a total registration of 1131 men. Board 13 gave a figure of 764 that registered. There was a total of 658 registered at selective service board 12. Total in the three boards was 2553.

Ed Melvin, chairman of board 12, wishes to express his sincere appreciation to the following Hilltop women who gave their patriotic services to the board in aiding with the registration:

Helen J. Bull, Marie F. Campbell, Metta L. Deems, Merle Earle, Mrs. T. S. Fox, Ruth Gettner, Mrs. Clara Gibson, Hilda M. Gillivan, Lucille E. Horch, Alexander Howard, Fern C. Johnson, Belva J. Jones, Dorothy Jordan, John A. Lechner, Mrs. Nellie M. Legg, Blanche Mann, Mrs. H. C. Moon, Dorothy E. Saunders, Mary E. Smith, Mrs. C. B. Story, Nelda Underwood, Frances E. Wylie.

Son Dies In Explosion

Word was received last week of the death of Harold F. Sperry, son of Mrs. Mary A. Sperry, 165 S. Hilltop Lady Is Selected For Honor Of Being "Woman of the Year"

It was all a very pleasant surprise to Mrs. S. T. Price Jr., 268 S. Eureka-av, when she was notified by the editor of the Columbus Citizen Tuesday evening that her letter was judged best in the contest held in connection with the cooking school which the Citizen is sponsoring at the Ohio Theatre this week.

The entrant was to write a letter on a person she very much admired and Mrs. Price selected a neighbor whom she thought superior because "she takes such wonderful care of her large family."

Another reason for this selection by the winner was the fact Mrs. Ray Weiland, 310 S. Eureka-av, the lady about whom she wrote, took a penniless and friendless old lady into her home and kept her until her death. Still another reason, Mrs. Weiland cheerfully sent three of her sons, Charles, Joe and Tom, into military service.

Mrs. Weiland was named "Woman of the Year."

Mrs. Price received for her efforts three month pass to the Ohio Theatre and Mrs. Weiland was awarded a $25 defense bond. The awards were presented to the ladies at the cooking school yesterday.

A Business Man And Lover of Freedom

WASHINGTON
Washington was a man of great fortitude, with an almost super-human ability to endure hardship. We know him as a devoted father and husband, as a great leader. Washington was all this and more. He was an astute business man and lover of freedom.
And as such he knew the value of owning his home and of the comfort and joy that comes from such freedom.

Student Raises Defense Pigeons

In a fully equipped loft in his back yard, Louis Gross, of 608 Larcomb Avenue, a sophomore at West, raises 20 to 30 banded carrier pigeons for service in the United States army.

According to Louis, pigeons are very intelligent and of great service to humanity. They saved many lives in the World War. Many came home and died up on the landing, as heroes.

Louis has trained his pigeons to [illegible] night, and also carry messages to and from a destination.

Not only will these pigeons be valuable as leg-message carriers, but will also be trained in carrying maps and cameras and other heavier weight materials. A full grown pigeon weighs one pound.

At first a bird is trained from 2 to 22 miles, and at 2 years it should be able to fly from 500 to 600 miles.

Louie's pet theory is that pigeons have many possibilities because of their ability to stand great endurance.

He is very anxious to see just what these birds of the future will accomplish.

Tax the fat? A noted Chicago scientist suggests a $20 penalty for every excess pound, and points out that in addition to fattening up the treasury it would do the nation's health a world of good. Read of his surprising proposal and his reasons for making it, in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next Week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

TO MY LOVE

"My love is like the red, red rose
That blooms in the month of June"
When all the world is fair to see
And all the birds are in tune.

Her lips are like the cherries red;
Her eyes of softest blue;
Her voice as soft as an angel's tread
And her heart is always true.

My love is all the world to me,
From her I would not stay,
And she has promised now to be
My own true love for aye.

Her lips are like the cherries red;
Her eyes of softest blue;
Her voice as soft as an angel's tread
And her heart is always true.

Prof. T. Willard Birmingham in his book titled POEMS.

This poem was set to music by Prof. Birmingham and has been published in quartet form for male voices. It is listed in a folio titled MOST POPULAR COLLEGE SONGS. Prof. Birmingham was teacher of music at West Junior High and now resides on the Hilltop.

FOOTPRINTS

Tiny footprints in the snow;
Where do they come from, where do they go?
Two tracks, three tracks, four in a row;
Down from the highlands, up from the low.
Long trails, short trails;
Where do they go?

Marie Skinner, in THE DREAM SHOP.

THE HOPE CHEST

This hope chest is a casket
In which reposes
Dreams that were bright—
Old letters, withered roses—
Wrapped in lavender and rue—
Close the lid softly,
Do not weep,
Or grieve over futile hopes;
Dream new dreams. Let dead dreams sleep.

Leonore Eves Hutchinson, in her book UNDERNEATH THE BOUGH.

FOR A MAN

How can you hold as false the maiden's word
Who swears her love for you?
The starting tear;
The plaintive voice and trembling hand, are these
Still not enough for you that you must fear?

Emory Norris, in his book EARLY POEMS.

PRAYER AWAY FROM HOME

When night came near, I feared the reaper,
Who does not spare
A single one of us, but reaps at length each stalk
Of golden grain! I seemed to sense
His ringing steel hear near my door.
"My God," I cried, "Befriend each wife
And child, while men are far away from home!
Give peace to all. Protect each helpless child
In this dark night."

Rev. Robert S. Lawrence, in his book VOICES IN THE NIGHT.

Hilltop Record:

Would like you to run a little notice in your paper for me this week, to the effect that it was not myself or any member of my family who sent in the letter to the Columbus Dispatch printed in their paper one evening last week about the reference to Mayor Green or his salary or proposed increase or his administration. The lady signed her name J. C. Jeffries, 157 Highland St.

Now there is no such address other than mine which is 157 Highland Ave. The other Highland St. up in the north end does not run in such low numbers. I am told it starts around 900. Surely, if any one cares to write in they should be kind enough to send in their correct address. I am receiving cards now from people who agree or not, either way, through the mail.

Thanking you sincerely for taking care of this.

Mrs. G. V. Harrington
157 Highland Ave.
Columbus, Ohio

P. S.: There is also no one named Jeffries in my home.

Rev. Robert Leonard Tucker of the Indianola Methodist Church will be the speaker the following Sunday, March 1.

Dr. John Ruskin Howe, president of Otterbein College, will be the speaker March 15.

Byerly To Open Fishing Resort

L. W. Byerly, 38 N. Ogden-av, is leaving soon for Lafollette, Tenn., to prepare his new land purchase for a fishing resort. The land covers 55 acres and is called Powder Mill Hollow. The fishing season opens June 1.

The lake, from Byerly's description, must be a fisherman's haven. It is 56,000 acres with a shore line of 880 miles. Swimming around in this water waiting to be caught are walleye pike, large and small mouth bass.

"There are more fishing licenses issued to fishermen from Michigan than any other state except Tennessee," says Byerly.

Boats and motors will be available if war conditions permit. All fishing supplies will be kept on hand. Cottages will be rented to patrons.

Byerly has lived on the Hilltop for 37 years.

Save All Paper

In line with a government request for paper conservation program under the national defense, J. A. Barnett, manager of the Ohio Waste Paper Co., 95 N. Glenwood-av, Monday, said housewives can sell their accumulated supplies "at fairly good prices."

"We are urging those persons," he said, "who have paper to sell to tie it in bundles so that when they are called for they may be promptly weighed to avoid any delay."

Joins Navy

Robert H. Cressman

Another Hilltopper left Monday to join Uncle Sam's fighting forces in the navy. Robert Cressman, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cressman, 119 N. Brinker-av, was graduated from West High in January, joined the navy and was sent to the Great Lakes training school at Chicago.

Scouts To Launch Service Program

The Boy Scouts of America are launching upon an immediate program of emergency preparedness for all Boy Scouts and Scout leaders, it was announced by Robert H. Heistand, Scout executive of the Central Ohio Area Council, today.

The local Area Council has released to all Scout leaders in the eight counties in central Ohio an official war service manual of 200 pages which includes all necessary information to integrate the work of the Boy Scouts with local Civilian Defense Councils throughout the area. According to Scout officials it is intended that Scouts shall be used as emergency messenger boys and later as fire watchers and assistants to Field Medical Units. Special armband insignia will be issued by the Civilian Defense authorities to Scouts who complete a minimum of nine weeks of preparatory training in the field of emergency service as outlined in the official war service manual.

Captain Harold R. Lee, reserve officer and civilian deputy aide to the commanding general of the Fifth Corps Area, has been appointed to act as director of Scout war service. Captain Lee has long been associated with Scouting and has for many years been in charge of the Scout ushering service at the Ohio State football games in Columbus.

At the present time Scouts in the Central Ohio Area Council are engaged in the collection of waste paper, discarded books for the "Victory Book Campaign", they are planting victory war gardens and it is anticipated that they will soon embark on a thorough program of salvage of other essential scrap materials for use in the national defense.

During the last World War, membership of the Boy Scouts of America increased from 291,000 to 326,000 while at the present time the membership of the Boy Scouts of America is over a million and a half men and boys. The record of the Scout organization of the past World War is an epic, selling Liberty Loans, War Saving Stamps, distributing government literature, and cultivating gardens. In this war as in the last Scouts are trying to live up to their motto of "Be Prepared."

Drafters Draw Ward Maps

C. S. Kennedy, drafting instructor, has been asked by C. W. Wagner, home defense captain of the west side, to draw three ward maps of all territory west of the Scioto River, for air raid wardens.

There are approximately 63 precincts in the three wards, which will be covered by helpers under Mr. Wagner's direction.

Dick McCarley, Lee Mohn, and Floyd Spellman, upperclassmen here, are drawing the maps which must be submitted to Mr. Wagner by Friday.

The maps will be used to "spot" the men working under Mr. Wagner in case of a surprise attack or some emergency.

Sometime in the near future Columbus will have a practice blackout, and these maps will be needed, Mr. Kennedy said.

Presently the streets of the west side will be patroled by air raid wardens and everybody will be expected to cooperate with these men to their fullest extent.

Teachers To Ration Sugar

Whether it be on our honor or fear of the tongues of our neighbors, the new sugar stamp rationing plan which will go into effect in several weeks as expected, to successfully prevent the hoarding of sugar.

The teachers in the public schools will act as agents in the distributing of stamp books to every adult and child in the country.

The person who secures the books must state the amount of sugar already present in the home. For any sugar over two pounds per person stamps will be torn out of the book. A book which contains twenty-eight stamps, one for each week, allows every person twelve ounces of sugar.

The plan, roughly sketched at present (one of the main problems being the canning season which is to come) is expected to be complete within a few weeks.

Soldier Owes Uncle Sam 50 Cts. After Paying Bills Out of $21-A-Mo. Wages

Washington—It was pay day at the army camp.

Private Doe lined up with the other soldiers and received his $21 cash for a month of drill and duty.

Then, with the others, he passed along what the doughboys call "deduct tables."

At the first of these an officer took $6.50 for Doe's insurance. At the next he handed over $2 for 10 picture shows he had seen at the camp theatre during the month.

At the third he laid down $8 to cover his bill at the canteen for smokes, toilet articles, shoe shines, etc. A fourth officer relieved him of $3.50 for cleaning.

Private Doe came to the last table. He was asked for $1.50 for his laundry bill—and he had only $1 left. At the end of his month's work he owed the government 50 cents.

But Private Doe may not have spent an impecunious week-end at camp in vain. For his case was in the congressional record today and a growing block of legislators was moving to do something about it.

Asserting that he had talked to Private Doe and found that the case was typical, Rep. Patman (D.) of Texas brought it to the attention of the House.

Rep. Kilday (D.) of Texas followed up by introducing a bill to provide all soldiers with free cleaning, laundry and barber shop services.

"I am sending this bill to the war department with a request for an immediate recommendation," Kilday declared, adding that at the next meeting of the military affairs committee, of which he is a member, he will bring it up.

"I think a soldier is entitled to his keep, and since the army makes him keep his uniforms cleaned, his laundry done and his hair cut, I think he is entitled to these services free. If this were the law the boy Mr. Patman told about and others like him would have at least four or five dollars to go to town with."

"THE POOR WORKING GIRL"

The snow is beautiful as it comes from above
Pure as the Angels and a little girl's love
So pure, and white, but to some quite a blight
Who have to leave their home before daylight
At dawn comes down with a swish and a swirl;
I write these lines for the poor working girl
Who gets up at four-thirty without any fuss
And shivers on the corner, waiting for a bus.
I have shoveled paths in three feet of snow
To feed my cattle when it was twenty below
The snow may be lovely but I firmly declare
It wasn't nice out there, snow and ice everywhere;
It is fine to write lines by a good warm fire
Trying to make them rhyme for folks to admire
But it is not very nice, to have ice for a curl
And I pity in the city, the poor working girl.

"I AM MUSIC"

"Servant and Master am I; servant of those dead and master of those living. Through me Spirits Immortal, speak the message that makes the world weep, and laugh, and wonder, and worship. I tell the story of Love, the story of hate, the story that saves, and the story that damns. I am the incense upon which Prayers float to Heaven. I am the smoke which palls over the field of battle, where men lie dying with me on their lips.

"I am close to the marriage altar, and when the grave opens I stand thereby. I call the wanderer home. I rescue Souls from the depths. I open the lips of Lovers, and through me, the dead whisper to the living. One I serve, as I serve all; the King I make my slave as easily as I subject his slave. I speak through the birds of the air, the insects of the field, the crash of waters on rock-ribbed shores, the sighing of the winds in the trees, and I am ever heard by the Soul that knows me in the clatter of wheels on city streets. I know no brother, yet all men are my brothers; I am the father of the best that is in me; I am in them, and they are of me; For I am the Instrument of God; I Am Music."

Employer Subject Penalty of 8%

A record collection of employer contributions for the last quarter of 1941 is anticipated by Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation officials.

"Collections through mid-January were greater than for previous quarters," Administrator Herschel C. Atkinson asid today. "It is apparent that the previous record quarterly collection of $19,611,000 for the third quarter of 1941 will be surpassed."

The fourth quarter of 1941 ends the period in which all employers subject to the law must pay contributions at the 2.7 per cent rate. Merit rating, effective in 1942, will bring revised rates to employers who have been subject to the law continuously since June 30, 1938.

Preparation of employer merit rates has begun at the unemployment compensation bureau. Thousands of employers with records of stable employment in the past three and one-half years will benefit by reduced rates in 1942. Notices of new rates will be mailed to employers after March 1 and will apply to payrolls for the year of 1942.

Bureau officials pointed out that contributions for the fourth quarter of 1941 received after, or postmarked later than midnight, Jan. 31, 1942 are subject to a penalty of 8 per cent interest.

"Give Courtesy," Is Suggestion To Motorists

Six suggestions for motor manners were offered to drivers here today by the National Safety Council.

Here they are:

1. Stay in line. Don't bull your way through traffic by squeezing in and out.
2. Don't sneak through intersections on the yellow light.
3. Dim your lights when meeting cars at night.
4. Give pedestrians a chance to reach the curb when they are marooned in the street by a changing light.
5. Don't block pedestrian crosswalks. And remember—pedestrians have the right of way when you're making a turn.
6. Signal your intentions to the driver behind, and get in the proper lane before turning.

Safety's Job In Wartime

To some people it may seem paradoxical that there is a need to intensify accident prevention work in wartime. Why worry about an accidental death here and there, they may ask, when life must be purposefully sacrificed on the battlefield?

Safety is not a peacetime luxury. Accidents are a peacetime luxury! In wartime the luxury of waste cannot be tolerated!

Wars are not won at the front line only. Victory depends upon workmen, factories, transportation, the thousand and one jobs behind the lines that must not be interrupted.

Accidents delay production. They cripple transportation. They rob the nation of essential manpower. They eat up inexorably the precious minutes and material that means another bomber, another tank, another warship. Accidents definitely hinder the war effort of this country!

War has only made more acute the need to intensify accident prevention in this country. We are making progress but the problem is big and the problem is urgent.

More Americans were killed in November traffic alone than by enemy bombers at Pearl Harbor! Accidents help the Axis!

If not, perhaps it is because you have never given Alka-Seltzer a thorough trial.

All over the world people who have used Alka-Seltzer are enthusiastic in its praise.

If Alka-Seltzer is as good as we say it is, you want it in your medicine cabinet; if it is not, it won't cost you a penny. We will refund the purchase price to any new user who is not entirely satisfied.

Your family may find Alka-Seltzer sooner, and more often than you think. Our guarantee of satisfaction or money refunded covers its use in all conditions listed below:

FOODS FOR FITNESS

In these days, when our vitality is taxed to the utmost and our nerves are taut, we must be sure our foods are right so we can stand the strain. We need foods to:

1. Build and regulate the body.
2. Protect and repair the body.
3. Give us heat and energy.

Each person should have these foods each day:

1. One qt. milk for children; 1 pint for adults.
2. One egg.
3. One serving of meat.
4. Two servings of whole grain products or "enriched bread."
5. Two fruits—one raw and one citrus.
6. Some fats and sweets.
7. Six or more glasses of water.

One of the problems which faces many of us is the one of using the suggested amount of milk. Many people do not like the idea of just drinking milk, so why not use it in a different manner.

Chocolate Souffle

2 oz. (sqs.) chocolate
2 C. milk
¼ C. sugar
1/3 C. flour
½ tsp. salt
2 Tbsp. butter
1 tsp. vanilla
4 eggs, separated

Heat chocolate and milk in double boiler until chocolate is melted. Combine sugar, flour and salt; add chocolate mixture slowly, stirring until smooth; return to double boiler and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Continue cooking 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add butter and vanilla; cool slightly. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Add chocolate mixture slowly and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into baking dish buttered only on bottom, filling it from one-half to two-thirds full. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 1 hour, or until firm. Serve immediately with whipped cream, cocoanut, or powdered sugar. Serves 8.

Cheese and Onion Soup

2 onions, diced
3 Tbsp. butter
1 Tbsp. flour
3 C. milk
½ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
½ lb cheese, diced

Brown onions in butter. Blend in flour. Add milk, salt and pepper; heat to scalding and add cheese. Cook until cheese is melted, stirring constantly. Serve with toast cubes. Serves 4.

Cottage Cheese Omelet

4 eggs, separated
½ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
¼ C. milk
¾ C. cottage cheese
3 Tsp. chopped canned pimiento
1 Tbsp. butter
2 Tsp. chopped parsley

Beat egg yolks until thick; add salt, pepper, milk, cheese, and pimiento. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Place butter in skillet, heat well, and add omelet. Cook slowly until firm and browned on bottom. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 10 to 15 minutes or until browned on top. Crease, fold, slip onto hot platter, and garnish with parsley. Serves six.

The Hilltop Record

In Its 25th Continuous Year Of Community Service

Vol. XXV, No. 55 | The Hilltop, Friday, Feb. 27, 1942 | Total No. 1199

Your Help Is Needed At Home

It could happen here!

Daily happenings on the west coast should certainly bring more and more of us to realize that Columbus is not out of danger if the Japs and Germans keep up their daring adventures in our direction.

For example: It is known the axis has submarines that carry two airplanes. What is there to prevent a few of these fish from popping up out of the water of the eastern ocean and sending a few fliers westward on a mission of destruction. And it would be easy enough for them to come on through because there's little to stop them.

And when they reach Columbus one plane bearing 2000 small incendiary bombs could unload all over the city and soon be on its way again. It is a fact that a load of such bombs will start an average of over 75 fires. That would mean over 150 fires going in this town at one time.

It stands to reason the fire department could not cope with such a situation should these fires once get going. However, with the proper help from a well trained Civilian Defense staff the fires can be quickly detected and extinguished and far less damage done.

From the looks of things it may take a few raids of this type to wake some people up. Few are responding as they should.

On the Hilltop some several hundred more volunteer workers are needed in the fire squads, air raid wardens and police forces.

If you are not already assigned to some part in this program isn't it time to say, "I'm ready to do my part," and give up a few nights a month and learn what they have to offer you?

We wish him luck.

Auto Tags On Sale March 2

Automobile license plates for 1942 will be placed on sale at 800 registration points in Ohio Monday, Mar. 2, it was announced today by C. W. Wallace, state registrar.

An important departure is being inaugurated this year by the Ohio Department of Highways which has charge of license plate distribution, in making truck, trailer and farm plates available in each county instead of at only 14 stations as heretofore.

Adrift On Sea 56 Hours, Youth Tells Experience At Home Here

James Lantz, 19, nephew of Ed Lantz, 325 Derrer-rd, is alive to tell the tale of being on the sea for 56 hours after a torpedo pierced the hull of his ship. The youth, still suffering from exposure, is staying with his uncle until he can return to the sea.

It was his first ocean voyage and he was only a few hundred miles from the New York coast line when a submarine sank the Standard Oil tanker, China Arrow, off Cape Hatteras.

Lantz told the story of the attack as follows:

"I ran up on the port side and saw flames and smoke, and quickly decided that it was no place for me. So I ran below and got my papers and a life preserver. Then I ran up to my boat station to await orders.

"Everyone was calm. The torpedo had hit forward of the engine room on the starboard side. No one had been hurt. The wheel could not be controlled. Realizing the danger we were in, our hero, the chief engineer, a German, ran below and shut off the steam smothering system. The radio couldn't send an SOS because the antenna had been hit.

"The captain ordered us to abandon ship. There were four of us at our boat station, but after he swung out the lifeboat there were just two of us. We looked around, couldn't find the other, so the other guy and myself got the boat away.

"We pulled a little distance away from the boat. We saw what we thought was a life raft. And the other guy, the second mate, said, 'Bend an oar,' and we quickly started toward it. Then all of a sudden things began whizzing over our heads and we realized we were heading for the sub.

"We didn't know whether she was shelling us or completing the job on the ship, but we didn't stop to figure that one out. Then we really bent elbows to get away from there."

They watched the ship sink. Within a short while they found the other lifeboat and were told that all aboard had been saved.

"For the next 56 hours we rowed daytime, to keep our circulation up, and at night we lashed the three lifeboats together and drifted. Our food was water and hardtack—so hard a couple of the fellows broke their teeth."

An army bomber spotted them and dropped a note in a thermos bottle. Shortly afterward a navy plane saw them, and finally the coast guard came to their rescue. They were taken to Cape May, Del.

"We drank at least 50 gallons of hot coffee in the first few minutes after our rescue. Some of us had pretty bad colds, but none suffered anything [illegible] than being wet and miserable," Jim concluded.

He is the son of J. T. Lantz, 204 Moler-st.

Being torpedoed hasn't discouraged Jim. "I like the sea and I am not going to quit," he said.

Roessler To Show Model Home Here

Sam Roessler Inc., of 1090 E. Broad-st, will have a model six room home furnished and open for inspection at 821 Chestershire-rd, from 9 to 9 every day, starting Sunday.

This home is one of a project of medium priced homes being built by Sam Roessler on Chestershire-rd. Mr. Roessler has felt for some time that there is a definite lack of homes of this type in the Westgate district, and built these houses in answer to that situation.

These homes are unique in that they are laid out and cut out in a shop, which necessitates a minimum amount of outside work, thus giving his employees year around work. Another excellent feature of these homes is the fact that they have no plaster to freeze, so that the houses, regardless of age, will show no cracks or breaks, holding down the redecorating costs for the buyer, of unnecessary expense in painting and plastering.

They have from four rooms up to six rooms, are built on FHA specifications and can be financed through the FHA or a local lending institution.

— Letters — To the Editor

Mr. Editor:

Being more or less of a movie fan, my wife and I often visit the Hilltop Movie Houses and I could not help but notice the Don't Give a Damme attitude of the Movie going Public on each occasion when the audience is requested to stand and sing the National Anthem.

There are several things come to mind in thinking over this situation and for the benefit of all of us I would like to outline them.

Either we don't know the words of our National Anthem or we are ashamed to show any feeling by singing it when requested to.

May I suggest to the Theater Owners of the Hilltop that it might be good for them and for our Citizens if they would contact one of the Veteran Organizations on the Hilltop, either the V. F. W. or the Legion, and request them to furnish some member of their Post or Auxiliary, in uniform, to appear on the stage in uniform and lead the Audience in singing, when the National Anthem and the Flag of this Nation is displayed.

I am not a sob Artist, nor am I a flag waver, but I do condemn this total lack of respect for the National Anthem and the Flag of our Nation, by the People of this Section of this City.

It is well and good for us to laugh this type of thing off and say we are a different type of people than we had in every other war, but the fact remains, that IF we don't show a little more feeling about this war, we will lose it as sure as there is a God in Heaven.

Have we, like the People of France, reached a point in our National Life, where we do not care what becomes of us as a Nation? If not, it's time to wake up and show it.

THE OLD SARGE

"THE FIREMEN"

Those heroes who fight the fire
Remember when you pray
Guarding the home that we admire
Without any foolish display.
They may wake us from our slumber
In the darkness of the night
Be thankful if not your humber
Help others in that plight.

I've hard sneering words outspoken
And words that had some ire
They would quickly stop their jokin'
If their buildings were one fire.
There's music in those wheels a-turnin'
And the sounding of their gong
When our house with speed is burnin'
And we mingle with the throng.

Of course they are paid money
But in comfort can't retire
And there is no money honey
To pay a fireman at a fire.
When you think of pay just ponder
Their reward is way up younder
Where they do not pay with money.

Embarrassing

When Acid Indigestion, Gas on Stomach or Heartburn make you feel uncomfortable or embarrass you, try Alka-Seltzer, which contains alkalizing buffers and so helps counteract the associated Excess Stomach Acidity.

But the relief of these minor stomach upsets is only a small part of what you can expect Alka-Seltzer to do for you. You will find it effective for Pain Relief in Headache, Neuralgia, Colds and Muscular Aches and Pains. It contains an analgesic, (sodium acetyl salicylate), made more prompt and effective in its pain-relieving action by alkaline buffer salts.

When hard work or strenuous exercise make you feel tired and dragged out, enjoy the refreshing effect of a glass of sparkling, tangy Alka-Seltzer.

HAVE YOU EVER NOTICED?
Have you noticed that certain types of metal fasteners have a tendency to rot the fabric to which they are attached? Reason: The cloth can't dry out quickly. No such trouble with genuine Pearl Buttons. They will outlast the garment itself. When you buy wash garments see that they are equipped with Pearl Buttons.

IN MEMORIAM
JACQUES — In memory of David's sixth birthday in Heaven.

Tis midnight and as I lay gazing
into the heavens so blue,
I am meditating and thinking, my
dear boy of you.
The stars are shining so brightly,
up there in the sky,
And Death after all, is just passing on to our home on high.
The curtains that are now drawn,
will some day open wide.
And Mother, Dad and loved ones will meet you on the other side.
You have left this sinful warring world for your eternal home of Joy.
"Thank God," you'll never need a gun to shoot
some other Mother's boy.
Mother, Dad and Loved Ones.

Modern Hilltop Shopping Center To Have Formal Opening This Week End

Craft Lauds Drive-In Market Idea On Hilltop

O. H. Craft, local realtor, had this to say about the new drive-in market this week:

"The new Hilltop drive-in shopping center, located between Chase-av and Roys-av on the north side of W. Broad-st, two units of which are open for business, represents the largest single commercial construction project in the entire West Side area of Columbus for the year 1941. The promotional work for this project began in June, 1941, and actual construction work got under way early in October, and was in a near state of completion on Jan. 15 of this year.

"Due to difficulties encountered, this completed building reflects credit upon those charged with the responsibility of coordinating the varied operations represented in such an effort under very trying conditions.

"The original unit in this drive in market block was promoted and constructed in 1938. Having been the agency through which these projects were promoted, it has been interesting to observe the public interest in the drive-in shopping idea, its importance and convenience to the growing demands of a greater Hilltop, as it keeps pace with other sections of a growing city."

Congratulations

To Mr. Stauch on the opening of his fine new shopping center.

Congratulations

To Mr. Outcalt on the fine designed building and to the General Contractor Mr. Setterlin & Son.

Kroger In New Building

Largest of the three rooms in the new Hilltop Shopping Center is occupied by Kroger Super Market.

The store is managed by Leroy Kisker and has approximately 15 clerks available.

The new store is one of the most modern in the city, having large aisles and large islands for the display of foods of all kinds.

Campbell Plans Annual Trip

Plans are being formulated for the ninth annual summer trip through the northeastern part of the United States by W. D. Campbell, art teacher.

This trip has become famous and offers an opportunity to art students to see America first.

The group will take in such scenic spots as Cornell University, Eighth Lake, Fort Ticonderoga, New York City, Boston, and possibly several of the New England states.

They will travel by automobile and trailer two or three thousand miles carrying their tents, cots, clothing, stove, and other necessities for five to seven weeks vacation.

Three Fine Rooms In New Drive-In Center

Three fine business rooms are the latest addition to the Hilltop business district, located at Roys-av and Broad-st.

This new Hilltop shopping center houses a Kroger Super Market and the new Economy Drug Store. One room is for rent through the O. H. Craft agency.

All the rooms are 100 feet deep. The Kroger room has a 55 foot frontage and Economy Drug Store frontage is 30 feet while the vacant room is 40 feet in width.

The Kroger room is finished in glazed brick and the other rooms are plaster finished. All floors are of beautifully designed mastic block.

General contractor for the new building was Robert Setterlin and Son, 1030 W. Third-av.

All leasing contracts were handled by O. H. Craft, realtor, with offices at 2478 W. Broad-st.

Architectural planning was by J. Edgar Outcalt, architect, 232 N. High-st.

Blocks were furnished by the Dale Block Co., 136 S. Yale-av.

Ready mixed concrete was furnished by F. W. Slowter Trucking Co., 1997 Jackson-pk.

Excavating was done by George Igel & Son, Inc., Mound and Sandusky-st.

Ornamental iron on the front of the building is being installed by J. T. Edwards & Co., 1241 McKinley-av.

The large modern display show windows were installed by the Columbus Plate Glass Co.

The mastic tile flooring was installed by Howards Building Service, 60 Jefferson-av.

All of the brick in the building was furnished by Berkhemer-White, 908 W. Third-av.

All of the brick laying was by F. M. Peart, brick contractor, 1283 E. Fulton-st.

Insulation and inside millwork was furnished by Grandview Lumber & Coal Co., 1401 W. Goodale-st

The Earl E. Bright Roofing Co., 34 E. Main St., roofed the building.

Clarence H. Ballenger Co., general painting contractors, were the painting contractors for the complete job.

The black top driveway, which will be one of the largest on the Hilltop, will be furnished by M. A. Pfeifer, asphalt and paving contractor, 274 S. Glenwood-av.

Stauch Is Owner Of Center

Completion of the new Hilltop shopping center at Roys and Broad marks another step in many by Edwin H. Stauch, 3022 Crescent-dr, in building the Hilltop.

He was born on the Hilltop and has lived here practically all his life.

In recent years he has been responsible for the construction of many Hilltop business buildings.

He is married and has a daughter, Betty Edwyne, a junior at Ohio State University. She is majoring in business administration and is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

Mr. Stauch's hobby is trapshooting. He belongs to various gun clubs in the city.

Economy Drug Opens New Store In Shopping Center

Formal opening of the new Economy Drug Store in the new shopping center at Roys and Broad will be held today, tomorrow and Sunday, according to Harry Haney, proprietor.

Fred Asay, who has been connected with a downtown drug firm for 12 years, will be manager of the new store.

The drug store has the longest fountain on the Hilltop, being 40 feet in length. Luncheonette service includes booth and counter seats which will accommodate 51 persons.

The prescription room is in the back of the store and is of twentieth century design, completely glassed in so the customer can watch any prescriptions being made up.

In the front of the store is the greeting card and stationery department featuring a personal monogram service.

Through the center of the store is a 25 foot long candy case filled with candies of all kinds. The cosmetic department is 30 feet in length on the east side of the store. There is also a special tobacco and beverage department.

There are 10 employees at the store and a registered pharmacist will be on duty at all times.

The Economy Drug Store is the only Rexall agency on the Hilltop and is the largest independent drug store in the city.

"The idea! Accepting gifts from a strange man. You don't know what you're getting into," stormed the mother. And the daughter replied, "Yes, I do; a mink coat!"

"Let's go to the park tonight, instead of the movies."

"Just because it's free?"

"Yes, free of prying ushers and neighbors."

"When I looked out of the window, Johnny, I was glad to see you playing marbles with Billy."

"We wasn't playing marbles, Ma. We just had a fight and I was helping him pick up his teeth."

Greenhouse Proves Place Of Fascinating Interest

With more than the traditional Heinz "57" varieties of plants, three more to be exact, the West High greenhouse proves to be one of the most interesting and fascinating departments of the school.

Being built at the time the school was completed, plants from everywhere have been collected and cared for year after year.

Upon entering the greenhouse you would see a long glass enclosed room with a slanting roof, to catch the rays of the sun. Around the room a shelf is built. One one-half of this shelf, the experiments of students are kept, while on the other half are any number of plants.

The center of the room is a mass of tall green grass-like plants.

A cement side wall runs around the entire structure.

The greenhouse is heated by the rays of the sun as well as the furnace.

Animals, as well as plants, thrive here. It could hardly be called a fish aquarium, but the greenhouse contains one small alligator, several fish (one gold), and one large turtle.

The scarcity of rubber shall never touch West High so long as we have the rubber plant in full bloom.

We also have a priority on a cotton plant and a bannana plant to mention a few of the unusual species.

In addition to being an attractive spot, students of botany use the glass house for observation and experiments.

E. R. Reed is in charge of the glass-house.

Four-Mile Marker Is Historic

Within a "gun's shot" of West High School, rising about two feet above the pavement at Huron Avenue and West Broad Street, is a stone marker. Only a few persons now give it a passing glance. Students of West High have doubtless seen it numerous times, but perhaps only a few know of its significance.

However, before "gas buggies" were known and state highway markers were erected, it was of interest to all travelers on the National Road. Although now it is inside Columbus, it formerly was four miles from the center of town, presumably Broad and High streets.

At this point also an inn, known as the Four-Mile House, was a community center for the natives on "Sullivant Hill"—now the Hilltop.

Travelers on the national road anticipated the hospitality which characterized this famous tavern.

Other taverns in the borough of Columbus proper furnished keen competition for the Four-Mile Inn. Such names as the following were familiar 100 years ago: the National Hotel, operated by John Noble; the Franklin House, by Jeremiah Armstrong; the Eagle Hotel, by David Brooks; the White Horse, by Amos Mencely; the Farmers' and Mechanics' Tavern, by T. Cadwallder; and an extension boarding house, by Ira Grover.

Pupils Cost An Average Of $105 Each

Each pupil in Columbus' school system cost taxpayers an average of $105 for current expenses during the 1940 school year, Dr. Thomas C. Holy of the Ohio State University Bureau of Educational Division, reported recently.

Among seventeen senior and eight junior highs of the city, West's cost per pupil totaled only $99.51 for the school year ending June, 1940.

Our school is likewise lowest in administration expenses of the school system, with but slightly more than $2,500 being spent.

The total amount spent on instruction is also lower than that of the other schools.

Repair expenses are modest, being much less than that of any other senior high.

Last year your school requisitioned an assortment of necessary merchandise, according to W. V. Drake, clerk of the Board of Education.

The list includes: 33 reams of bond paper, 123 reams of mimeograph paper, 16 boxes of chalk, 18 boxes of paper clips, 9 dozen news pads, 9 dozen note pads, 12 dozen erasers, 9 packages of carbon paper, 16 boxes of thumb tacks, 24 pounds of mimeograph ink, 26 bags of rubber bands, 72 typewriter ribbons and 33 mimeograph stencils.

Jane—The best way to hold your husband is by taking his shoes off every night.

Joan — When he comes home?

Jane—No, dearie, when he wants to go out.

"You're the sweetest girl in 48 states. Can I say more?"

"Yes, you can add the state of matrimony and make me the sweetest girl in 49 states!"

Protect Furniture With Oil or Polish

Furniture is likely to dry out and crack, warp, or become loose-jointed from hot, dry air in modern heated homes, so Anne Biebricher, home furnishings specialist, Ohio State University, advises homemakers to keep furniture surfaces sealed with an oil or polish in winter and summer.

Oil keeps furniture surface in good condition and gives it an attractive appearance. Good polish may be purchased and used according to directions, or a satisfactory and inexpensive polish can be made by mixing one part turpentine with two parts boiled linseed oil. Use the turpentine-linseed oil polish at least twice a year, applying it with a soft cloth, then wiping excess off with a clean cloth. Rub the surface until the wood is entirely dry and the fingers leave no mark.

Mrs. Biebricher says if the wood is badly soiled, it will probably benefit from washing. For this, use a mixture of three tablespoons boiled linseed oil and one tablespoon of turpentine in a quart of hot water. Use a soft cloth dipped in the solution, then rub the surface with a dry cloth. Finally, apply the turpentine and oil polish.

Clean a waxed surface that has been spotted or scratched by washing, then re-wax it. If the wood is dark, the wax may be tinted. White spots on varnished furniture caused by water or hot dishes may be rubbed lightly with a piece of flannel dampened with spirits of camphor or essence of peppermint; then use furniture polish.

Exercise Care In Storing Waste Paper

Care in the storage of waste paper was urged this week by Fire Prevention Chief Lee M. Green. "It is foolish and unpatriotic," he said," to risk burning our homes and factories by carelessly storing paper and rags while awaiting collection."

Chief Green suggested that people saving waste paper arrange with some organization for collection at regular intervals. We know that we must conserve all of our resources and the burning of paper and rags today is more than ever a disgraceful waste, the chief stated.

Accumulated papers in attics and basements should be disposed of at once. The attic especially should be cleared at once of all combustible material as a defense measure.

State Improving Main Highways For Defense

H. G. Sours, director of highways, Ohio Department of Highways, with approval of Gov. John W. Bricker issued the following statement regarding the Highway Department during the national emergency:

"Since the national emergency first developed, the Ohio Department of Highways has been directing its main efforts to improving the State's principal highways, because highways and highway transportation are a most vital part of that program.

This is a war of fewer men at the fighting front but one requiring infinitely more of equipment, material and supplies. Many of our older highways have been severely damaged as a result of the enormous tonnage of materials being transported over the trunkline roads in our state highway system. Ohio is a great industrial state which is now engaged in a heavy manufacturing program in national defense. We are also geographically located so that a vast amount of heavy hauling crosses Ohio to reach other industrial areas.

The national government has called upon the State Highway Department of this state along with other states to handle the construction of military access roads leading into, through and around industrial defense areas as well as military and naval bases and camps. In response to that call, our department has naturally been cooperating wholeheartedly in this work so essential to national defense.

The State Highway Department has also received instructions that all federal funds available to the department and not yet under contract, must be placed on highways of defense importance.

This means that all of our regular Federal Aid appropriations, together with other special appropriations are to be placed upon roads of military and defense importance From now on it will be necessary that we have the official approval of the War or Navy Department on all Federal Aid Projects. This means that many of the secondary projects heretofore planned will have to be suspended for the duration of the emergency.

We feel sure that the Highway Department will have the complete understanding and cooperation of all concerned in meeting the serious problem confronting us in a manner that will demonstrate the complete unity of the people of Ohio and the United States."

West Grad Heads Council

Dormitory house councils at Ohio Wesleyan University will form a senate soon, of which Emagene Forsythe, of 432 Binns boulevard, Columbus, president of Monnett hall, will be a member, for the purpose of discussing student government problems with the councilling body

The senate will be a new student-governing body on the campus, and will co-operate with the regular council, maintaining quiet in the dormitories, in arranging for adequate representation, and in generally maintaining a more democratic student government.

"The way our daughter carries on is awful."

"There ought to be a law."

"Yes, a son-in-law."

"My wife is a whiz at removing things from clothes."

"Grease spots?"

"No, five spots and ten spots."

"When I take a girl riding in a taxi I never let the mounting fare bother me."

AMERICA WILL STAND

Awake, America, arise.
Lift freedom's banner high.
Unfurl the flag Red, White and Blue.
Let her proud colors fly,
From North to South, from East to West,
Across our bright free land,
Proclaim to ev'ry nation,
America will stand.

Put on the armor of our God,
Truth, righteousness and peace,
The shield of faith protecting us,
'Til war's distress shall cease,
The clarion call is sounding clear,
Go forth is the command,
Beneath the light of freedom,
America will stand.

(Chorus)
Oh, America will stand,
Yes, America will stand,
Beneath the bright light of freedom,
America will stand,
For her we'll be united,
Pledge allegiance, heart and hand,
For under freedom's banner,
America will stand.

The song has been and will again be played over WHKC.

A Successful Minstrel

Minstrel End Men

Herbert Davis

Lee Phillips

Billy Southworth

Tom Lewis

These are the lads who will carry on the patter filled with wisecracks and humor at the Hilltop Minstrel next week. All are end men in this year's show.

Phillips is chief of detectives, Southworth is in the poultry business on the Hilltop, Davis is owner of the Lewis & Noon Coal Co., and Tom Lewis is a decorator.

He — Do you think you'd make a good secretary?

She — I don't know. I haven't had mush experience.

"When Crumpitt died, he left everything to charity."

"That so? What did he leave?"

"Widow and four children."

"So that is Eddie's fifth wife? He must be quite a lady-killer."

"You said it. He starves 'em to death."

"Have you tried to persuade your wife to give up chiropractor treatments?"

"Yes, but she won't take any back talk from me."

Give some girls the world with a fence around it, and they'll keep you on the fence.

Boy, oh boy! That was some blonde with you last night. Where did you get her?"

"Dunno. I just opened my billfold and there she was."

Rabbit—"We certainly know how to multiply."

Snake—"I'm a tricky little adder, myself."

"Riffkin calls his new set of uppers a London Bridge."

"How come?"

"Because it's always falling down."

Nurse—Time to take your bath.

Hillbilly Patient—No-no! I been baptized once!

McDermott — Weel, McPherson, where's that chicken ye promised to gie me?

McPherson—Mighty sorry, McDermott, but it got weel.

The only serious reflecting some girls do, is when they are on a polished dance floor.

Cutie—Now, Mister, you go straight home.

Gent—Can't.

Cutie—Why not?

Gent—I'm shoushed!

Nowadays, a big game hunter is a girl who brings out the beast in men.

"No wonder Jimmy's always smiling."

"Why, what got into him?"

"A new set of teeth."

He—Will you be faithful to me?

She — Well, I've promised the same thing to five others, so I guess I can make it six.

Mrs. Whiffle — Mrs. Smoosh is awfully optimistic, isn't she?

Mr. Whiffle — Yes. She's one of those women who think that by wearing old clothes when they go to a doctor there'll be an insignificant bill!

Cutie — Mister, don't you know that drinking will ruin your stomach?

Gent—So what? I always keep my coat buttoned.

Cute Girl—Jerry gave me this lovely engagement ring. Doesn't it excite you?

Cuter Girl—Yes, I nearly cried when I had to give it up.

"Did you hear about the skunk who committed suicide?"

"No—why?"

"He had halitosis."

"Is your husband stingy?"

"Stingy? Why, he made me join a nudist colony so he wouldn't have to buy me a summer outfit."

"Is this a picture of the girl you're going to marry?"

"Yes, what do you think of her?"

"Well, she must have a lot of money!"

The Girl—Darling, I must confess, your kisses remind me of another.

The Boy—Oh, pshaw!

The Girl — No, McGillicuddy!

Joe—If I had a wife like yours, I'd never go out nights.

Jim — Huh, if you had a wife like mine, you wouldn't dare.

"That fellow's work has driven him to cutting out dolls."

"Gracious, what does he do?"

"He's a movie censor."

Astronomer (in the mountains)—"Do you know where the big dipper is?"

Mountaineer — "Why, shore. Hit's in th' sabin, next to th' whiskey bar'l."

Ham Actor—When I step out on the stage, the audience ceases to exist.

Critic—I know; I've seen them walk out on you.

Jim — My mother-in-law has visited my house only once since my marriage.

Joe—Gee, you're lucky!

Mountain Guy—What wuz you doin' with thet shotgun, gal?

Mountain Gal — Ah wuz huntin' fo' a husband.

Mountain Guy—But you is already married.

Gal—Ah know it. Ah wuz huntin' squirrels fo' th' lazy varmint's supper.

Interlocutor

Mayor Floyd Green

As in the past several years Mayor Green will act as interlocutor for the big Hilltop Minstrel next week.

There she sat, surrounded by a score of her admirers. Her beauty was beyond description, but haughtly mein frightened away the less intrepid. As the music started again, the timid youth lurking in the background darted forward.

"Pardon me, Miss, may I have the next dance?"

"I'm sorry, but I never dance with a child," she said with an amused smile.

"Oh, a thousand pardons!" he said. "I didn't know your condition!"

Blonde — My boyfriend can't do a stroke of work without liquor.

Brunette—You mean he's a barfly?

Blonde—No a bartender.

Blonde—I'm Mr. Blinker's wife.

Brunette—I'm Mr. Blinker's secretary.

Blonde—Oh, were you?

Coy—Hey, don't you know that you're not supposed to park on a highway and make goo-goo eyes?

Guy—Aw, don't be silly. When a guy has to goo, he has to goo.

The jockey said—"Boy, if I don't git rid o' this cold soon I'll be a dead one."

"Didja do whut th' doctor said?" asked an exercise boy.

"Naw!" the jockey replied, "Th' sign on his door said '10 to 1' an' I wouldn't monkey with no long shot like that!"

Ohio Has 66 Varieties of Wild Animals

How many kinds of wild animals are there in Ohio?

A recent survey of Ohio mammals made by David T. Katz of the Ohio Wildlife Research Station at Ohio State University gives a total of 66 varieties, six of which have been introduced by the white man.

The total of 66 does not include 10 species which have been extirpated since the coming of the white race. These are the wolverine, fisher, pine marten, timber wolf, Canadian lynx, panther, red backed vole, snowshoe rabbit, American elk, and the bison. Some of the most feared and some of the most sought after of North American animals are in this list and it is surprising to think that they once roamed Ohio.

Only two of the larger animals still persist — the Virginia deer and the black bear. The former is the most common in the hilly sections east and south and the latter is found in a few caves in southern Ohio. Other species which we do not think of as being natives are the porcupine, beaver, wildcat, badger, otter and coyote, but some of these animals are found from time to time in the state.

The list of introduced species brings out the fact that, as in the case with birds, some of our worst pests were brought in by man. One marked difference, however, is that the birds were introduced deliberately, the mammals, accidentally. The house mouse, Norway and black rats, the escaped house cat, the ferret and the bassarisk make up the list of foreigners.

Girl Scouts Observe Thirtieth Birthday

Girl Scouts all over America will be celebrating the thirtieth anniversary of their founding Thursday, Mar. 12. The first troop of the organization was formed by Juliette Gordon Low in Savannah, Ga. Only eight members belonged to that troop. The original name was not Girl Scouts, but was Girl Guides.

From that small band of eight girls in 1913 this organization has grown until its membership now numbers 654,870.

Along with the growth in numbers the organization has widened its activities and service. During their birthday month every year, each girl contributes a penny to the Juliette Low Fund which is used in Girl Scout work all over the world.

Hilltop troops are planning various parties for the month of March in celebration of their birthday.

OHIO STATE PREPARES FOR SUMMER QUARTER

Students attending Ohio State University will register May 1 for their summer quarter work, it is announced by university officials.

The pre-registration of summer students is a new policy, intended to help the university prepare for the summer quarter under the new accelerated program.

According to a new bulletin on summer quarter courses now ready for distribution, all 10 Ohio State colleges are "stepping up" their programs, enabling students to complete their courses in a shorter period of time.

PAPER IS CONSERVED

Ohio State University students are now writing their themes and reports on both sides of the paper, as a conservation project.

— Letters — To the Editor

AN OPEN LETTER TO A USER OF A HILLTOP STREET:

This letter is addressed to a person—I don't know who—that hit my car while it was parked in front of Gray's drug store on West Broad St. about 10:15 Monday morning. You must have known you hit my car or don't you care about other people's property? The damage you caused indicates that it must have been backed into. The front left fender is pushed in and the hub cap is crushed.

I was mad when I saw this but as I am writing this letter I am wondering what kind of a person would leave the scene of an accident. You must have known you hit my car so that is no excuse. This block on Broad St. is a bad one at its best. People insist on double parking and jay walking. The police do little or nothing about this. It is not my car so much as it is the principle of the thing. Some day it won't be a bent fender but a broken leg or a crushed skull and a loss of life. Can't something be done about this block between Eureka and Oakley?

I'll fix my car, "Mr. Wrecker," don't worry. But come around and see me some time as I would like to see the kind of a person that would leave the scene of an accident.

I'LL TUNE OUT THE ALKA-SELTZER ANNOUNCEMENT
Don't—THAT'S THE MOST IMPORTANT THING YOU'LL HEAR TONIGHT
"When statements about Alka-Seltzer are made over the air, please, please believe them."
Mrs. Oma Catherine Jones
MILLIONS suffer less from Headache, Acid Indigestion, Distress of Colds "Morning After" and Muscular Fatigue because they have heard—and believed—Alka-Seltzer radio announcements.
To these millions, the relief obtained by the use of Alka-Seltzer is worth far more than the genuine enjoyment they get from the broadcasts.
The most important parts of our radio program, both to you and to us, are the commercial announcements. Once you have tried Alka-Seltzer we believe you will agree with us.
But try Alka-Seltzer because it is an unusually effective medicine not because you enjoy the radio programs.
WHY ALKA-SELTZER IS SO EFFECTIVE
The pain-relieving analgesic in Alka-Seltzer is in complete solution, ready to ease the distress as soon as you swallow it. The painrelieving action is made more effective by alkaline buffers. The alkalizing elements in Alka-Seltzer reduce excess stomach acidity.
Get Alka-Seltzer the next time you pass a drug store.

Fashion Flash!

Get into print this Spring . . . it's the key to our excitingly alive times. Newest of the new prints are fine line black prints on a bright background. Paisley, chantilly lace, and lace rosette patterns are among the new prints offered. Black paisley print on faille is news in both print and fabric. Widely spaced vivid floral prints on solid color backgrounds are suggested for dressy crepes. Tiny florals are shown in two-piece "suit dresses." Rayon crepe is the most popular fabric in these two-piece styles, although print faille is stealing the fashion spotlight.

See this lovely print at Seiller's in their new showing of nationally known "Juniors."

Vitamin Prints

Prints make a splash in sportswear, too. Bright "vitamin" prints are used for sports blouses and play dresses. Take your vitamins in color charged carrot prints, bright apple prints and other vegetables and fruits that usually grace the greengrocer's stand. See the Junior line of new dresses Seiller's are showing this week and you'll cheer for the new Vitamin Prints.

Small, widely spaced floral prints also show up in sportswear. Stripes run rampant in the Spring sportswear picture, with bright South American contributions taking the lead. Very gay "pagan" prints also show the Latin American influence.

Bucks Win 6 Games In Last Half

By Harold Ilers

After dropping most of their games at the beginning of the season, a green but fighting Cowboy team came back to win six of the last seven games which they played.

In the final league game, the Bucks drubbed the hapless East Bengals, 41 to 25. The Westerners had some trouble in getting their offensive started, but after it once began to move, the game was a very one-sided affair.

Phil Wisdom captained the team while George Ours was on the bench most of the game due to a cold. Jack Underman led the scoring with 14 points, Dick Hoover added 11 and Bill Richards scored nine for the Cowboys.

Their win over the Tigers gave the Cowboys a .600 percentage for the league schedule and a .500 record for the whole season.

In the district tournament, West drew Newark as their opponent. Newark has a record of 19 wins and two losses.

Every ounce of rubber saved by civilians goes into a war product. Proper care of your tires can increase their usefulness and make such saving possible. The United States Rubber Company, through its Car Owner's Creed, has issued this advice on tire preservation: (1) Wheels should be checked for balance frequently, since the greatest cause of "front end jitters" is unbalanced wheel assembly; (2) The commonest form of misalignment is excessive "toe-in or toe-out" of the front wheels which scuffs away rubber. Check wheel alignment periodically. (3) When brakes are out of adjustment tread wear is uneven. Have brakes checked often by a dealer with up to date equipment; (4) Watch the pressure in your tires. Underinflation, say U. S. Rubber engineers, can cut mileage 20%; (5) Inspect your tires and tubes regularly to locate troubles before they become serious. When cords are broken inside the tire you can't see them but they may cut the tube if not located; (6) Avoid sharp impacts with curbs or curb stones or other objects. Severe impacts may be absorbed by the tire but they are often deadly. Rim cuts kill tires.

Staggering Loss of Lives In Traffic

Motor vehicle traffic claimed 2,458 lives in Ohio during 1941 as compared to 2,070 fatalities for 1940, according to official statistics just released.

This increase in deaths was attributable to the increase in traffic due to national defense, announced H. G. Sours, director, Ohio Department of Highways.

On a travel basis, the Ohio death rate for 1941 was eight per cent higher than for 1940.

Of the 2,458 traffic deaths in the state last year, approximately one-third of this number were on state highways outside municipalities.

"This increase," Director Sours cited, "was due, as for the state as a whole, to the great increase in motor travel on these highways."

Collisions between motor vehicles accounted for almost half of the 1941 fatality toll on rural state highways.

"The most frequent driver violation," said Harry E. Neal, chief engineer of the division of traffic and safety of the state highway department, "was speed over the legal limit or speed too fast for road and weather conditions. Next most common fault of drivers," he added, "was operating on the wrong side of the road. The most favorable 1941 trend on state highways outside municipalities, pointed out Director Sours, was the reduction in auto-train fatalities.

"Since the victims of traffic accidents often include workers vital to war production," said Director Sours, "Governor Bricker has asked that a little more effort be made by all of us who drive or walk to promote traffic safety this year.

"The help of every citizen is needed to put a stop to the needless waste of lives and money at a time when both are vital to the security of our country."

Cornbread sticks are excellent to serve with soups and salads.

Large Program For Ohio In '42

"It is apparent that considerable confusion and misunderstanding have grown out of discussions of and reports on the various regulations and restrictive policies governing highway work as laid down by the federal government since the declaration of war," H. G. Sours, director, Ohio Department of Highways, said today.

A brief review of the situation as it now stands might be helpful. First of all construction projects involving the use of any federal aid funds must be approved by the war or navy departments, and their needs in the defense program justified. This is true whether or not the use of critical materials is involved. This statement applies principally to state highway projects, although it may also apply to access roads which are not on the state highway system.

When we speak of critical materials we refer principally to metal products, steel being the most important and by far the most used. The state highway department has been ordered to redesign all structures using structural steel and where at all possible to substitute reinforced concrete.

More than ever maintenance work will be increased. General maintenance and repair, patching, drainage, etc., will continue, and above all necessary surface treating and resurfacing should be continued so as to preserve what is available.

"There will probably be quite a large construction program in Ohio this year. It will, however, necessarily be limited, where federal funds are involved, to defense highways, and it will be necessary to reduce the use of critical materials to a minimum. Construction and reconstruction, state, county and municipal where needed, can proceed where the funds are available by eliminating critical materials, substituting where possible and by using what is available without restriction. Maintenance must by all means be kept up. A highway represents a large investment and should insofar as possible be protected.

According to statistics just published by the National Safety Council, Columbus' record for 1941 traffic fatalities was highest, as compared with records of other Ohio cities. With a rate of 19.3 traffic fatalities per 100,000 population, Columbus topped other Ohio cities in the larger population class, Cleveland's rate being 16.3; Cincinnati's 15.4; and Toledo's 16.1 for last year. Among cities in the next lower population group and with less favorable records than Columbus, Akron had a rate of 19.6; Dayton, 19.9; and Canton, 20.3. Think it over and slow down. Those extra few seconds may means the saving of a life.

A Nebraska editor received a poem from a lady entitled "Will You Miss Me, Darling?" The editor returned it, saying, "If he does, he should never be trusted with firearms again."

Bowling Congress Will Bring 28,000

The 42nd annual American Bowling Congress now in progress at the Ohio State Fairgrounds Coliseum is in its third day and is getting down to serious business since the gala opening festivities are over.

The Congress will continue 70 days and more than sixty thousand visitors are expected to attend the tournament, with teams coming from all over the country. The entire office staff of the American Bowling Congress has been moved from their headquarters in Milwaukee, Wis., to Columbus, and are now working from offices in the building next to the coliseum.

The only man who ever gets on an old maid's nerves is a dentist.

ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY

R. N. Winegardner, Washington C. H., O., has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor of Ohio at the primary election to be held Aug. 11. Winegardner was the runner-up candidate for the same nomination at the primary election in 1940 when he came in second in a field of 11 candidates.

"THE WIND"

The Almighty I am, long before Abraham
When sin provokes my ire—
When my face is black I level the Earth
Can level a city if I desire.
I scatter the seeds of flowers and weeds
Lay flat the golden grain
Mortal man builds high while I of the sky
Can destroy his vain domain.

When mad I enthrall, level large and small
No man my power can stand,
Without God men blunder, but I cast asunder
Have command over the sea and land.
Men build a mansion and built of expansion
And I laugh at their infancy
Since the dawn of time my power is sublime
I control the waves of the sea.

The Hilltop Record

In Its 25th Continuous Year Of Community Service

Vol. XXV, No. 57 | The Hilltop, Friday, March 13, 1942 | Total No. 1201

Record Contest Closes

One of the most successful contests ever conducted by the Record came to a close Tuesday with two prizes being awarded in the Misspelled Word Contest.

First prize goes to Mrs. L. S. Embleton, 603 S. Hague-av, who receives a $7.50 chenille bedspread from Seiller's, and second prize, three dollars in cash from the Hilltop Van & Storage, goes to Mrs. Wm. C. Maier, 1525 Thomas-av.

Correct sentence was "With spring coming, watch Record ads for house furnishings and decorating needs." Neatness also entered into the judging.

The People Want To Assist

There seems to be a lot of talk over the unwillingness of people to take part in the defense program. And I choose to call a lot of it just talk.

Most people are perfectly willing to take part in the program when they can be shown what they can do and when they are called upon. Right here on the Hilltop there seems to be proof of this statement.

This past week when members of the civilian police were sworn into service down at the safety building there was a predominantly large number of men from the Hilltop. This is a fine record and this community is to be commended.

On the other hand we have heard numerous men make the statement that they have been registered and have offered their services but as yet have had no call to participate in any phase of the program. There seems to have been a slip somewhere along the line in getting the registrants lined up for a specific job.

We believe the Hilltop is behind the civilian defense program in a big way and will continue to be so as long as they are shown there is a job to do and politics is not allowed to enter the picture.

Bits From Here and There: Chet Rinehart will be home from Randolph Field, Texas, sometime about the 22nd for a ten day furlough . . . George Pfaff has purchased an eight room brick at 323 S. Ogden-av, and is duplexing it . . . Frances Cruea won't go out alone at nite . . . H. C. "Hank" Foerst, 141 Sylvan-av, is recovering in University Hospital following an appendectomy last Friday . . . Esther Weakley reports having "war refugees" as visitors, folks from New York and the west coast . . . Comes word from Lena Webb at Banning, Calif., that people out there are sleeping peacefully through the blackouts.

West Compiling List Of Men In Service

"There are approximately 100 persons in some service of this present war who have graduated from West High School within the last 10 years," said C. S. Kennedy in explaining a new project undertaken by the school in an effort to determine the names of students now in the service.

These graduates are men and women enlisted in the air corps, army, navy or Red Cross work. After all the names have been compiled a roster will be placed in the lobby of the school with the information on it.

Auxiliary Presents Flag To Draft Board

Camp Chase Legion Auxiliary No. 98 presented an American flag to Selective Service Board No. 13 Monday evening at a short program before the regular meeting of the board executives.

Mrs. Guy Myers, 142 S. Westmoor-av, president of the unit, presented the flag to Mrs. B. W. Owen, Americanism chairman, and she in turn presented it to Jerry Spears, chairman of Board 13.

IS RECOVERING

Mrs. James Haudashelt, 201 S. Warren-av, is recovering from a major operation in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

West Student Rates High

In the regional scholastic art contest held in Dayton recently Albert Spencer, of West High School, received second place for his water colors. Other paintings of Spencer's and some of Allen Seipel's, also a student at West, were exhibited in the Rike-Kumler Co. in Dayton.

Spencer was awarded the scholastic Gold Key for his work and his paintings will be further exhibited in the Carnegie Institute at Pittsburgh.

Seipel and Spencer were both named as winners of scholarships to the Columbus Art School in an Art Day Assembly held at West High School Tuesday.

W. D. Campbell, art instructor at West, has tutored the boys in their work.

To Build New Friends Church

Frank R. and Rilla Carson have donated the lot at 3553 Sullivant-av for the Franklin Heights Friends Church. Rev. Ben Cocherl will be the regular pastor. The basement of the new church has been dug and the building will be started as soon as weather permits.

It is expected that the new church will be dedicated May 24. There will be a series of four day meetings and free lunch will be served each day.

Services of the Highland Avenue Friends Church hitherto have been held in the Franklin Heights School on Sullivant-av.

Band Parents Club To Have Program

A Variety Night program will be held at West High Auditorium Friday, Apr. 24, sponsored by the West High Band Parents Club. Admission will be 28c for adults and 17c for students.

A meeting of the Band Parents Club will be held at the school Tuesday evening, Mar. 17, at 7:30 to complete plans for the program.

Civilian Defense Classes To Start At West March 20

Mass production in Civilian Defense training will be undertaken by the Fire Department next week, when approximately 5000 volunteers begin training at the city's five major high schools.

This eliminates the necessity and confusion of operating many small classes in different parts of the city. All classes will be held from 7:30 until 10:30 p. m. for a total of 36 hours.

Classes will be on Monday, Wednesday and Friday in one week, and on Tuesday and Thursday the next week. Persons starting on Monday will attend class on Monday, Wednesday and Friday in that week, and on Tuesday and Thursday the next week. Those starting on Tuesday will go on Tuesday and Thursday of that week and on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of the next week. Persons starting on the other days will attend in the same order.

The training includes five nights of fire fighting, gas and fire bomb extinguishment, and seven nights of first aid instruction, a total of 36 hours.

Persons unable to attend night classes may attend special day classes, on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from one until four o'clock, in the City Hall Council chamber. The same instruction will be given at all schools.

To secure recognition by the Civilian Council, all class sessions must be attended. However, holders of First Aid training certificates may be excused from taking this training again.

According to Fire Chief Welch, applications for training in the Fire Department Auxiliary Services total more than 7,000. At least twice that number will be needed. Every able-bodied person is urged to enroll, the chief said.

Classes in the basic course at West High will be held Mar. 20, 24, 26, 30 and Apr. 7. First Aid classes will be held Apr. 3, 7, 9, 13, 15, 17, 21.

Persons who work at night and wish to take the civilian defense training will have the opportunity by attending the daytime classes which will be conducted in the city hall council chamber from 1 to 4 in the afternoons on Mar. 17, 19, 24, 26, 31 and Apr. 2, 7, 9, 14, 16, 21, 23.

Anyone who has missed or thinks he will miss a class in civilian defense work being held at West High School may make up his work in another school. For a schedule of other schools, call C. H. Campbell, Ra. 2414.

Oyster Dinner

Alton Elementary School P.-T. A. will sponsor an oyster dinner Mar. 17 from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m. in the Town Hall. There will be sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cake as well. The dinner is open to the public.

O. H. Craft Writes Words For Tokio Tune Just Off Press

"Hi-Ho Tokio" is the title of a new song number just off the press, written by a Hilltopper, O. H. Craft.

The words are by Craft and music by Bob Carleton of Hollywood. The two have collaborated on the number which they have hopes of becoming a best seller, in keeping with many of the war tunes of the day.

Words of the song are as follows:

Around the Archipelago,
To get Hirohito,
Off we go to war.
The heavenly one,
Of the Rising Sun
Doesn't know it yet,
But his sun is set.

We'll never leave a single trace
Of his Japanese face
When we get to him.
Then we'll take his pants,
Say, excuse it please,
Hang him high in the Pacific breeze.

(Chorus)
Ho-Hi-Ho, we'll fly to Tokio,
No fish, no rice, we'll feed 'em crow,
Ho-Hi-Ho, we'll meet in Tokio.
On the way home we'll stop at Rome,
To Mussolini and make Hitler roar.
We'll finish the job in forty-four.
Ho-Hi-Ho, as off to war we go,
Hi-Ho Tokio.

Bellar Resigns Draft Board Post

Arthur J. Bellar this week resigned as secretary of Selective Service Board No. 13.

He points out that selective service regulations state that board members shall not be members of the land or naval forces and that he is a reserve officer, having been reinstated Feb. 9, 1942.

Union Lenten Meet At Oakley-av Church

Lenten services under the auspices of the Hilltop Ministerial Association will be held at the Oakley Avenue Baptist Church Wednesday, Mar. 18, 7:30 p. m.

Rev. L. S. Wilkes, pastor of the Hilltop Church of Christ, will deliver the sermon. Music will be furnished by the Church of Christ choir.

D. K. Finley Lists Suggestions For Preservation of Your Auto Tires

D. K. Finley, 733 S. Hague-av, executive director of the Columbus Council of Defense, has listed the following suggestions to aid the car owner in the preservation of valuable tires.

In order to provide an absolute identification to recover stolen tires a record should be kept of the make, serial number and wheel position of each tire.

Most important in keeping a tire in best shape is the correct inflation. Overinflation concentrates in one point and causes excessive wear in center of tread. Tires of equal size do not always take the same pressure. For correct pressure tires should be checked against a chart at a filling station.

Tires should be rigidly inspected for cuts, tacks, glass and other foreign items that might be lodged therein.

Static electricity causes tiny sparks to jump between tire casing and tube. This may burn "pin holes" in the tube. The tire will not go flat but it will make proper inflation difficult. A special powder blown inside each tube serves to neutralize static and will also aid in clearing up radio interference.

The slower you drive the longer your tires will wear. Driving speed should average about 40 mph in order to preserve the rubber.

All curves should be taken very slowly so the rubber is not scuffed from the tire.

Unbalanced brakes cause excessive tread wear, therefore brakes should be kept even.

Don't stop and start suddenly. One quick stop from 45 mph wears off rubber equal to 1½ miles of normal driving.

It is important that tires be kept aligned for a tire one-half inch out of line is dragged sideways 87 feet in every mile.

Avoid hitting curbs when parking. Bumping curbs inflicts bruises on the tires and eventually they may blow out.

The city league high school baseball schedule was announced yesterday after a meeting of the city coaches.

West's defending co-champion nine will play the following games:

Tuesday, Apr. 14—At East.
Friday, Apr. 17—South here.
Tuesday, Apr. 21—At Central.
Friday, Apr. 24—Aquinas here.
Tuesday, Apr. 28—North here.
Friday, May 1—East here.
Tuesday, May 5—At South.
Tuesday, May 12—Central here.
Tuesday, May 19—At Aquinas.
Tuesday, May 26—At North.

The Westerners have no out-of-town games on their list as yet, stated Coach George Williams.

Pitching Staff Is Good

With hurlers Dick Hoover and Bob Swisher from last year's squad, aided by George Ours and sophomore Bill Richards, who pitched two no-hitters for West Jr. last season, the Bucks' pitching staff looks to be the best in the city.

Other lettermen from last year's team include Roy Meloeny, Dale Young, Ray Laughlin and Charles Weidner.

Bill Richards, Jack Underman and Dick Hoover rated places on the annual city all-high teams. All three of the cagers were in the first nine scorers in the city league. George Ours, captain of the 1941-42 team, rated honorable mention.

Watson will carry a complete line of groceries, fresh vegetables and quality meats. He will offer a delivery service.

Lady Owns Sugar Rationing Card From Last War

Presenting a sugar rationing card to the grocer will not be entirely new to all people in this present situation for some of them can recall the similar happening in 1918.

Mrs. J. L. Cruikshank, 160 S. Harris-av, still has her card from the last war which she used when she lived in Fostoria, O.

The card reads in part:

"I have signed a pledge card to conserve sugar. I am the head of a family of five members. I agree to use the sugar obtained by this card according to the direction of the Federal Food Administration. Issued Aug. 10, 1918."

Mrs. Cruikshank says she recalls that she was permitted a half pound of sugar per week per person.

"This card was good four months," she said.

After the rationing of sugar began in the last war it was impossible for anyone to purchase sugar without presenting a card to the grocer.

Fischer was a barber supply salesman. He was a barber for many years and had lived in Columbus since 1902.

Surviving are his wife, Pauline; two sons, Donald of Middletown and Robert, 681 S. Ogden-av; a daughter, Mrs. Harry Esterbrook, 321 S. Richardson-av, and three grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete at the time of this writing.

Senior Class Play Chosen

The Senior dramatics classes of 1942 have decided to present, as their class play, "Pride and Prejudice," a sentimental comedy in three acts, dramatized by Helen Jerome from the novel by Jane Austen.

Mrs. Hilda Leach, dramatics instructor, decided to have two persons for each part, so as to give more people a chance to work in the play. The performance will be given two nights.

The play calls for twenty-six characters. The setting is in the eighteenth rentury, when the women wore long dresses and the men wore tight pants.

"Pride and Prejudice" has three acts of scenery, which will add variety and color to the production.

"Pride and Prejudice" cast, announced by Mrs. Leach, follows: Elisabeth, Mary Underwood, Norma Piscus; Jane, Mary Herbert, Mary C. Smith; Lydia, Marilyn Myers, Vivian Spencer; Mrs. Bennett, Nancy Sheperd, Donna Thompson; Miss Bingley, Elaine Fawley, Melda Porter; Charlotte Lucas, Ruth Wylie, Mary Ailes; Lady Lucas, Grace Carles, Evelyn Hartwick; Lady Catherine de Bourgh, Mary Jane Edsell, Jeanne Phillips; Mrs. Gardiner, Jeanine Currence, June Holland; Mrs. Lake, Grace Renne; Extra Girls, Elaine Waddington, Betty Anderson; Darcy, Roy Stingley, Merrill Colmery; Mr. Bennet, Allen Seipel, Ned Brockington; Bingley, Charles Williams, Ralph Bennett; Collins, Roy Sheehy, John Seip; Wickham, Granvill Merrill, Jim Le Sueur; Fitzwilliam, Tom Jones, Jim Brown; Hill (butler), Don Jewell (also assistant director).

LOSES DIAMOND RING

Dr. R. J. Miller, 2493 W. Broad-st, lost a four and one-quarter carat diamond valued at $1000 from his ring Saturday night, he reported to police. The stone was missed by Dr. Miller after he left his office and arrived at a dentist's office on W. Broad-st.

Final Showing of Minstrel Tonight

Friday the thirteenth and the last night for the thirteenth annual Hilltop Minstrel Show.

Capacity audiences filed to their seats the first two nights of the big show and for tonight there are 500 general admission seats left at 30 cents each.

The West High School auditorium quaked with laughter the first two nights of the show and from all appearances tonight is to be no exception.

Songs, dances and novelty numbers went right to the hearts of the wholly satisfied audiences.

A complete array of talent rounded out the show, set to the music of Mac Tooill's orchestra.

George Hardy and his blonde daughter, Jacqueline, are one of the main highlights of the show with their song and dance routine, "Me And My Shadow."

Once again Mayor Floyd Green is a success as interlocutor. End men Leo Phillips, Billy Southworth, Tom Lewis and Herb Davis supplied many of the better jokes.

The graceful gliding of Mary Kay Marchant and Firman Moore in their special waltz numbers is very pleasing as are the taps by Billy Bob Masters and Sue Ann Elleman.

The final performance starts tonight promptly at 8:15.

A hula number by Jeanne Irwin and Ann Patrick gets a good hand as does the additional Hawaiian touch given by the duet of Eleanor Smith and George Blackmore. Mary Leach does a military tap.

Another bright spot in the show is the sweet singing by Ethelmae Thompson.

Highlight of the comedy is the appearance several times of Lee Koontz in numbers that keep the audience in laughter.

The premier presentation of "Fight For America," written by F. L. Buckingham, chorus pianist, and sung by the quartet and chorus is very well received as is the solo number by E. B. Graham and additional tunes by the chorus.

A novelty act by Miss Keith Lovewell, attired as Topsy, who trips the light fantastic, is filled with laughs.

The discovery of the four Condon sisters with their harmony numbers is a definite valuable addition to the show.

Many other surprises are in store for the audience, among them—believe it or not—a song by Mayor Green.

Defense Volunteers May Register Here

Citizens of the Hilltop are being urged to register in some field of volunteer civilian defense service at the Hilltop Library on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays from 1 to 3 p. m. and from 5 to 9 in the evenings.

House Destroyed In Sunday Fire

While they were visiting in Mechanicsburg Sunday the home of Mr. and Mrs. Othel Cremeans, 834 Clarendon-av, was destroyed by fire. Unofficial loss was estimated at $1800 by the fire department.

The couple had left with their two children earlier in the day. Neighbors phoned in the alarm at 7:47 a. m. At the arrival of Company 17 the house was too far gone to save. Because it was outside of the city limits no water was available, firemen reported.

Origin of the fire was not known except that it started in the kitchen.

The family is living temporarily with relatives. Mr. Cremeans is an employe of the Kroger Baking Co. He said his house was insured.

Hilltop Lady Recalls Her Experience In Two Other Wars

"To my mind the other two wars I saw were much quieter, and there was not so much in the newspapers about them as there is this one," said Mrs. Fannie Nichols in an interview this week.

The other two wars she referred to were the Spanish-American and World War I.

Mrs. Nichols had a cousin who was a corporal in the Spanish-American War and judging by the letters he wrote her she has a fairly accurate knowledge of the tactics used by the enemy at that time.

"He told me how the enemy would dig deep trenches and cover them with foliage," she said. "Then if a soldier were to come riding along on a horse and fall in the hidden pit the consequences would be severe."

"Another trick of the enemy was to hide barbed wire in which the soldiers would become entangled," she went on to say.

In 1893 Mrs Nichols was married to John R. Nichols of Chillicothe. Not long after the wedding, which was at the time of the depression following the Civil War boom, Mr. Nichols was unemployed. Mrs. Nichols has lived in Columbus all her married life. She has a daughter, Mrs. Clarence Ranck, 70 N. Harris-av, with whom she lives.

World War I meant more to the Nichols family than just shooting abroad because they were victims of the flu epidemic of that period.

"We couldn't get any one to come in and help us because they were all too afraid of the disease," she said.

Mrs. Nichols used to make up lunches and send them to the soldiers who were stationed at old Bullet Park. As she recalled it there was not much fuss made over the troops except that when they came into town and left they would form a parade. The newspapers did not carry such details of the war at that time.

Of the present war Mrs. Nichols said she believes it is far more serious than any of the others.

For the past 25 years Mrs. Nichols has been very much interested in quilting and has many fine pieces of handiwork which she has finished.

CAMP FIRE GROUP HAS FIRE MAKERS DINNER

The girls of the Shishtawahe Camp Fire group held their fire makers dinner with their mothers as guests of honor. The following girls held the dinner at the home of Mrs. Robert Reed, 62 S. Ogden-av: Joyce Reed, Zoe Skipper, Marjorie Fry and Iris Weaver. The following girls held their dinner at the home of Mrs. W. H. Borland, 50 S. Burgess-av: Alberta Seeley, Martha Toy, Cloetta Clark, Jean Meservy and Wilma Borland.

Mrs. Ralph Lombard, 235 S. Hague-av, had an overly pink complexion Thursday when it took fire trucks from houses No. 10 and 17 to point out to her the smoking pan of prunes in her kitchen sink. The fact that her husband is a city fireman at house No. 10 added to her confusion.

Mrs. Lombard had been down town and left a fire under a pan of prunes on her stove. When her daughters, Margaret Ann and Joan, came home from St. Mary Magdalene School for their lunch they discovered the burning prunes and put the pan in the sink, then turned out the fire.

When Mrs. Lombard came into the smoke filled house she searched from basement to attic for its origin, to no avail.

"Then I called my husband at the fire house," she said, "and told him the trouble. He told me to look again. I did but found nothing. Then he said I'd better put in an alarm."

Immediately the fire department was on the scene, Mr. Lombard having come on the run.

"They found the smoking pan in the sink. I never would have thought to look in a kitchen sink for a fire," she said.

WEAR A ROSE OF RED

"Wear a rose of red" his letter said,
Pin it firmly on your breast;
If a rose of white, I will leave tonight
And seek a home in the west."
A friend got the note the young man wrote,
The red he changed to white.
His girl wore white and he left that night;
Tears were blinding his sight.

He boarded a train for the Texas plain,
His life forever a blight;
He looked for red but he saw instead
A full bloom rose of white.
Found out later his friend was a traitor,
But his sweetheart had gone to rest,
He got a rose full bloom, opened her tomb,
Pinned a rose of red on her breast.

Let's Help Them Grow

Only as the church has taught "the truth that makes men free" have people been blessed by this heritage in the past. In this hour of crisis this heritage must be passed on to our children. With the church rests the sacred responsibility of providing Christian training for the children and youth of our land.

Bring your Children to Church Next Sunday.

The Hilltop Record

In Its 25th Continuous Year Of Community Service

Vol. XXV, No. 58 — The Hilltop, Friday, March 20, 1942 — Total No. 1302

The Spectator
By C. C. Hartley

Minstrel Notes: An estimated 4500 persons attended the thirteenth annual Hilltop Minstrel this past week at West High . . . when the show was proposed this year there were some who felt it would not be possible to fill the houses this year but the show proved as popular as ever . . . general reactions of most people are that it was a fine show . . . thank you.

Some of the little incidents in connection with the show may prove interesting so here goes . . . Curt Wilcox was responsible for getting more publicity this year than in any previous year despite restrictions . . . the federal government netted over $125 in tax from the show and the state came in for $37.68 . . . total cost of producing the show run over $1000 and no one gets a salary.

Some who had their money refunded Friday night on account of the lack of seats could have seen the show had they appeared Wednesday evening when a few seats were available . . . 35 men from the army at Fort Hayes were invited as guests for two nights but failed to put in their appearance for some reason . . . This was Herb Davis' first year in the show but he'll never get through talking of the good time he had . . . and everybody does . . . I like the Wednesday performance best . . . it's lots of fun to see the actual delight the chorus gets out of hearing the end man gags for the first time . . . all acts are practiced separately until dress rehearsal and even then no gags are pulled . . .

That peanut eating stunt . . . what was it for, asks the public . . . just to make people ask that question I suppose . . . there were many who claim they enjoyed Charley Kent's and Curt Roberts' performance from a peanut bag as much as anything in the show . . . and Friday evening after eating about four pounds of p-nuts on the stage Curt downed a big dinner out at Schmelzer's restaurant . . . and Bill Southworth whetted his appetite on a ham barbecue, then opened up in blitzkrieg style on a full grown steak and all the side dishes . . . he eats four eggs for breakfast every morning, his wife reports . . . he would, he's in the egg and poultry business . . . guess I'll have to go to eating paper . . . nope, not at the rate it's advancing in price . . .

On that stunt where the men run out of the auditorium when Floyd announces someone is there with another man's wife, it is rumored that one evening one more man got in the crowd than was counted on . . . That screaming stunt from the balcony was executed by Mary Bentz and the hands around her throat were those of Clarence Story . . . it might have been bad had Clarence entered into the spirit of the thing and made the act more realistic . . . Someone wanted to know if Mary was going to act as the air alarm for this section . . .

Lee Koontz, who played the violin and was a center of attraction and laughs all evening, is starting to work at the Record on Monday . . . My deepest apologies to John Riepenhoff for pulling the curtain on Friday before he had finished his speech in front of the curtain . . it was all an accident.

Friday the thirteenth had no ill results for George Hardy but he certainly had plenty of room to be a bit superstitious. When he appeared in the thirteenth annual Hilltop Minstrel that evening he was thirteenth on the program and there were thirteen letters in the billing of his act in the program.

Time For Restrictions: Comes a letter from the Federal Works Agency of the Work Projects Administration asking if we want to continue having their publicity notices mailed to us.

Our answer is NO and we can go still further and highly recommend that they cut out this and a lot of other publicity departments. These are days for economy and the sooner the federal government starts practicing it the sooner the American people are going to get into the spirit of the war and give their all to winning it.

Thousands of wasted dollars can be saved by cutting out the enormous new deal publicity departments. Why not now?

What To Do In Air Raid Being Taught Students

Staffs of Hilltop schools have been busy these past few weeks formulating tentative plans for air raid drills. Buildings have been carefully analyzed for the safest places of refuge in the event of a raid. Teachers in the various schools have been training for first aid and air raid warden duties.

The school board strives to assure the parents that "everything humanly possible is being done to provide for the safety and comfort" of the youth whom they have in public schools.

In an outline released by the board the value of poise is stressed. Students must learn not to become panic stricken.

The Office of Civilian Defense has indicated that all pupils should be kept in their respective schools during an air raid during the school day. Information given by the army explains that the interval between the yellow (preliminary signal) and the red (action-alert signal) is too short to permit an extensive dismissal of pupils.

"There are four primary things against which we must guard. They are: (a) The effects of blast and flying glass; (b) The effects of flying fragments of shells; (c) Incendiary bombs; and (d) Panic," the release stated.

Each school has been ordered to set up plans at once and then have frequent air raid drills.

"This procedure will build up calmness and poise, not only on the part of the pupils but also on the part of the teachers as well," the release said.

Parents can assist the school authorities by permitting the teachers to look after the safety of the pupils during the period of an air raid.

Strangers should not be permitted to loiter within the building.

Parents can help by letting children take refuge in their homes if they should be caught in a raid to or from school.

Local school teachers on the administrative committees for the schools and civilian defense are H. H. Reighley, West High School, First Aid program: K. Albrand, W. Mound Street School, and Helen Kennedy, Highland Avenue School, air raid drills.

Most public buildings will have their air raid rules for occupants' safety but the person at home must know what to do for himself when an air raid comes.

The first and most important step to be taken when a raid occurs is to find safe shelter from flying fragments and falling debris. In the home refuge may be taken under a table. The main floor of any building is usually the best place to seek refuge. Do not go any place where there might be flying glass. All gas should be shut off immediately after the air raid warning is sounded.

Above all, don't go outside to see what is going on. Remain indoors and under cover.

GAMMA MU SIGMA HAVE BIRTHDAY PARTY

The Gamma Mu Sigma Sorority held its annual birthday party at the home of Mrs. Audrey Scharenberg, 166 S. Westgate-av. Guest of honor was the sorority's most recent bride, Mrs. Charles Boogler (Esther Downs).

Following the dinner and meeting Mrs. Boogler was surprised with a miscellaneous shower.

Those present were Mesdames Phoebe Cassidy, Pearl Lanthorne, Annis King, Faye Elliott, Eva Biddison, Bonnie Roivas, Esther Boogler, Jo Ann Ball, Kathleen Welch, Grace Freeman, the Misses Ruth Athey and Charlot Brower and the hostess.

Dr. George W. Crane of Northwestern University in recently addressing a meeting of western Ohio dentists stated that "Dentists have failed to explain their true functions, so they should abolish ethical restrictions against advertising." This statement was based on the large number of rejected draftees because of faulty teeth. If the public can be sold on various types of toothpaste and powder, it would seem logical that they also could be sold on the "dentist a month keeps false teeth away.".

"TERMITES"

You may see any day, sills going to decay,
Nothing in your house fits right
You can't close doors, squeaks in your floors
A warning you must fight Termite.
Don't wait too late, better investigate
An expert can prevent disaster
After Termites begin you're not safe within
Soon become your boss and master.
Don't forget Buckeye I'll tell you why
They're experts on extermination
Their wisdom untold experience manifold
That is their learned profession.
Only experts can detect that industrious insect
Call one in, don't hesitate,
He don't charge to inspect and surely can detect
And force Termites to obsquatulate.

The Hilltop Record

In Its 25th Continuous Year Of Community Service

Vol. XXV, No. 59 | The Hilltop, Friday, March 27, 1942 | Total No. 1203

The Spectator By C. C. Hartley

Round and Round It Goes . . . .

Up in Detroit a young woman is fired by the union because she speeded up her part of a war production job faster than the union regulations permitted . . .

Up in Cleveland a firm handling a war order is making 149 percent profit and paid the secretary to the firm's head over $39,000 in salary and bonuses in a year . . .

Down in Florida the government is going to rent a hotel for use by the army at a cost of $395 per room per month . . .

All over the country the millions of America's young men who have been called into military service are receiving their $21 per month stipend and out of that are forced to pay for some of their incidental expenses . . .

Round and round it goes . . . and where this inefficiency stops nobody knows.

We'd like to hear from our Congressman Mr. Vorys on the subject and how he stands on freezing labor prices and farm prices and profits in industry.

We have a definite hunch that after the coming elections in this country there will be a different make up of congress than that now in evidence.

Notes and Nubbins: The names of every member of Selective Service Board 13 has six letters, including that of the clerk . . . Note to Rev. Geo. McDonald: The Record is putting in a power cutter to help him speed up his paper cutting problems, and incidentally to help produce more and better job printing on the Hilltop . . . Joe Hutchinson, formerly of the Hilltop, was inducted into military service at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, this past week . . . He had been a student at Western Reserve for the past two years . . . Ernie Porter was home this week from Camp Grant, Ill., on furlough . . . He is in the Corps Area service command there . . . Chet Rinehart will return to duties at Randolph Field, Texas, Sat. a. m. . . . Rex Slaughter is a new attendant at the Hilltop Sunoco Service, Sullivant and Wrexham . . . Bob Draper is taking instructions in archery . . . could it be he is expecting to use this weapon against the axis? . . . He, incidentally, is moving his offices to the Huntington Bank Building . . . Ronnie, down at Kent's, is drinking carrot juice for what ails his bowling aim these days . . .

Brownie In a Pickle . . . Mr. Brown of the Brown Pickle Co. was making a call one day this week at the Broad-Warren Market and parked his car across the street. Imagine his embarrassment when he came out to find it filled with people and a funeral sticker on the windshield.

Will You Be In The Spring Fashion Parade?

Before the spring fashion parade is the time to have those frocks, coats, scarfs, etc., made. And Hilltop girls and women, realizing this, are daily watching the Dressmaking ads in the "Miscellaneous Services" ads in the Record.
